

FRAGMENTS.

The Theatre tonight will be occupied by Ward's Comedy Company.

The proceedings against Mr. Shear, for cruelty to animals, were dismissed today by Commissioner Norrell.

Yesterday afternoon, Robert Taylor was sentenced to sixty days' imprisonment for vagrancy, by Justice Pyper.

Ed. Gertz is out on $500 bail, awaiting the action of the grand jury as to the charge against him of robbery at Garfield Beach.

R. C. Easton has received an offer of $50 per week to join Dockstader's minstrel. Mr. Dockstader heard him sing in the Tabernacle on Saturday last.

PRETTY thieves still go on at a lively rate. In addition to the transient hard characters in the city, there is a gag of small boys engaged in the business.

Mr. HYRUM BELNAP, who has been so low from the effects of his fall at the lake, is now improving. His many friends will be pleased to learn of his recovery.

THE Twenty first Ward Sunday School will go to Lake Park tomorrow. They will start at 8 a. m. from the station at the 22d & E. D. Railroad.

Twelfth and South Temple streets. McIntyre's gym club will give a concert at the Park.

DURING last evening's performance two of the circus attendants brutally assaulted a man in the rear of the big tent, beating him with a rope and kicking him. They did this without any provocation, simply asserting that they intended to paralyze a lot of "Mormons" before they left town.

JOHN E. ENNIS, passenger and land agent of the Missouri Pacific Railway, is in the city. The general passenger and ticket agent of the road, H. C. Townsend, has a deep interest in Utah affairs, and under his direction Mr. Ennis will probably establish an office of the company in this city.

LAST night a colored lady who kept a stand at the circus on the square was robbed of $10—the proceeds of her day and evening's work. The thief, also colored, she says she could identify. He belonged to one of the side shows. He cut the lady's pocket, seized her booty and disappeared. Previous to this he took the burrs of several of the circus wagons and threw them in the ditch, causing the teamsters to indulge in imprecations long and loud.

RUMOR has it that twelve eastern capitalists have charge of the new settlement near the falls of the North Fork, and intend to prove up the 100 acres under the townsite act. This will require at least 400 inhabitants. They say they will have a town in five years as large as Salt Lake. Work has been begun on a twenty-mile ditch which was laid out by A. S. Anderson, of Newburg. They are also making arrangements for a dumpy bridge to be located at that place.—Idaho Register.

A FEW weeks ago a man calling himself J. W. Snider, came to Salt Lake representing himself to be agent of "The Pinkerton Detective Agency." He rented an office at 103 E. First Street, had a telephone put in, a lot of bill heads printed, employed a number of men, issued commissions, got a young man to engage as partner, and advertised as a merchants' patrol and detective agency. Yesterday he disappeared, leaving a number of persons to mourn his departure among whom are some of our business men, his landlady and others.

Pushing the Law.

Yesterday afternoon Lorenzo D. Watson, of Iron County, was arrested in this city on a charge of unlawful possession, made against him in the Second District. He was taken to the penitentiary until this afternoon, when he went to Beaver in the custody of an officer. He has already served one term for living with his wives.

Three in Half a Day.

There were three burglaries yesterday afternoon in the southeastern part of town. One was at Mr. John Lund's, another at Mrs. McCallister's, and the third at Mrs. McCallister's. At Mr. Lund's four silver watches, four brooches, a locket, and a pair of cuff buttons were taken. At the other places the thieves obtained a few small articles.

C. W. Dunbar's Death.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Charles W. Dunbar, son of Wm. C. Dunbar, of the Twentieth Ward of this city, died at Ogden. He was hurt in a game of base ball in this city a short time ago, the injury resulting in peritonitis, which caused him the most acute suffering. His body was brought to this city last evening. He was twenty-one years of age, and had been employed as express messenger on the U. C. R. R.

Murdered Man Found.

The Eagle Rock (Idaho) Register contains the following:

On the fifth day of April last a man by the name of Nelson Burns was shot for the past three years lived on the Dennis Small ranch in the Medicine Lodge section, started with a team and backboard for Lost River, to attend to some business. He was well prepared for the trip, provided with supplies, blankets, etc. He expected to make the round trip in five days. After a sufficient time had elapsed for his return, and he had not been seen, his relatives became anxious. Parties coming in from Lost River, who reported that he had not been seen in that part of the country. Months passed and no word being received from him, letters were written to his children, who live in Ogden, to ascertain whether he had gone there, but nothing had been heard from him. It was then surmised that he had been foully dealt with, and it was likely that if his team had run away from him they would have found it upon his face. The lower portions of his legs were hanging over the iron railing, the left arm was under the body, the head partially hanging over the side rail, a bullet hole through the forehead, in the right breast, and one in the head. The flesh had nearly all disappeared, nothing being left but the clothing and a costly skeleton. He had on a pair of buckskin gloves, rubber boots with moccasins inside, a wide rimmed hat, and a ground where it had fallen from his head. The backboard all complete, just as it had been taken from the man, was found in the brush. There was nothing to indicate that there had been a struggle of any kind. Coroner Devis was called and he proceeded to the place and held an inquest over the remains. The verdict of the coroner was that he had been foully murdered by some person or persons to the jury unknown. Mr. Burns was about 40 to 45 years of age, was a member of the U. A. R. having served in the Union Army during the rebellion, was wounded in the right hand, and his left eye shot out.

Police Items.

John Morley and James Walker were taken in a barn about 6 o'clock this morning, and after a short detention in the Police Court, they were committed to the city jail. They said they were looking for a job—hadn't worked for a very long time. The Court believed them and satisfied their craving for a job by taking a fifteen-day contract, which will keep them in the chain gang, where there is no lack of work.

When Morley and Walker were led into the Marshall's office, a gentleman who had come in looked intently at their feet, then exclaimed, "There are my shoes, and there are my sons." This caused an investigation which revealed the fact that the gentleman was a resident of the Fifteenth Ward, and that some time during Sunday night while himself and son were asleep in their room, their shoes and stockings were stolen. The men who had the property were required to bare their feet, and the stockings which Morley wore were identified as having been stolen. The thieves had left their shoes near the tent, but it was not considered a fair exchange. Walker and Morley denied the charge of larceny, which is to be heard tomorrow.

Das. Murphy, a tramp, was arraigned on a charge of trespass, but as he did not remember whether he had been guilty or not, his trial was postponed till 4 p. m.

Kate Bocket and Lizzie Wickes were arrested last night on the charge of prostitution, and left $50 for their appearance today. Failure to respond, the money was forfeited.

Joseph Ashton, Charles Hopkins and Edward Edmund were arrested on a charge of lewd conduct. They pleaded not guilty and the case was set for 4 p. m.

There was a rough-and-tumble fight at the circus last night, between an employee and a South Sea Islander in the exhibition. The employee was arrested and left $10 for his appearance today. Of course he didn't come, and the case was postponed.

John Irving was picked up on First South Street, where he had mistaken the asphalt pavement for his bed. He was placed in jail on a charge of drunkenness.

Thompson, Richard Reed, accused of stealing Judge Zane's watch, was tried before Justice Pyper. The Chief Justice, for the first time since he came to Utah, was a witness. The result of the trial was Reed's conviction. He will be sentenced tomorrow afternoon. He is under 17 years of age, and says that his parents are dead. He claimed that the watch was given him by a man, but when he was asked to identify him, he refused to do so.

J. W. Bozeman was on trial this afternoon for robbing LaRson's tailor shop, at 174 W. South Temple Street.

Released on Habeas Corpus.

The question of the jurisdiction of United States Commissioners in Territorial cases came up before Judge Zane yesterday afternoon in habeas corpus proceedings for the release of Wm. M. Brown, of Promontory, Box Elder County. Mr. Brown was charged with grand larceny, alleged to have been committed in Box Elder County, and was taken before Commissioner Cross, of Weber County, where he was ordered committed to custody in default of bail. Yesterday afternoon proceedings were taken for his release, his attorney claiming that the defendant was unlawfully held for the reason that the commissioner before whom he was examined had no jurisdiction, because the offense was not committed in Weber County—neither had the property alleged to have been stolen been brought into Weber County; that it was strictly a case that could be handled only by a magistrate or a commissioner of the county where the offense was committed. Judge Zane said he was clearly of the opinion that the Commissioner had exceeded his powers. The jurisdiction of a commissioner in a civil or Territorial case, is limited to the county in which he sits—to which he is appointed. In a case arising under United States laws, the Commissioner has jurisdiction in no matter what part of the Territory the offense was committed. Had the property stolen been brought into Weber County the case would have presented an entirely different aspect. There was nothing to show this, however, and the defendant was discharged. Mr. Brown started to leave the room, but was immediately re-arrested. He was taken north last evening by Deputy Cannon, to go before a commissioner in Box Elder County.

Mr. Brown says that he took the horse as alleged, but did so under the supposition that it belonged to his band. When he learned of his error, he says he returned the animal.

Want it for Salt Lake.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon a meeting was held at the Chamber of Commerce, to arrange for inviting the National Educational Association to hold its "next annual session" in this city. After some discussion, Bishop H. B. Clawson stated that he was authorized by President Willard Woodruff to tender the use of the large Tabernacle to the Association if they should select Salt Lake as the place for their convention. The meeting adopted the following resolution, which was signed by W. S. McCormick, president of the Chamber of Commerce, P. L. Williams, Territorial School Commissioner, H. W. Lawrence and H. B. Clawson, and sent to Supt. Wm. M. Stewart, who is now in San Francisco:

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and citizens of Salt Lake, resolved to extend an invitation to the National Educational Association now in session at San Francisco, to hold their next annual convention in Salt Lake City. You are requested to present this invitation in connection with the other educational representatives from Utah, at the convention, and to make known to the President Woodruff has kindly tendered the Tabernacle, having seating capacity for 10,000, for the occasion, and that all our citizens will give the members of the convention a hearty and cordial welcome, and that we will secure satisfactory rates of transportation from all railroads and overland make the journey of the visitors to our city pleasant and enjoyable.

The C. & N. W.

Something of an unusual nature is taking place on the Sweetwater. During the past week a large force of men, bringing with them plows and scrapers, have come into that region and established camps, and are making preparations to do a large amount of grading, supposedly for a road to the Northwestern. They seem to be heading for Independence Rock, but are so reticent in regard to their intentions that nothing can be learned of them. They are under the supervision of Cushman & Wells, Salt Lake contractors, and civil engineer J. M. Malady is one of the party. They are working over a survey formerly made by Negus & Wilkes. One day when spoken to said he did not know what the intentions of the directors were, but imagined they held the right of way over the survey they were following. Camps are being made up of tents and about twenty men are left at each camp. On Monday, at the camp three miles from Meyer's, there was a fight between two men, and the men were sent back for more scrapers and plows. Lander (Wyoming) Mountaineer.

Probably Fatal Accident.

The following special to the News was received last evening after we had gone to press:

Nephi, Utah, July 16, 1888.—Patriarch John Andrews was thrown from a hay rake at 11 o'clock this morning and dangerously hurt. He is now lying unconscious and it is thought that he will not recover.

J. W. P.

Accidents.

Last Sunday Mr. Joseph Hart, of West Weber, broke his leg. The young man, an employee of the railroad, was riding leisurely along Wilson's Lane on a young horse. As he crossed the D. & R. G. track, the horse, seeing an approaching train, became frightened and began kicking and jumping. As the train passed, the horse collided with the cab, and the young man was thrown to the ground with the result of breaking Mr. Hart's left leg just above the ankle. The horse was killed and the young man is now in the hospital, where he will soon be around again.

Sunday evening Mr. Joseph Clark dislocated the right shoulder of his hand. He had jumped on his horse to go to the fire in the lane when the horse threw him with the above result. Mr. Clark was around yesterday, but as he may be expected his finger pained him considerably.—Ogden Standard.
