PLAIN ENOUGH.

I am looking up and down,
Up and down, through the town,
For a little house to dwell in,
A shelter and a rest;
But though the buds are swelling,
And the springs from earth are welling,
I cannot find a place for my rest.
[Rose Terry Cooke.

If you had paid the rent,
Up and down, every cent,
For the little house you dwell in
Week by week,
Though buds might swell and swell,
And the springs from earth up well,
You'd quickly gain the little place you seek.

Correspondence.
Sunday School Celebration.

LOGAN, July 22, 1876.

Editor Deseret News:

By request of Sup't Moses Thatcher, the superintendents, teachers, singing masters, and many of the Bishops belonging to the various Sunday Schools of this valley, met to day in general convention at 11 a. m., in the Logan bowery.

Meeting was called to order by Sup't Moses Thatcher. After the usual singing and prayer, the different schools of the valley were called upon to represent their present condition. Nineteen out of the twenty-one Wards were represented, and most of them reported very favorably. Some needed more teachers, others wanted more copies of the Juvenile Instructor in their schools, but taken on the average the schools were in a very good condition.

After some deliberation as to the best method of adopting a uniform system of instruction throughout the valley, it was resolved that a committee on rules and regulations be appointed. E. M. Curtis, A. Noble, A. Clark, R Latham, J. H. Brown, —— Welshman, and J. E. Hyde, were appointed; a committee on musical instruction were also appointed to systematize and regulate the singing of the various schools—Wm. Knowles, A. Noble, J. B. Nash, A. Clark and H. Haslum, were elected.

During the meeting the convention was addressed by Elder G. L. Farrell, Bishop W. B. Preston, and Supt. M. Thatcher, all of whom gave excellent advice and instruction concerning the governing and controling of the children of the Saints, that good and holy principles might be implanted instead of evil and bad ones. The meeting was a spirited and interesting one, and all present felt determined to renew their vigor to help educate and instruct the children of the Saints. Good seeds were sown and scattered broadcast throughout the valley, and will be by the many superintendents and teachers that were present. They will grow and mature in the hearts of the young, and good fruit will be the result of the labors of the Elders and sisters met in convention this day.

I feel assured that much more good would result from such meetings, could we have them oftener, say twice a year, instead of once.

The Fatal Accident at West Weber.

WEST WEBER, July 26, 1876.

Editor Junction:

It again becomes my painful duty to report another sad accident. The residents of West Weber met at the school house on the 24th of July, at 10 o'clock, to celebrate the day. The meeting was called to order by President Jno. I. Hart, hymn sung, prayer by Robert Telford. Prest. Hart delivered a speech on the trials of the Saints, what they had passed through, what they may have to pass through, and their eventual destiny.

John Brown delivered an oration. H. D. Peterson had just taken the stand when some boys outside, and about sixty feet from the north end of the meeting house, discharged some powder confined in a ring. The ring was about two and a half inches in diameter, two inches deep and half an inch thick. A flat piece of iron was placed on the ground, the ring put in the centre, filled half full of powder, an anvil placed on the top of the ring, the powder being ignited by a paper fuse entering a hole or notch in the bottom of the ring, which had been discharged seventeen times that morning. The consequence was the bursting of the ring, a piece of which, I afterward saw, measuring about two by one and a half inches, flew towards the schoolhouse door, on the step of which sat a little boy whose name was William Wood, aged five years five months and twelve days. It struck him on the left collar bone, glancing into the neck, cutting a gash two inches square, and severing the jugular vein, thence glancing into the doorstep, where it was found by Thomas Gibson. The boy died in three minutes.

Unlike the 4th of July, our deliverance was not obtained at the cannon's mouth or by the explosion of powder, and therefore, in my humble opinion, ought to be discarded as not necessary in the celebration of the 24th of July, especially with such apparatus as the above.

A messenger was sent to Ogden immediately for the Coroner, but he could not be found. In the meantime the body was removed to its former residence. H. D. Peterson, Justice of the Peace, impannelled a jury at the house of Chas. W. Wood. The following is the verdict as delivered by the jurors:

TERRITORY OF UTAH,
Weston Precinct, Weber Co.

An inquisition at Charles W. Wood's in Weston Precinct, Weber County, on the 24th of July, A. D. 1876, before H. D. Peterson, Justice of the Peace, in Weston Precinct, in said County, upon the body of William Wood, son of Charles W. Wood, aged about six years, there lying dead, by the jurors whose names are hereunto subscribed. The said jurors upon their oaths do say that the body lying before us came to his death by being struck by a piece of an old hub box, accidentally bursting by the explosion of powder, being half filled, fired in honor of the celebration of the 24th of July, by one Hyrum Hardy. Though the accident, according to evidence, being purely accidental, we cannot too strongly condemn the use of all such similar contrivances on public occasions as being dangerous to life and limb, and should, in our opinion, be forever discarded.

In testimony whereof the said jurors have hereunto set their hands, the day and year aforesaid.

JAMES F. HUNTER,
ROBERT MCFARLAND,
ANDREW BOWMAN,
} Jurors.
