A SERIOUS BICYCLE ACCIDENT.

Hans Peterson Suffers a Broken Leg—Death of Lemuel J. Myers—Damage Suit—Bush-Wing Nuptials.

Hans Peterson, who resides at 862 Washington avenue, met with a painful and serious accident about 8 o'clock Saturday night by being thrown from his bicycle, breaking his leg and otherwise bruising him.

Mr. Peterson was riding northward towards his home and Emil Larson was headed southward, both riding their bikes at a fast speed. When near the corner of Twentieth street and Washington avenue, they attempted to pass each other when a small boy rushed towards them to pass between the wheels. The riders realizing that they would strike the boy, turned their bikes dashing into each other. Both men were knocked from their wheels with considerable force. Mr. Peterson was rendered unconscious, and on being picked up by some passers by it was found that both bones in his left leg below the knee were broken and he was bleeding from the nose and mouth. He was placed on a stretcher and taken home, where Dr. Rich attended him, setting the bones, and he is getting along nicely. He is 50 years of age and that will work against his rapid recovery.

STAKE ACADEMY OPENING.

The Weber Stake Academy opened registration of students this morning at 9 o'clock. The following well known educators constitute the faculty: J. O. McKay, principal, theology and literature; John G. Lind, curator, and general science; William Z.
Baker, mathematics; Sylvester D.
McKay, pedagogy and psychology; Thos. E. McKay, English grammar and physical geography; Clara P. Eldredge, penmanship; Sarah T. Evans, drawing and domestic arts; Roy Stearns, commercial department; Belle S. Kerr, special instructor in S.
S. kindergarten.

The general opening exercises will be held Tuesday morning, Sept. 13, at 10 o'clock, to which all friends and patrons are invited.

DEATH OF LEMUEL J. MEYERS.

Lemuel J. Meyers, who, for a number of years has been a resident of Ogden, died Saturday at his home, 2460 East 10th, Ogden, from paralysis.
The deceased leaves a number of sons and daughters to survive him, and many friends. The funeral services will be held at Larkin & Sons' undertaking parlors, Tuesday morning, at 11 o'clock, where the remains may be viewed during the morning. After the services the remains will be taken for interment to Plain City, where he formerly lived.

$15,000 DAMAGE SUIT FILED.

An action has been filed in the Second district court by the Oregon Packing company against the Wasatch Orchard company to recover $15,000.21 damages. The complaint alleges that in April, 1903, the defendant company, who manufactures tin cans for canning apples, sold to the plaintiff a large quantity of inferior cans, in which cans were canned and spoiled to the plaintiff's loss in the sum of $15,000.

BUSH-WING MARRIAGE.

Mr. Joseph Wing and Miss Marie Lehi came to Ogden Saturday and secured a marriage license and were married that evening at the home of Mr. Wing's uncle, George W. Larsen, Sr., who officiated in the ceremony.
Miss Lehi is accompanied by her mother, a prominent young people, Mr. and Mrs. Wing will go to Garland, Box-elder county, where Mr. Wing is employed in the sugar industry to make their residence for a short time.

BRIEFS AND PERSONALS.

Dr. and Mrs. S. L. Brick left yesterday for Chicago and other eastern cities.
Mr. and Mrs. William Stevenson of Salt Lake City spent yesterday in Ogden visiting with Mrs. Stevenson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac McKay, before their departure for Baltimore, where Mr. Stevenson will study medicine.
Prof. Simpson has returned from a delightful trip through the Yellowstone park.
The Jewish residents of Ogden observed the Jewish New Year Saturday and Sunday. Appropriate services were conducted by Rabbi Brodie of Salt Lake City.
The Ogden Canyon Sanitarium opened yesterday at the month of Ogden Springs. The company has some excellent spray and plunge baths in warm mineral water.

PROVO.

The Daily News is delivered by carrier every morning except Sunday. Subscribers in the city may have it delivered by mail for $1.00 per month. All complaints and notices should be made to R. W.
Dugdale, 17 West 10th St., Provo.
Advertisements and orders for church bulletins also received.

M. I. A. CONVENTION.

Driggs-Christensen Wedding—Garden City News Briefs.
Special Correspondence.
Provo, Utah Co., Sept. 12.—The young people's associations of the Utah stake held a convention here yesterday preparing for the season's work. Officers meetings were held forenoon and afternoon.

regular session on the 6th, and transacted the usual routine business. Claims amounting to over $1,000 were allowed, most of which was for repairs on the county roads caused by washouts. The matter of insuring the court house was discussed, and it was decided to insure to the amount of $2,000 for three years.
An appropriation of $75 was made to the Iron county fair committee. The fair will be held on Sept. 20, 21 and 22.

WEDDING BELLS.

Marriage licenses have been issued to the following couples: Joseph R. Bentley and Mary Richards, both 23. These were married Sept. 8, at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Thos. Richards.
Mr. John S. Hanks, 22, of Paragonah, and Miss Mabel Whitney, 18, of this place. They were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. New S. Whitney, on the 7th, where a reception was given to a large number of guests.

GARLAND.

DEATH OF ROBERT FRYER.

Sugar Factory in Fine Shape, With Promise of Good Run.

Special Correspondence.
Garland, Boxelder Co., Sept. 10.—The friends of Robert Fryer will be pained to learn of his death, which occurred yesterday afternoon, after a brief illness of typhoid fever. Mr. Fryer was about 27 years of age, and just getting a good lively business started at Garland.

Bishop James Gardiner of Lehi was a visitor here yesterday. Mr. Gardiner, who is consulting superintendent for the Utah Sugar company, reports the mill in fine shape, with every indication of a successful run.

CASTLE DALE.

ABUNDANT HARVEST.

In Need of Market and Outlet—Academy Opens Sept. 12.

Special Correspondence.
Castle Dale, Emery Co., Sept. 8.— This has been a good season for Emery county. Farmers have had good crops. The fruit crop here is very abundant, and much of it cannot be taken care of as the limited local market is over supplied. Where it was once thought that fruit could not be produced it is a satisfaction to see the peach, plum, apple and pear trees full of fruit. Conditions would be greatly improved, however, if the Rio Grande Western would complete the Salina cut-off, open up and develop the country, and give the people a local market for all their produce.

The Emery Stake academy opens Monday, Sept. 12. The building is now being improved and put in order. There will be four instructors this season and with the other improvements it is expected to bring the school up to greater efficiency. It is expected that the presidency of the stake will be here on Sunday evening and at the opening of the school on Monday morning. The faculty is now touring the towns in the south end of the county.

The county teachers have been having their examination the last three days.

REXBURG, IDAHO.

SNAKE RIVER COUNTRY.

Shows Wonderful Growth and Development—Rexburg Academy.

Special Correspondence.
Rexburg, Fremont Co., Idaho, Sept.
10.—A trip through the Snake river country will reveal a wonderful growth in business and agricultural lines. The inhabitants of southern and southeastern Idaho are the stalwart sons and daughters of the veterans of Utah, and like their fathers they have made these sterile sage brush lands into fruitful fields, while towns, cities and villages adorn this once barren landscape.

The Utah Sugar company made no mistake in erecting its factory at Iona, or rather as most people say, Idaho Falls, as it is about half way between the two. In going over the best lands many are not looking very promising, yet wherever they have been attended to properly they look well. It takes a farmer one year to learn how to profitably cultivate the beet.

Bryan, or Moreland ward has built a $5,000 school building and a $2,000 amusement building. The school is recovering from the fire and the improvements are very marked. Iona and the sugar factory is a marvel of improvements. The $5,000 central brick school house is a new building. Idaho Falls has a tremendous building boom. The advent of these sugar factories the country has taken a new lease of life.
The immense beet fields around the factory at Iona and at Sugar City are a sight worth seeing.

Rexburg is one of the most prosperous towns around here, its academy and new central school building are of solid brick, dressed by skilled workmen.
The academy will cost when finished $25,000. Part of it will be used as a high school. The school building of Logan, and the staid moral influence up here makes it a very desirable place for parents to send their young people.
Handsome business blocks are being built here also. The farmers all along the line find that their crops are very good but owing to the many visits of Jack frost, the grain is very much lighter than was expected.

MALAD, IDAHO.

DISTRICT COURT.

M. I. A. Convention—Evans-Evans Nuptials—Democratic Primaries Sept. 20.

Special Correspondence.
Malad, Oneida Co., Idaho, Sept. 7.— The district court, which has been in session since Monday, disposed of the following cases:

Geo. H. Lewis vs W. E. Jones, judgment.
Moroni Reese vs D. W. Jones, damages.

Minnie A. Lynch, divorce.
Katie W. Goach vs L. W. Goach, divorce.

John Larsen & Sons vs Geo. D. Carter, to collect on promissory note.
Before adjournment Wednesday the two prisoners, S. C. Harvey and Joseph Jaynes, held at Malad, were sentenced to two and a half years in the penitentiary, whether they will be transferred when an officer from the penitentiary arrives.

M. I. A. CONVENTION.

The convention of the Y. M. and Y. L.
M. I. A. was held at the district school house in Malad at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m.
Sunday. Prominent among the many present were Mrs. Appella W. Bartley of Salt Lake City, of the general board of Young Ladies' association; Judge Tanner of the Y. M. M. I. A. general board, and Prof. Hickman of Provo, in the interest of church schools.

During the afternoon session Stake President of the Y. M. associations, Ralph J. Harding, was honorably re-elected, and R. N. Hill, with Dan W.
Williams and Hyrum Jones as counselors, were chosen and unanimously sustained to fill the vacancies.

County Clerk Richards issued a permit to wed to Margarita Evans and Mr. Benj. Evans of Malad, Wednesday, Sept. 6.

Democratic primaries will be held in the different precincts in Oneida county, Idaho, Monday, Sept. 26, 1904, for the purpose of electing delegates to the county convention at Malad, Oct.
1, when the county ticket will be nominated.

LYMAN, WYO.

WHEAT DAMAGED BY FROST.

Reception to Returned Missionary, Elder Augustus Youngberg.

Special Correspondence.

Lyman, Wyo., Sept. 9.—The days are very hot with cold nights. The farmers are very busy harvesting their grain and second crop of alfalfa. The wheat crop is very much damaged by the frost.

There is considerable sickness among the people here, nearly all confined to the middle aged.
Elder Augustus Youngberg returned Aug. 27 from a mission to Sweden. He has been absent two and a half years.
A reception was tendered him on the 5th, at which all enjoyed themselves highly.

Ida Marshall has returned from Salt Lake City after spending a few weeks visiting her father, Mr. Boston.
The Silver Comet band gives a dance tonight to obtain more instruments for the band.

A number of the young people of this ward will attend the high schools in Utah this winter.

LEHI.

FUNERAL OF J. H. ANDERSON.

Home of W. J. Higgs Burned—Planting Fish Fry.

Special Correspondence.

Lehi, Utah Co., Sept. 10.—The funeral of Jacob Henry Anderson, who died Sept. 5, was held from the meetinghouse Wednesday. The speakers were Elders Knott, Rensen, Andrew Johnson, G. W. Child, Wm. Southwick, President S. L. Chipman and Bishop John Stoker, who eulogized the good traits of the young man. Deceased was born in Sweden county, Sweden, April 26, 1855, and came to Utah with his parents in September, 1893. He was a graduate of the public schools and attended the Agricultural college at Logan during the school year of 1903-4.
He leaves a mother, four older brothers and many friends to mourn his death as he was a bright and promising young man.

Last Sunday evening Mrs. Marie Snow Featherstone gave a very fine evening on her missionary life in Japan, and the customs of the people.
Tomorrow evening the Second ward choir will give a sacred concert in the meetinghouse for its own benefit.
SEEK HIGHER EDUCATION.

Among those who are going to the R. Y. university Monday are the following young people: Izzie Loitt, Edgemo Mason, Freeman Royce, J. Hamilton Gardner, Lulu Darton, Delois Webb, Violet Long, Arava Davis, Annie Sharp, Amy Hussen and Emma Woodhouse.

PLANTING FISH.

Yesterday 50,000 brook trout were bought from the state fish hatchery at Murray and planted in the American Fork canyon creek. This stream is ideal for trout raising, and anglers will be kept from fishing there for a few years in order to get the stream well stocked.

Miss Marie Bush and Mr. Joseph Wing, two of our most prominent young people, were married today. Mr. and Mrs. Wing will reside at Garland, Boxelder county, where Mr. Wing is employed in the sugar industry.

Today the new Silver band gave an excursion to the Saratoga Springs resort, which was very successful. A ball game was played between Lehi and Draper, resulting in a score of 15 to 7 in favor of the former.

The home of W. J. Higgs was burned down today. While the furniture was saved, the house is a total loss. The fire department made a record run to his place, but on account of the exhaustion of water, were able to do but very little.

On account of so many accidents on Main and Center streets through fast bicycle riding on the sidewalks, the marshal has posted notices on those streets, forbidding people to ride on the sidewalks.

The Standard Kitting company, which started business here some little time ago, is doing an excellent business, and is turning out very fine material. It has nearly all of its machinery now installed.

KATE
CLYDE

Disposes of the Married Male Flirt
and the Too Ingenuous Maiden and Then Turns Her Attention
to Autumn Modes

I AM back in town again, and, I feel good. I am always secretly glad at the end of the summer, so called, "vacation." Let others sing of the charms of the cow and of the smell of the cabbage patch in the rain, but for me the asphalt underfoot and the smoke streaked sky overhead, also the things that go with the same, such as food fit to eat in restaurants good to look at, dainties' shops where a man can spend his all if you delicately lead him up to it, bon-bon shops ditto and hansoms and theaters
and, best of all, nice young men of all complexions, degrees of strenuousness and incomes. Ah, some day I shall write a song of the town full of electric lights and glorified cobblestones. Bless the summer vacation! If it makes one appreciate the dear old town like this!

I mention men as the chief asset of the city. Why don't I mention, too, while I am about it that the return of a girl to the city means her freedom from the married man bore? Oh, these married men bore who will persist in flirting with one at the otherwise man-less summer resorts! How they do follow one around and pester one with their inanities! Why is it, will you tell me, that the married man in the summer time is always pining to be understood, while all the time you are racking every nerve in the effort not to be misunderstood—by his wife?

It is a fatal state of mind when either a man or a woman pines to be understood, but whereas there is some element of poetry in a young, inexperienced girl (who knows how to dress for the part) expounding her untried soul to the gaze of the passerby in order that some kind person may set her on the right road, there is nothing but humor of the farcical order in the spectacle of the corpulent or ordinarily pro-

The Married Male Flirt.

It is a melancholy but absolutely true fact that most married men don't carry off the role with a graceful air. If they are good they are so good that it gives you a depressed feeling, much the same sort that you have when you see a man holding his breath in order to float when he is naturally heavy by nature, with a pronounced inclination for going down. When a married man is good he is too good. He becomes positively stupid, and he always has an air of restraint about him, as if he were bound hand and foot with all the Ten Commandments. But when a married man has decided to be as if he were not married—in a word, natural—that is when his condition becomes deplorable.
By some fatality, instead of picking out a feminine prisoner of matrimony like himself he rushes gayly off in the direction of the young girls. They ignore him and treat him with scant courtesy, for the main business of life with them is getting married, and he is a package, so to speak, from which the prize has already been extracted.
Filled with the memory of many conquests in his single days and with his vanity plumed beyond endurance, he frisks playfully around until he has positively made himself cheap in his efforts to be taken notice of, and it is his deadly persistence which poisons the vacation of the summer girls.
In the winter, thank heaven, the coal gas and electric light bills, not to speak of those for his wife's gowns, are so large that they keep him hustling from early dawn till break of day, and he has little time for such foolishness. Thus it will be seen that labor has its compensation and that a wise woman keeps her husband forever on the move.

Why is it among many other questions that my puzzled brain asks you that a girl who is well—of a certain age persists like a criminal in begging herself? The damned spot—convincing your pardon for even quoting such strong language—will out on every reason. For instance, she will say names in appropriate places. I think the following is a good illustration: A friend of mine, a prosperous man with athletic tastes, owns a yacht. He advertised for a sailor, and a rather slouchy looking individual presented himself. In answer to demands for particulars he replied in pompous accent, "My name is Herbert Spencer Giddings," which so dumfounded the owner that he retorted prestissimo:

"And my name is John Smith Jones.
Now, swap the deck." Then when this had been done and the applicant's name was shortened to Bert peace once more reigned.

Why is it among many other ques-
that a girl who is well—of a
