Danced to Death by His Child's Corpse.

DROWNING OF TWO SMALL BOYS.

Army Worm's Ravages—Political Fro motion a Disadvantage—Chinese Women Slaves.

Six men were killed in a snowfall at Roseland, B. C., on Tuesday evening, and six others more or less severely hurt.

A special dispatch from Whatcom, Wash., says: Two little sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Burnett of Marietta, of this county, were drowned Saturday night in the slough which extends a short distance inland from the bay at that place. While the lads were on Sunday the body of one of the little fellows was found on a sand bar out in the bay a short distance, but the other one has not been recovered.

John W. Harris, an old time resident of Laramie, Wyoming, and an engineer on the Union Pacific for about thirty years, died suddenly at his home on Tuesday evening, at the age of 57. The cause was heart trouble. He leaves a wife and four children. His funeral took place on the afternoon of Friday, April 16.

News has been received from the Parker Indian agency, Ariz., of a pow wow in which fifteen whites ended fatally for the principal figure. Tenskwa, a Yuma Indian, had his ability by death and would not be outdone. He began singing a dirge of his tribe and dancing the death dance around the corpse, at the same time rattling a gourd. For hours and hours he kept up the performances. The physical strain upon him was intense, and finally as he neared the body of the child, and in a short time was himself a corpse.

A machine used for loading cartridges exploded at the works of the Selby Lead and Smelting company, at Selby, Tuesday afternoon, and William Bryan and Eugene Flood, two laborers, were both seriously injured. The cause of the explosion is not known, but it is supposed to have resulted from over pressure. Bryan and Flood were standing near the machine and both were thrown some distance and quite badly burned. They were leaving the works and then removed to their homes in Selby. The machine was completely wrecked.

Chemist W. T. Wenzell has submitted to the San Francisco board of health his report of analyses made during the month of March. He tested thirty-nine samples consisting principally of jellies. Of the jellies nine samples were found pure, eleven adulterated within the meaning of the pure food law and twenty-five fraudulent substitutes. Five samples of marmalade were pure, three samples of milk pure; two of the samples of mince meats, the butter fat in one was deficient and in the other in excess, while the addition of cream. Three samples of tomato catsup were adulterated. The samples of raspberry syrup were absolutely pure.

Henry W. Anderson of Philadelphia went to San Francisco several weeks ago in search of employment. Being unable to obtain it he telegraphed home for aid. Money was sent to him by long rope to his last known address at Turk and Howard streets. He was not to be found and his whereabouts have since remained a mystery. Yesterday Mrs. Hobson, a neighbor of Anderson's mother in Philadelphia, came to San Francisco recently and found search for Anderson, without avail. The missing man is described as 27 years of age, 5 feet 4 inches in height, with dark brown hair and a mustache and a scar over his left eye.

R. L. Mann, who was appointed assistant prosecuting attorney of San Francisco by the police board has gone into executive session with himself and is endeavoring to estimate the advantages of a promotion back ward. Pelsor to his appointment as police court, Mann was a night-school teacher at a salary of $50 a month. The two positions gave him a monthly income of $175. The board of education, however, decided to promote Mann, and at a recent meeting placed him in the class of eligibles for the position of teacher of a day school. As Mann cannot act as assistant prosecuting attorney and teach a day school time at the same time, his promotion has lost him his salary of $50 a month, and he now regards political advancement as a hollow mockery.

Wu Ting Fang, the new Chinese minister to the United States, had his eyes opened Tuesday to a state of affairs existing in the city of San Francisco among his country men of which he had not dreamed the existence. Major H. A. Moore, special agent of the treasury department, had a consultation with the minister, in which he informed that dignitary that Chinese women were being brought to San Francisco and sold into slavery. His attention was called to the fact that within the last six months more than a hundred Chinese women had been landed at San Francisco under the guise of native daughters of this state or as wives of resident Chinese merchants, who had gone to China for a visit. Facts were laid before the minister to convince him that these importations were in violation of the law, and he promised Major Moore to use every endeavor in his power to assist him in putting an end to the illicit traffic in womankind.

A special from San Bernardino to the Times says reports of the horticulture commission are to the effect that the army worm is making its appearance along the foothill region and is doing great damage. It has attacked grape vines and apricot trees and appears to be quite numerous this season. It has commenced operations at Highland, Rialto, Grapeland and intervening places. An elderly orchardist near Colton had every tree stripped from the vines and seventy-five worms were picked from one vine. In Highland the worms are going up lemon trees in swarms. In an apricot orchard near Lytle creek the worms are eating the young fruit, leaving nothing but the pit. Horticultural Commissioner Peters has sent some samples of the pest to Washington and is making an effort to stop its progress.

Chicago Drovers Journal: There has been a standing prediction among Texans for some time that when Texas sheep began to come they would come with a rush. This has unquestionably been the case, after the shearing season, but for a few years sheep have hardly been worth shipping so far, both on account of the poorness of the grass and the cheapness of the price. This year there is a great improvement in both respects, and accordingly sheep raisers and sheep buyers have been active in their efforts to get the sheep to market. It is estimated that 400,000 sheep are to come from Texas this spring. Although the demand is remarkably good it is not good enough to take all these sheep at one time, and shippers should exercise some judgment in sending them to. Primarily distributed all of the Texas sheep could be sold at good prices.

Wilkinson hon's time on Tuesday Tom Hickey, a inmate of the Oakland, Cal., city prison, made late ineffectual attempts to end his life. He first sought to sever the arteries in his wrist with a piece of broken glass. Before he had succeeded in doing much injury he was discovered and locked up in another cell where, almost before the jailer's back was turned, he tried to end his life by inhaling illuminating gas. He was discovered and this time committed to a padded cell, where there was no gas jet. Hickey secured his suspenders, and fastened them around his neck and the iron door and to the grating of the cell and fell to his knee, preparing to choke to death. His heavy breathing attracted the jailer, who placed him in a straight jacket and shaved him to be removed to the county jail, where he was locked up in the padded cell. Hickey was arrested a few days ago for violating the sleeping-out ordinance and was serving a five days' sentence when he developed his suicidal tendency. He has been charged with being insane and will be taken before the commissioners.

The raisin-growers of Fresno county, Cal., claim that their crop are threatened with total destruction by the "mirips" or hoppers, which have settled down in swarms over the valley. The servant says the insects have appeared in such numbers as to create a perceptible cloud over certain sections. In ordinary years the insects are few in number and are easily dealt with, but the case is very different now. Professor Woodworth, one of the entomologists of the state university, was sent down in response to a dispatch from the farmers' club, and visited the vineyards. The professor is stated to have advised the wire screens be spread over the vines covered with a sticky material, so as to catch the insects which alight as well as those springing up from the vines. The insects resemble a tiny green pear in general appearance, and appear in countless numbers. They suck the sap from the growing vines, robbing the plant of nourishing matter and vitality. In a former year, when they were unusually numerous, the raisins were nearly pure sugar, one of the chief elements in their commercial value. Experiments will be tried in the direction of spraying, but it is difficult to deal with the evil in this way. The probable is to find a sugar that will kill the insects without injuring the plant. Even if the insects on the vines are killed, the "cloud" of survivors remain and settle down on the vines, to the sorrow of their healthy appearance. The foliage shrivels up and the buds wither. The warm weather of the past week has been succeeded by a cool spell, and showers are now pending, which may work a beneficial change, but growers are feeling very anxious about the fate of this year's first crop.

Two years ago R. J. Warren, a druggist at Pleasant Brook, N. Y., bought a small supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sums up the result as follows: "At that time the goods were unknown in this section; today Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a household word." It is the same in hundreds of communities. Wherever the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy become known the people will have nothing else. For sale by druggists.

From the Publisher of "McClure's"

"I have traveled on most of the important railroads in America and Europe, and have dined on such of them as have restaurant cars. I would rather dine on the Burlington Route dining car that leaves Chicago at 5:30 p. m. for Kansas City than on any dining car that I know of in the world." S. S. McCLURE, Publisher McClure's Magazine."

The dining car service on the "Vestibuled Flyer," which leaves Denver at 9:50 p. m. daily for Omaha, Peoria, Chicago, Kansas City and St. Louis, is identical with that between Chicago and Kansas City, referred to by Mr. McClure. It is believed to be better than that of any other western railroad. Thousands of travelers are familiar with it and will gladly testify to its unvarying excellence.

About Bicycles.

JUST A MINUTE.

A BICYCLE is a luxury. With thousands it has become a necessity. With the majority of people the buying of a wheel means several economies to gather the money. When it the investment is worth being several about. Bicycles cost a great deal. They may cost too little. On the whole the mistake is having one that costs too little. It may be guaranteed, but guarantees are easily evaded, and after all no wheel is intended for use and not intended to lie in the repair shop.

For buyers that want the best in the market we offer the Cleveland at $100. The '97 model will be the '98 model for our neighbors.

The WESTFIELD is the best $75 wheel on the market. It is made by the same factory that make the Cleveland wheel, which is enough guarantee that the wheel is all right.
