TODAY'S METALS:

SILVER 61
LEAD, $4.25
CASTING COPPER, 16½c a lb

On the Salt Lake board today business was well distributed and of better volume than for several days past, but what transactions were by no means what they have been, the sales reaching a total of but 26,700 shares, which brought the sum of $9,010.15.

Among the active Daly-West was prominent at 99.95, while Daly continued on the downward road, sales being reported between 29 and 30. Four dozen dealt in at 30 and 31¼, after which Ontario brought 32 and 32 and Herschel arose from its slumber in a sale of 1,000 shares at 3 cents above. Manhattan found itself weak, the stock selling at $1.90 to $1.87½, and Lower Mammoth repaid the appearance of several cars of high-grade ore, gave way to near proceeds and sold at 28, an odd hundred going at this figure. Northern Light made transfers at 24½. Shoshone Consolidated sat at 60 to 61½, South Swansea crept up to $1.49, and Star Consolidated was taken at 99½.

In the bank exchange there was not much activity again in West Mountain Placer at 50 and 54 and Yankee Consolidated at 11½. Daly-West had a scrap lot of 50 cents, but did not sell, while Manhattan dropped 3,000 at 5, and Valley sold at $1.07½.

MARKET REPORTS

NEW YORK MARKETS.

New York, May 18.—London responded to the bouncing of our market yesterday, sending there today showing general improvement, ranging up to a point. Speculation in the home market was very active, and the gains were generally slight. Business was heavy, with sugar, Manhattan, Brooklyn Transit and Federal Steel specialties in the rise. Profit taking turned the trend of prices downward, with the general level below last night's close. Considerably stock stocks were those which figured most prominently in the opening rise. Trading reached a level which seems tempting in short order, and the early efforts were a failure in appreciation. Before the decline, The railroad shares showed great resistance owing to the exceptionally favorable weekly returns of the second week of May on many lines. Prospects ceased after it struck and a rally followed with recessions assisting the turn, but few shares, however, got up to the opening level and the market was rather heavy at the close.

Assessable mining showed animation and business improving.

Trading on the curb developed larger with prices well sustained.

VICTOR CLEMENTS TALKS MINING.

Interesting Chat With Capt. De La Mar's Manager.

ROVER OPTION CLOSED UP.

Cuba's Bright Future—Kremlin's Good Showing—Strike at Beaver Lake—Miscellaneous.

A "News" reporter had an interesting chat today with Victor C. Clements, manager of the De La Mar mines. Mr. Clements leaves on Sunday for London, and for the past week or so has been essentially busy arranging affairs so as to leave them in satisfactory shape on his departure.

The first solution made by the gentleman was that the Rover option had been completed and would result in the mine being at once developed on a extensive and intelligent basis. "view it as a working bond," said Mr. Clements, explaining all the ends of the deal, and being sure we propose to thoroughly prospect the ground to ascertain if it contains what we think it does. If it does, the deal will doubtless be consummated.

Continued concerning operations at Bingham, Mr. Clements stated that work had been commenced on the West No. 2 tunnel, and that the end of Capt. De La Mar, and that operations would continue to ascertain the true vein and extent of the ore body. If they prove out as expected the captain will hand out upwards of a quarter of a million and take the property off the market, concentrating works will be erected, the plant to handle upwards of 2,000 tons a day.

Speaking of Utah as a mining camp, Mr. Clements said it had a good future before it, and needed only a little more history in years to come. "The camps are all in good shape," said the gentleman, "and I believe Bingham is made the State attractive before long. To fact she is now the camp that will do to a much greater extent as the public at large become acquainted with what the camp has to offer. There is no advantage in mining in Utah, and that is that ores are not harassed by labor troubles, as exemplified in other localities. The miners don't seem to have a very good word here, and this, I take it, is the reason why capitalists will not seek investments where they have to take chances not only on what the mines developed, but also on labor troubles, and seldom bring to bear with reference to labor conditions.

"What do you think of the Golden Gate, Mr. Clements?" queried the reporter.

"The Golden Gate is a splendid proposition, and one of the many that owes its present worth to the crumble system of mining. It is one of the best propositions in the world for well stoped ground, I think, as soon as present developments have been completed the capacity will be 100 tons daily. The most enormous crumble proposition that I know of, however, is the Jack Pot in South Africa, which treats 45,000 tons of ore monthly. The property belongs to the Consolidated Gold Fields, and while that asset does not figure much before the De La Mar likely at present."

Alluding to the rumor that Mackay contemplated extensive to the great value of the cyanide process to the mining world, it was recommended, "I do not believe that Mackay has any more than one-half the gold output of the world, and had opened up camps which, without the wonderful cyanide process, are worthless. South Africa, Australia, the United States and elsewhere had been opened up that the cyanide process was the discovery, and it would not make great strides in opening up many fields as at present. Of course I pay no attention. The great thing for the future and the development would be the reaching of richer ore grounds, the discovery of which would do as much for the country as the cyanide process had done for gold."

Mr. Clements has captured his art collection of Indian work, and the group now does considerable adorn the walls here, where friendship will live as long as time shall last. Before he goes from when he will return, if at all, this is pending wholly on circumstances.

JOE BOWERS SUIT FILED.

Bareham Pursues the Company in the Fifth District Court.

Charles T. Bareham has filed suit in the Fifth district court at Nephi against the Joe Bowers Mining company to recover $1,000 for services. Mining companies advise that the company be restrained from further entering on the ground, and that possible Bare Independent for five-quarters of the "Joe Bowers Lode Bonanza."

In their complaint, which was filed by Messrs. Williams, Van Cott & Bailey-head, counsel for plaintiffs, contestants set up that the mining claim was first located by them in January, 1897, the location covering 200 by 1,500 feet. They also claim that the Joe Bowers Mining company has failed to perform the annual work for each year prior to the protested claim of the Joe Bowers Mining company they had to secure title to the property. Further allege that in September, 1898, the defendant company proceeded to enter upon the ground in the interest of themselves, consisting of one-fourth of the said Joe Bowers Lode Bonanza, and that said work was done without the consent of the property that has since been accepted by it.

Plaintiffs claim the fact that specification has been made by the company for patent on the whole of the claim is done in bad faith, and that it has more than a smaller interest in the ground, and pray a decree quieting their title to three-quarters of the lode.

New La Sal Discoveries.

A special from Clare, Utah, to the Salt Lake Tribune says: Rich finds are the order of the day here. Reports have been coming in from the La Sal mountains daily for a week past. Each day brings to the mouth of each canon leading into the mountains men from the ranch people and the newly arrived prospectors regarding strikes of unprecedented richness. From the immediate region about the base of the mountains on the south and west and from specimens shown by prospectors there are Boiling some fine ore, copper carrying gold. Some of the specimens assay over $50 and all the claims in sight for bodies of it. These ores are reported at full ledges, to be very rich gold. One is situated in the Dolores portion, and two at Salt Wash in Salt Lake portion.

BIG STRIKE NEAR OGDEN.

Reported Discovery of a Large Vein of Gold-Bearing Quartz.

Special Correspondence.

Ogden, May 18.—It is reported that a large vein of gold-bearing quartz has been discovered at last outside the limits of Ogden city, by John D. Porter, on the Lucy mine claim. The ore shows specks and flakes of gold, and Mr. Porter claims that the ledge can be traced for a distance of half a mile. He will at once proceed to develop the claim.

James Stark, who returned Tuesday from Copper River country in Alaska, where he spent fifteen months, says the country is no good.

KREMLIN'S GOOD SHOWING.

Has a Vein of Shipping Ore Near the 500-Foot Level.

Frank T. Taylor went yesterday of Bingham to see the new strike in the Kremlin company's ground. He examined on the mesas at a very upper level, and found a showing on the shaft the miners had just encountered a seven-inch vein of ore 18 inches of which is shipping ore. Mr. Taylor will go in the building operations will be put in the establishment of 40 per cent of lead and 15 ounces silver to the ton.

The shaft now down Mr. Taylor is now 100 feet deep and will be sunked to the 200 before drifting is commenced. The ore body is in other formation than the mines and there are no fissures, so that other levels can be made at once. The company has the purpose of work draining the shaft, and the ore will be sent down as progress is going to the deep. Much iron is necessarily wasted, but Mr. Taylor is perfectly satisfied. Nevertheless, he is not going to make all possible speed, there shifts of men being employed to development.

The Kremlin is next to the Lark, Bingham, from which former mines took ore to the value of $10,000 from one shaft. The new strike is a rich one, and noted for good silver-lead values, and the indications are that the Kremlin has the makings of a good mine, and is not the ultimate dividend payer.

Mr. Taylor was much taken up with the Lark, and the mine is a whole and the many others has great faith in its future. He was especially pleased with the work of the Hartford Deep tramway, which, save by carrier of a bucket of 100 pounds of ore every 40 seconds, is doing the work of many horses in the conveyance of copper ore.

Strike at Beaver Lake.

J. W. Dean, who arrived from Beaver Lake a few days ago and immediately left for Provo, where Wood brought in some very encouraging news from the Dickens mine, which recently has passed into the hands of a Wood company. The gentleman reports that in drifting on the Dixon vein, at a depth of 40 feet, the ore values had encountered a 16-inch streak of lead carbonate, somewhat resembling in that respect that found in the Wood mine, and according to the gentleman the ore assays 40 ounces silver to the ton, and is very promising. Work on the open cut for $60 a ton. Mr. Dean left prospecting.

Who can doubt that there is a cure for drunkenness when we have such an emphatic and authentic statement from Mrs. Kate Lynch, 328 Hoss Street, San Francisco, California, she says—My husband was a hard drinker. I have never was a doubt in my mind, but he would not be worked upon. He swore on to actually kill me. Life was most unbearable and I was at my wits' end. I had read of Dr. Haines' Golden Specific, so I asked some of it with Mr. Lynch's food. A few days and put a little in his coffee. To my great joy he accepted it without question and from then he showed some improvement. Within two months he had entirely given up drinking, and was the most remarkable change I ever saw in a man. I have given the Specific to my friends with the same happy results. I would advise any woman who has a husband, brother or friend who is a victim of the drink habit to write to Dr. J. W. When a boy buys a suit he looks at the style—when a mother buys a suit she considers the wearing qualities—that's why we see to it that nothing but the best cloths get into our boys clothing. No better way to find out than to try one of these all-wool suits at $2.50, handsome patterns, and if they're not all we claim for them, bring them back. All styles, vestee, reefer and regular double-breasted, ages 3 to 15—and others from $1.50 to $9.00.

LONG PANTS SUITS TOO, $3.50 to $18.00.
