

LORD MINTO ON THE MORMONS.

Governor General of Canada Praises
Their Thrift and Industry.

PREJUDICE HAS VANISHED.

Once Regarded With Suspicion Now
Welcomed Into Canada Among Her Best Pioneers.

Lord Minto, governor general of Canada, has recently paid a visit to the "Mormon" settlements near the southwest corner of Alberta, says the New York Sun. He and his party were greatly pleased with the evidences they saw of thrift and contentment. No pioneers on the plains of western Canada have made a better record as good citizens and happy and prosperous farmer folk. What the followers of Joseph Smith did for the valleys of the Salt Lake region the second and third generation after them have done for their little corner of the great Alberta plain.

Within sight of their eight villages and their thousands of acres of wheat and grazing lands are the Rocky mountain ranges and the glacier-fed streams from these mountains have been tapped by irrigation canals, and their waters led to all the villages and farm lands of the "Mormon" settlements. On this fertile, dry, bare and a few years ago unproductive, the "Mormons" raised last year 50,000 bushels of wheat for export, and all their flour at their own mills. In 1900, they raised the wool from 10,000 sheep, and made a great deal of cheese in their own factory and sent all their children to good schools. Their villages have no hotels or saloons, but they are blessed with clean streets, good drainage and neat houses. The approval which Lord Minto's party offers upon the "Mormons" and their work is in striking contrast with the suspicion and mistrust they aroused during their early days in Canada as shown in the annual reports of the interior department for some years after 1850.

In June, 1888, twelve families of "Mormons," comprising sixty souls, arrived on the plain of southwest Alberta, after a long wagon journey from Utah. They were under the leadership of C. O. Card, whose wife was a daughter of Brigham Young. Mr. and Mrs. Card are still the most prominent members of the colony, numbering 3,000 souls, and one of the reports of Lord Minto's visit says of Mrs. Card, who is a potent force among the immigrants, that "to her own force of character she owes the remarkable influence which she wields with admirable intelligence and sympathy for the good of all."

In the following year Mr. J. S. Dennis, agent of the Dominion government, was sent to the colonies to see what manner of people they were. In his report to the interior department he expressed astonishment at the progress they had made in so short a time; but he thought their immigration in large numbers was not to be encouraged. He said they were silent when he asked them if they practiced or professed polygamy, though they said they obeyed the laws of Canada. Undoubtedly some of them were fugitives from justice in the United States, having practiced polygamy in Utah. "I cannot help feeling," he wrote, "that decisive action should be taken to prevent the growth of a power that, beginning in the same small way in the United States, has for years set the law of that country at defiance."

Shortly after this report was printed it was discovered that there was no law in the statutes of the Dominion that seemed wholly to fit the case of the "Mormons" and parliament lost no time in passing a strenuous anti-polygamy law that is still in force. The accounts of Lord Minto's visit agree, as one of the reports puts it, that "not only is there no polygamy among the "Mormon" immigrants, but, as visitors to their settlements will find, the practice of polygamy is now regarded among them with precisely the same feeling of abhorrence as among men and women in any other part of this Christian land."

The accuracy of this latter statement may be doubted. The "Mormons" of Canada have not violated the law of the land, and there is no reason to believe that they have any intention to incur its penalties. But no "Mormon" in this country or any other has ever practiced polygamy. The "Mormons" of the United States have practiced polygamy and he could not do so without repudiating the articles of faith of his Church, of which article VII is the belief in the revelation of the right and duty to practice polygamy as a message from the divine ruler. They have done today when asked if they believe in polygamy as they have in the past. They have answered them. This fact does not detract from the many admirable qualities which the "Mormons" in Canada have exhibited. Not the least praiseworthy feature of their life for fourteen years in Alberta is the hospitable and kindly welcome they have extended to the Gentiles who have come to live among them, with whom they have maintained the most kindly relations.

It was several years before the official reports on the "Mormon" colony were free from a strain of suspicion and unfriendliness, but opposition finally melted away in face of the remarkable development and untouchable behavior of the new comers. Thus an appendix to the report of the minister of agriculture in 1890 said: "Fruitfulness and industry seem to go hand in hand; the settlement has made rapid progress and the laws of the country are respected." The report of the department of the interior for 1891 spoke in the highest terms of the "Mormons" and said they seemed to have a real grievance, for, as yet, no postal facilities had been given to them. They had had no reason to complain of late years that the government has neglected them, and Canada now regards the "Mormons" as among her best pioneers.

THE PLACE OF THE PHILIPPINES IN THE EAST.

Let us in confirmation study the map of transpacific seas and countries. It is both fascinating and instructive. All maps of important lands are interesting to the student of world progress, but none is more surprising than that of the incomparable broken coast that reaches from Australia to Siberia, from Melbourne to Vladivostok. Its supreme revelation to the man who has not before investigated these Asian-Pacific shores is this: the Philippines are the geographical and strategic center of the Asiatic and Australasian Pacific coast line that has an unrivaled extent of 6,000 miles, has debouching upon it a population of over 850,000,000, including India, and supports already a foreign commerce exceeding $2,000,000,000 per annum.

From this undeniable premise we draw another conclusion which has even a more direct bearing upon the value of the islands to the United States: the Philippines being the geographical and strategic center by reason of physical location, will become under American influence the commercial center of the transpacific coast, seas, and millions of people.—Harper's Weekly.

JURY ACQUITS YOUNG MADDICK.

Bartender Charged With Shooting
Willis Pearsall Not Guilty.

WAS FIRING AT NEGROES.

Mrs. Brash Testified that She Saw a Negro Shoot at Maddick Before
He Proceeded to Shoot.

The jury that sat upon the trial of Maddick, charged with assaulting Willis Pearsall with intent to kill, returned a verdict of not guilty within ten minutes after retiring.

Mr. Van Cott made a strong speech for the side of the prosecution, and the attorney for the defense presented a strong argument upon the law of self-defense. Attorney Smith took up the evidence of Mrs. Brash, who testified that she saw one of the colored soldiers from the post on the evening of May 14th last, fire a shot at the bartender at the corner of State and Second South streets, while the latter was shooting at the negroes.

It is hardly probable that Maddick will be tried for shooting Andrew H. White, the young soldier who was one of the crowd that assaulted the defendant, but who is now in the Philippines.

AN ARIZONA OCTOGENARIAN.

Comes to Reside in Salt Lake After Absence of 43 Years.

After an absence from Salt Lake City for a period of forty-eight years, Paul Smith, an Arizona octogenarian, has disposed of his possessions in the territory of the Gila monster, and petrifed forests and has come back here to pass the remainder of his days in peace and quietness.

Elder Smith came to Utah in Orson Pratt's company in 1851 and a year later went to Australia on a mission with Elder Farnham. On coming home he moved to Parowan in 1857. In 1879 he moved to Snowflake, Arizona, and resided there until coming to Salt Lake on Thursday evening when he was given a cordial reception by relatives and old time friends. Naturally he sees many changes in Salt Lake in the half century that he has been a resident of other sections.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Miss Lena Preston, who has been spending the past eighteen months in Europe, will return tomorrow.

Invitations are out for the wedding of S. P. Neve Jr. and Miss Anna M. Jensen of Forest Dale, on Nov. 1st.

The last social of the Opal club was held Tuesday last, at Ladies Literary club rooms. Sixty-three was the card game. Prizes were won by Miss Minnie Anderson and Mr. Ed Moore. Consolation by Mrs. Zeno Barnes and G. Gilbert. Refreshments were served by Mr. Zeno Barnes. A novel feature of the evening was a "German band" in costume, by nine members of the club, who used instruments to all appearance like a brass band, but was an imitation with a kazoo in the mouth piece. This was a complete surprise to all. Following was the program:

1st. March "Frolics of the Opals"
2nd. "Sousa's German Band"
3rd. "Slide Hambo Solo"
4th. "The Blue and the Gray"
5th. "The Blue and the Gray"
6th. "The Blue and the Gray"
7th. "The Blue and the Gray"
8th. "The Blue and the Gray"
9th. "The Blue and the Gray"
10th. "The Blue and the Gray"

OUR INLAND WATERWAYS.

At present America has but 18,566 miles of navigable rivers and canals; yet the marvelous possibilities of Russian inland navigation can in many respects be excelled by those in America. With an expenditure equal in amount to the appropriation for pensions for a single Congress (nearly $300,000,000 for the two years), it has been estimated that an inland coast waterway could be made navigable for large steamers from Providence Inlet, Rhode Island, to Galveston, Texas, and the Rio Grande, on the boundary line between the United States and Mexico. A natural waterway for almost the entire distance already exists. To perfect the route, but comparatively little work is necessary, —Harper's Magazine.

Warner's Safe Cure is a splendid remedy for building up a broken down constitution. Some years ago my system was completely run down, and after using three bottles I felt like a different person, and when I feel a little worn out a few doses are always of great benefit.
Yours truly,

There never was a period when so much attention was given to the culture of health as to-day, and not without good cause. We must prepare to fight against the prevalent scourge of insidious attacks upon the kidneys. The pressure of life is increasing. The prevalence of kidney disease is increasing, weakening constitutions and impairing digestion.

I am very glad to speak a good word for Warner's Safe Cure. Three times during the past few years I have felt very much worn out from overwork, and each time a bottle of Safe Cure has completely restored me. I find it of especial benefit to nervous people who suffer from insomnia. It is a fine inducer of sleep.
