

THE LAFAYETTE SILVER DOLLAR.

It is a Legal Tender Coin and Will be Struck in a Few Days.

AN INTERNATIONAL EMBLEM

Beautiful Memento of American Children's Tribute to the "Knight of Liberty for Universal Exposition."

Within the next few days there will be struck at the United States mint in Philadelphia the most unique and significant coin issued in modern times. It is the Lafayette dollar, authorized by Congress in aid of the Lafayette monument.

This coin, which is a legal tender dollar, bears upon its face in bas-relief a double medallion of the heads of Washington and Lafayette and upon its reverse a miniature reproduction of the equestrian statue of Lafayette used for the monument. The inscription on the dollar explains its purpose (struck in commemoration of monument erected by school youth of United States to General Lafayette, Paris, France, 1899).
The Lafayette dollar thus serves not only to aid the memorial work but forms a new and beautiful link between the two great republics of Europe and America, and therefore the coin may be regarded as an international emblem. It constitutes a most desirable souvenir and memento of the children's monument to the "Knight of Liberty," the universal exposition of 1900 at Paris, and the opening of the twentieth century. The limited number issued will make these coins extremely rare and in very great demand. For each 1,500 of our population there is a ratio of but one Lafayette dollar.

The first coin to be struck of the 50-cent piece will be presented by the President of the United States to the President of the French Republic.
Popular subscriptions for these coins will now be entered, and honored in the order received. The price fixed on them by the commission is $2. All orders for coins to be considered must be accompanied by payment in full and be in the hands of the commission before December 15, 1899, on which date the popular subscription closes. Drafts, currency or money orders will be accepted in payment. Drafts and money orders must be made payable to Edwin A. Potter, treasurer of the commission.
The commission reserves the right to limit the number of coins allotted to each subscriber. Students of schools and colleges, who wish coins, should combine their orders in one subscription and send if possible through local banks.

Inquiries and subscriptions for coins to be addressed to Robert J. Thompson, secretary, in care of American Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago. The commission consists of Wm. R. Day, Wm. B.
Allison, Edward Everett Hale, W. T.
Harris, Archbishop Ireland, John W.
MacKay, Melville B. Stone, Chas. A.
Collier, Edwin A. Potter, Chas. G.
Dawes, Alex. H. Revell, Ferdinand W.
Peck, Robert J. Thompson.

WANT AN ACCOUNTING.

Claim that a Note Has Been Much More Than Paid.

Antoinette B. Kinney and Cleson S.
Kinney, filed a suit in the United States court today against the Columbia Building and Loan association. It appears that the plaintiffs borrowed from the defendant in November of 1896 the sum of $2,500, giving a promisory note to secure the same. The plaintiffs contend that the note has been paid in full, but the defendant delivered to the defendant a deed for certain property held by the plaintiffs.
It is further alleged that the plaintiffs have paid the debt in various sums, that 71 payments of $40.36 have been made, that $7.30 was paid on Dec. 2, 1897. The plaintiffs contend that they have overpaid the indebtedness to the extent of $500 or $600. But the defendant has not acknowledged these payments, and refuses to cancel the assignment or to return it; moreover, threatens to sell the property described in the transfer. The plaintiffs pray for an accounting with the defendant and a payment from that company of all that may be due the plaintiffs. They further ask that the deed of trust be cancelled, also the promissory note.

school supplies. Dr. Park invites all interested to call and see them.

AMUSEMENT'S.

At the Grand last evening the "Breath of Promise" company opened before a house that could be called neither small nor large, the main part of the turnout being confined to the upper regions. The attraction, while it is hardly one that will set the Jordan abla, is built on lively lines, and Mr.
Bart Haverly and Mr. Joseph Hartington, the twin comedians, succeed in creating a great deal of laughter. Mr.
Haverly's burlesque on Sousa's gestures being one of the most humorous things of the evening. The engagement runs the entire week with the customary matinee.

The sale for the two nights and matinee performances of Madeleine began at the box office this morning.
From the indications the matinee will be sold out before the curtain rises, and the holiday night house is sure to be packed. The entire company goes to Ogden on a Rio Grande special at 6 this evening, returning after the opera.

MISS JESSUP'S DEBUT.

A pleasant event occurred last night at the Congregational church when Miss Emily Jessup made her musical debut before a Salt Lake audience.
The program was composed of a number of vocal and instrumental pieces by well known musicians, who assisted the fair debutante at her first recital.
Miss Jessup's selections were the "Flower Song" from Faust, the "Legend of the Chinese," from "Robin Hood," "The Serenade" from the opera of that name and Bragha's "Serenade," the latter song being accompanied by violin obligate by Miss Lamson. All of the numbers were well rendered, the young lady's voice showing a remarkable strength and range.

Miss Lamson was practically a second debutante of the evening and her violin renditions were amongst the best features of the evening.
Willard Christopherson's "Spirit of the Desert" and "Honor in Arms" were splendidly given as were Prof. Daynes' organ solo and its encore.

The double quartet consisting of Messrs. Bennett, Foster, Westervelt, Rood, Savage, Robertson, Jayne and Robbery were somewhat off key in their first effort, but the quartet of "Sweet and Low" with admirable effect. The entertainment was a delightful one and was enjoyed throughout by those present.

FREE TRAVELING LIBRARY.

Mrs. C. D. Moore, who has been chairman of the Free Traveling Library for some time, is about to retire from the position and Mrs. Coulter, the president of the Federation of Women's clubs, has asked Mrs. W. C. Nelson to take her place. Mrs. Moore has filled the position with great efficiency having worked with the greatest enthusiasm and devotion in the interest of the worthy enterprise entrusted to her direction. During her term eight libraries have been collected and started on their travels making eleven in all now in circulation. Mrs. Nelson, should she accept the position, will make an equally devoted and efficient worker, and those who have the interests of the library at heart are hoping that the directorship of the work may fall into such efficient hands.

IRON IS KING IN SOUTHERN UTAH

That Section Alive to Possibilities that Have Slept for Ages.

INQUIRERS ARE NUMEROUS.

Reports of Big Purchases that are in Contemplation—Immense Deposits of Iron in Sight.

Reports come from the south that the country about Cedar City, is being overrun by prospectors, and representatives of large manufacturing institutions, who are making things lively down there. The whole country is in an excited condition. It seems that old residents were blind to the wealth that is lying around them, until their property is now being bid for in high figures by syndicates and other large concerns, until the scene is becoming interesting in the extreme down there. The Colorado Fuel & Iron company of Pueblo, the twin comedians, succeed in creating a great deal of laughter. Mr.
customary matinee.

Cedar City is thrilled, it is experiencing more life than at any time in its previous history, and the impression is prevailing there that the Thomas Taylor group of six claims is as good as sold at $1,000,000. However that may be, the fact is that the syndicate which is purchasing it is paying the owner a given amount each day that negotiations continue. In this group alone, it is estimated that there is as much as 15-200,000 tons of ore that will average no less than sixty per cent, and samples have been brought showing a minimum of seventy per cent. It is said that Walter Brothers of this city, have put their property in on the British purchase at $400,000, which consists of 160 acres near Iron Springs, a patent for which was secured a number of years ago.

Mat Cullen and Albert C. Campbell hold some property that is not to be winked at. This property consists of five locations which contain nearly as many tons as the Taylor group.

Colonel Milner and his associates have holdings consisting of twenty-one claims. These claims embrace a world of ore. One would think that this was the site of a great city in the iron age.
The iron lodes in this district rise up in places hundreds of feet high and appear on the surface for 800 and 1,000 feet in width.

The extent of the vast deposits is almost beyond calculation. On the claims owned by Milner and his associates it is estimated that there is enough iron ore in sight to cover one full claim to a depth of 200 feet with solid ore, which on a rough estimate would represent 2,000,000 tons.

This enormous amount would represent a tonnage of pure iron of at least one-half that after being smelted. It is said, the ore will run about 50 per cent. Figuring on the scale many iron companies in the East have adopted, that of paying a royalty of a certain amount per ton, customarily from 20 to 25 cents a ton on ore as pure as the iron country product appears to be, the ore in sight would represent a value of at least $5,000,000.

It is thought by the prominent men who have come from that section that iron country is destined to become one of the most important centers in all the West. It is predicted that great smelters and rolling mills will be built, and that Cedar City will become a leading manufacturing center. An outlet will be made for the Utah & Pacific will go to the coast, and the Rio Grande Western will project its extension into Cedar City.

TORN BUTTONS OFF.

This afternoon Officer Chase rode up to headquarters in the patrol wagon lightly hugging an old fellow named Peter Flemming, who was too drunk to use his unbuttoning with any degree of satisfaction. The charge of vagrancy was booked against him. When searched, about three dozen cheap lead pencils, and a charity pass on the Oregon Short Line to Bureka were found on him. Both of Flemming's hands are minus fingers and thumbs.
On the way to the drunk house he tore a button or two off the officer's coat and vowed he would lick the whole police department.

BROUGHT A SICK CHILD INTO COURT

Remarkable Proceedings before Judge Norrell Today.

THE CASE WAS CONTINUED.

Fifteen-Year-Old Girl Nora Burnham Carried Into Court to Undergo Trial for Burglary.

"Should this young girl die from the strain the trial is bound to give her, I want it understood, your honor, that the prosecution will be in no way to blame, and so far as I am concerned, it washes its hands of the whole affair, right here," said Assistant County Attorney Ray Van Cott before Judge Norrell shortly after noon today.

Stretched upon a lounge in Clerk Dunbar's private office, pale and emaciated, was 15-year-old Nora Burnham, whose trial upon the charge of burglary was set for today, and who, Mr. Van Cott was referring to in the course of an argument for a continuance.

The child has been confined to her bed for the past five weeks with typhoid fever. She was driven to the city and county building in a hack, and carried into the court room by her father and uncle. She was then propped up in a chair, where she sat, looking more dead than alive, while Clerk Little read an information accusing her of burglary.

To say that Judge Norrell, Attorney Van Cott, Clerk Little, Stenographer Pike, jurors and court spectators were surprised would be putting it altogether too mild; they were dumbfounded.
Judge Norrell looked at Wiley Brown, the young girl's attorney, and then at Prosecutor Van Cott. The latter left his seat, and walking over to where Attorney Brown sat, held a whispered consultation with him. What was said could not be heard, but everybody imagined that Mr. Van Cott was protesting against bringing a child in that condition into court, and subsequent happenings proved that theory to have been a correct one.

From the child had been arraigned Mr. Van Cott suggested to the court that in view of the youthful defendant's condition, her trial should be postponed until she had sufficiently recovered to at least bear the strain of a trial.

Attorney Brown opposed the proposition to postpone, claiming it was the wish of her father that the trial should proceed. Mr. Brown further stated that the parents of the girl believed her sick-

CASE GOES OVER.

When court reconvened this afternoon Judge Norrell informed counsel for the defense that under the circumstances and the physical condition of the defendant, he had decided to grant the motion of the State for a postponement, and his honor continued the trial to Dec. 13th.

His honor further stated that if the defense had moved the court for a continuance simply upon the appearance of the child he would have refused to hear the prosecution in an objection to such motion.
