Ogden, Oct. 12.—The committee of the Weber Academy lecture course has completed its labors in booking 12 first class attractions for the ensuing school year. The committee which is composed of Prof. S. D. Bradford, Mrs. Janette McKay-Morrell and Christina J. Jensen, has secured some of the strongest orators that are on the lecture platform.

The committee announces the following lecture calendar:

Jan. 7—Jacob A. Rils.
Jan. 21—Whitney Brothers' Male Quartet.

The exact date of the appearance of the two last named has not been definitely decided upon but will be announced later in the season.

All of the above need very little introduction to the people of this community who have followed the lecture platform very closely. All except Jacob Rils and Russell H. Conwell have appeared under the academy lecture course before.

Rils and Conwell are two of the most prominent lecturers on the American platform today. The former is known as the great slum worker of New York and as a personal friend of President Theodore Roosevelt, with whom he worked for many years when the latter was police-commissioner of New York city and governor of New York.

President Conwell is a preacher, author and orator of great brilliancy, one who has given a great part of his life to the lecture platform which has given him a national reputation.

BUILDING ROOM.

During the past two weeks building permits to the amount of $14,300 have been issued from the office of the city engineer and throughout the city this building activity goes merrily on. All classes of laborers are finding plenty of work to do at the present time, as the builders of houses are anxious to get them completed before the winter sets in.

From several authentic sources it is learned that several property owners are contemplating the erection of houses and flats within the next month or two. This action has been found necessary on account of the shortage of houses in the city. Several times during the past month there has been a house famine in the city. In many instances tenants have paid for houses under construction a month before they were completed.

balance and fell from the horse. The horse became frightened and began kicking, striking the little fellow on the head. Dr. H. S. Payne was summoned, and it required five stitches to close the wound on the back of the head and three stitches to sew up the one over the left eye.

The little fellow is doing nicely and hopes are entertained that there will be no serious results, but a speedy recovery.
