SOCIAL CHAT

One of the most elaborate affairs of the season was the tea given by Mrs. Priscilla Jennings and Mrs. W. W. Riter on Thursday in honor of Mrs. LeRoy Dwyer. The event took place at Mrs. Jennings' home, and nearly 200 guests were present during the afternoon. The rooms were beautifully decorated in yellow, with roses forming portieres, drapes and festoons throughout the house. Windows, doorways, chandeliers and mantels were bright with strands of the golden hued flowers which stretched from the electric globes in the center to the four corners of the ceiling, and stood about also in vases, on mantels and stands. Hanging baskets and brass vases suspended on yellow and white streamers swung from the large window, and great ribbon bows decorated the mantel. The table in the dining room formed a comfortable place for the guests. The lace spread and doilies were over yellow, and in the center stood a bowl of rosebuds, while at opposite corners were candelabra with yellow candles alternating with loose bunches of roses tied with yellow tulle. Sprays of roses hung from the chandelier above, and baskets suspended in the corners of the room, completed the artistic scheme. The room, completely the artistic scheme, assisted the hostesses and guest of honor in receiving was Mrs. Frank W. Jennings, and Mrs. Kenneth C. Kopp and Miss Mary Louise Anderson poured coffee in the dining room, assisted by Miss Elsie Riter, Miss Kingsbury, Miss Crismon, Miss Ellerbeck, and Miss Jennings. The hours were from 3 till 6 o'clock.

Among the larger affairs of the week was the reception given by Mrs. Hoyt Sherman and the Misses Sherman at their home on Wednesday in honor of three former young Salt Lake matrons—Mrs. W. G. Sharp, Mrs. T. B. Davis and Mrs. Roy McKay. The parlor was decorated in red, with peonies and red roses effectively used with vines and palms. The diningroom was in pink, chaise longue being used as a centerpiece, and pink sweet peas adorning the sideboard. The embroidered centerpiece on the table was done in pink roses, and plumosa and crystal candlesticks were on the table. Rugs, drapes and divans were in the same color scheme. The afternoon was a very enjoyable one. Assisting the hostesses in receiving were the guests of honor and Mrs. Robert Harkness and Mrs. George M. Downey presided in the diningroom. Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Faber, Mrs. Edmund Wilkes, Mrs. Charles Wilkes, Mrs. Windsor, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Ernest Hamberger, Mrs. William Bayly, Jr., Mrs. E. O. Jirard, Mrs. Sturges, Miss Salisbury, Miss Sanno, Miss McGrath, Miss Geddes, Miss Kate Williams, Miss Kinney, Miss Emily Reed, Miss Kane, Miss Inez East of Palo Alto, Miss Wobber, Mrs. Letta McMillan, Miss Miller and Miss Dargie Miller.

Mr. Elmer Jones entertained at a luncheon on Tuesday at the University club in honor of Eugene Satterlee, his guests numbering about a dozen. The table was decorated in red peonies, and the following were present: Senator Thomas Kearns, Perry S. Heath, J. H. Young, S. V. Shep, E. B. Critchlow, F. Fenton, George T. Odell, T. G. Weber, W. H. Buckingham and Frank Knox.

Henry M. Crowther entertained a theater party Thursday evening, at the Salt Lake Theater, his guests including Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Farnsworth and Miss Lena Hogue.

On Thursday night Mrs. Samuel Stringfellow was pleasantly surprised at her home on Sixth South street, by a number of her friends, the occasion being her 50th birthday. There was a musical program, and refreshments were served, all spending a most enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Y. Wallace will give a reception at their home tonight in honor of Bishop Tuttle, who is here from St. Louis as his guest.

Mrs. Simon Hamberger will entertain at tea in the near future in honor of the coming out of her daughter, Miss Helen Hamberger, who will arrive shortly from school.

Mrs. Ella Cummings Wetzel and Miss Olive Gray will introduce their pupils, Mrs. Frank Benedict and Miss Jennie Williams, respectively, at a piano and song recital next Monday night at Unity hall. Prof. C. D. Schettler will assist, and Miss Gray will be accompanist.

Miss Mary Decker entertained informally on Thursday in celebration of her birthday, being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Decker, Mrs. Lizzie Felt, Miss Ethel Tucker, Miss Irma Felt and Mr. Warren Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rivers entertained the members of their card club at their home on Tuesday night.

Mrs. J. E. Hamberger entertained a few friends informally at her home on Thursday.

An interesting event of the week was the wedding of Sara Jeremy and Parley Anderson, the event taking place at the home of J. W. Ashton on Wednesday evening. White, green and pink were used in the decorations throughout the house, orange blossoms, roses and carnations being used with palms and smilax, with pretty effect. The bride was dressed in white organdie, carrying a bouquet of bridal roses. Appropriate music was rendered during the evening and Miss Ardella Bitter assisted in entertaining by giving two choice readings.

On Wednesday night, Miss Mabel I. Bridgman and Harry G. Wright were married at the St. Mark's cathedral, Rev. Dean Eddie performing the ceremony in the presence of the families and a few intimate friends. HALF PRICE!

OUR ENTIRE STOCK Of Ladies' And Misses' SUITS

WHEN THE SEASON begins to draw to a close, especially a backward, rainy season, which has greatly retarded trade, the progressive merchant merely grits his teeth and proceeds to arrange special sales at lowered prices. The better the values, the more forceful the reductions, the quicker the heavy stocks are reduced. We have taken the most emphatic measures known to merchandising—cutting prices to one half. If price at all is a consideration then the entire stock of LADIES' AND MISSES' SUITS AT HALF PRICE should arouse the greatest enthusiasm. Our stock is known. It is known that every suit, every garment, is of quality, is of the very latest style, and in every way first-class—in materials, in the cut, the workmanship, in the finish. No lines equal ours. There is no old stock. All are this season's goods. A rush is expected. We are certain no similar bargains have been offered you. If you have in mind a $12.50 suit—we offer it to you at $6.25; if you desire a more expensive suit you can make a selection at $75.00 and we will save you $37.50. Knowing the character of suits which we handle the bargains are sweeping.

We do not believe in carrying over from one season to another any merchandise whatever, but rather are determined our stock shall invariably be always fresh and up-to-date. To adhere to this policy we have decided to make a final reduction in our complete and entire stock of suits, consisting of voiles, chevrons, and fancy mixtures to the following sizes:
Ladies: 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44.
$12.50 for	$6.25	$20.00 for	$10.00	$35.00 for	$17.50
