BIG MAIL ORDER HOUSE FOR OGDEN

A Million Dollar Proposition to Compete With Eastern Concerns.

EAGLE MEMORIAL EXERCISES.

Anxious Friends of P. V. Ripley Relieved—County Schools Close May 22—S. P. Employes Back.

Ogden, May 4.—A modern department store to compete with the big mail order houses of the country is the movement that is now on in Ogden, the building to occupy the north half of the tabernacle square, which has been recently offered for sale by the church. E. T. Wooley, who has charge of the disposition of the tabernacle square, was in Salt Lake City during the past week in conference with a number of prominent men of that city in regard to the matter of taking stock in the proposed company. It is proposed to operate the project on the co-operative plan and erect a building and put in a stock of goods that would cost $1,000,000.

It is stated that some of the business men of the city who had been consulted upon the proposition were of the firm belief that it would be a paying proposition. With this encouragement offered him, Mr. Wooley is making an effort to have others join him. One feature of the establishment would be the mail order department, which would compete with the big mail order houses of the east which take many thousands of orders out of the city and state each year.

Ogden, May 4.—The many friends of P. V. The men employed in the shops of the Southern Pacific company returned to work this morning after being laid off for more than two weeks during the month of April. The lay-offs during the past month only gave the men 13 days' work in that month, and to say that there is a financial stringency in the homes of about 500 laboring people would be putting it mildly.

CORNER STONE IS LAID

Second Ward Members and Church Officers Present at Impressive Services Held Saturday.

Saturday was a red letter day in the history of the Second ward of this city. In the afternoon the people were out in mass, witnessing the laying of the corner stone of the new ward chapel which is in course of construction on the corner of Seventh South and Fifth East. This corner has for many years been known as the "Leach corner," the old pioneer occupied that corner since the spring of 1849, when the ward was first set off. He has partly donated the valuable corner to the ward for the purpose of erecting a ward chapel thereon. The interesting services were commenced at 2 o'clock p. m., under the direction of Bishop Heber C. Iverson, by the multitude assembled, singing "Our God, we raise to Thee," the latter giving a brief outline of the life and experience of the aged patriarch, James Leach, who then proceeded to lay the corner stone, and then made a short speech. Remarks were then made by Elders Andrew Jensen and John T. Galsbol.

In conclusion the congregation sang "We thank Thee, O God, for a prophet," and Robert H. Siddaway offered the benediction. In the meantime a tin box intended to be deposited in the corner stone of the chapel was passed around and a number of those present contributed various articles of interest and value to be held as a fund for the benefit of future generations. Among the contents of the little box when finally placed in the excavation made for it in the corner stone, may be mentioned the following: A complete set of standard church works; photographs of the former meetings in the Second ward and of the ward bishopric, Patriarch James Leach and others; an old Bible, (a family relic), contributed by John Henry Smith; Church Chronology; by Andrew Jensen; copies of the Deseret News; Juvenile Instructor, Improvement Era, Women's Exponent, Young Women's Journal, Children's Friend, etc., etc. The services throughout were very impressive, a good spirit prevailing, and the weather very pleasant. It is estimated that the new chapel will cost upwards of $20,000.

Immediately after the laying of the corner stone the new chapel was opened to the public. The Second ward Saturday afternoon, the aged people of the Second ward, including all over 60 years of age, proceeded by invitation to the ward meetinghouse, where a surprise awaited them, in the shape of a dinner which was partaken of freely and appreciably enjoyed by all, while a most excellent program, appropriate for the occasion, was carried on in the following order: Opening hymn, "Come, ye saints," by the congregation; prayer by Elder A. M. Jensen; music by Sister Willard Reese, remarks by Charles R. Savage, of the old folk's central committee; comic singing by George B. Margretts, recitation by Lena B. Davis, piano solo by Beth Cusworth, life sketch of James Leach, (now 93 years ago) by Frank Brantling, solo, "Joseph Smith," by John Robinson, solo by Robert H. Siddaway, reading by sister Samuel Christensen, remarks by Elders A. M. Jensen, and by the ward bishopric, resolutions offered by John T. Galsbol, and remarks and benediction by James Leach.
