

CONFESSES TO A CONSPIRACY.

Czolgosz Makes Another Confession
To the Police.

HE NAMES EMMA GOLDMAN.

If Certain Papers Known to be in Existence Are Found, Will Lay Bare Whole Plot.

New York, Sept. 11.—A special to the Herald from Buffalo says:

Leon Czolgosz has confessed to the police that his attempt upon the life of President McKinley was the result of a conspiracy in which many besides himself had a part. So far as can be learned, Czolgosz has refused to mention any name except that of Emma Goldman but papers are in existence which, if they can be discovered, will lay bare the entire conspiracy and will result in wholesale arrests, followed by prosecutions.

Although Emma Goldman has been arrested in Chicago, it is probable that she will be brought to Buffalo for trial. The center of the conspiracy is here. Buffalo is filled generally with the details of the conspiracy and the names of those connected with Czolgosz in the plot, together with an outline of its ramifications.

In his confession Czolgosz told of his attempts to destroy the written evidence of the conspiracy. He said that time did not permit him to burn the papers as he had desired.

Before leaving his room in Nowak's hotel he gathered together all of his papers, taking them from his pockets, and from the drawers of his table. All were bound together in one package which he concealed beneath his coat.

Czolgosz says that he made a circuitous and aimless trip about the city, and that at some point, which he cannot now describe, he came upon an open sewer. In this sewer he cast his papers.

Inch by inch the sewers of this city are being searched, and if such a thing is possible those papers will be recovered.

On authoritative information it can be said that during the last ten weeks Emma Goldman has visited six anarchist organizations. She has been in Buffalo three times since July 12, having left the city the last time four days before the attempted assassination.

Emma Goldman, Czolgosz and Abraham Isaak and Marie Isaak were in consultation in Chicago on two occasions. Marie Isaak came to Buffalo and told the last time the arch leader of the anarchists was here.

Leon Czolgosz accompanied to Buffalo and about the city by a mysterious Bohemian man and woman who had no suspicion as to warrant the assumption that they knew of the intention of Czolgosz to assassinate the President.

No Anarchists Employed.
Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 11.—Director of Public Works Charles P. Salen takes exception to the statement published in yesterday's papers to the effect that anarchists are being employed by the city government. Mr. Salen last night gave the Associated Press a written statement concerning the matter as follows:

"After the flood which visited Cleveland a week ago last Sunday, we advertised for laborers to repair the damage and during the week put to work every man who was capable of handling a pick and shovel. It seems that among those who applied was the father of Czolgosz, who was given an order to labor in one of the water works gangs at $1.50 per day last Friday morning, but he failed to report for work either Friday or Saturday and I have no record of his having reported for duty."

"Harry Kline, an employee of the city engineering department charged with being an anarchist has a laboring position. His acquaintances state positively that he has no anarchistic tendencies whatever and his reputation is that of an honest, peaceful and hard-working citizen."

EDELBERT STONE ARRESTED
Charged with Complicity in Plot Against President.

Camden, N. J., Sept. 11.—Edelbert Stone was arrested in this city last night on the charge of "aiding and abetting in the attempted assassination of President McKinley."

The arrest was made by City Detective Painter. United States secret service officials were notified on Friday afternoon last before 3 o'clock. Stone was said to have been one of the salaried employees in the New York ship building yard that he would not be surprised if President McKinley was killed that day.

MOST DANGEROUS MAN.
Name Not Divulged But It Is Known to Proper Authorities.

New York, Sept. 11.—James M. Trimble of Newark, who has just completed his work as a consular agent for the state of New Jersey to inquire into the killing of King Humbert by Bresci is quoted as saying: "My investigation of the Bresci affair has shown plainly that there is a man in this country who is the arch conspirator in all these assassinations. I cannot now give his name. I sent all the evidence to the Italian government. Who was it that gave to Bresci all the money he needed to carry out his deed of violence?"

"The answer to this question will give the name of the most dangerous man in America today."

BERLIN REJOICES.
Cause is the Reassuring Reports of the President's Recovery.

Berlin, Sept. 11.—Everybody here rejoices in the reassuring dispatches as to the condition of President McKinley. Public interest in the outcome has in no way abated. A fine picture of Mr. McKinley in the window of the office of the Lokal Anzeiger attracts crowds—those who study it commenting upon his characteristic features.

The Berliner Tageblatt refers to the fact that the municipal council of Paris, the lord mayor of London and the London chamber of commerce, together with other public bodies, have sent dispatches of sympathy, and it expresses wonder that the Berliner corporations have failed to do the same, "especially since there are so many points of contact between Germany and the United States."

The German papers unanimously point out that anarchist propaganda will continue to constitute a common danger, and they recommend common precautions. "Great states should unit," says one journal, "in fighting criminals who indiscriminately organize, execute and celebrate assassinations in America and in Europe. Everywhere in Europe the energetic action of the United States against anarchism would be hailed with satisfaction."

The Cologne Gazette, semi-official, says: "Europe has already done so much to check anarchism that it can now leave the problem to the Americans, who are an eminently practical people and will at once devise means of rooting out the evil in their own country. Europe will look with the greatest interest to the inauguration of such a crusade, and will doubtless learn something to its own advantage."

Prayer Services for President.
Baltimore, Sept. 11.—It is estimated that fully 75,000 persons attended the services of prayer for the recovery of President McKinley in the various churches of the city in accordance with the proclamation of the governor and mayor of Baltimore. The most notable gatherings were those in the Protestant Episcopal church and the Protestant Episcopal church of the Messiah. In the former church Democratic and Republican leaders, among those who sat on the platform. Highly eulogistic addresses were delivered by Mayor Hayes, United States Senator McComas and Rev. Dr. Hugh Johnston, the President's former pastor in Washington.

Overtime Chinese to be Deported.
San Francisco, Sept. 11.—Two important decisions from the treasury department have been received at the office of Inspector James R. Dunn, in charge of the Chinese bureau. The most important of these is the case of 26 "overtime" Chinese who are at present held at the detention shed for having returned after the expiration of their legitimate certificate and without renewal of the permit at the port of departure. The Chinese consul-general requested executive clemency in their behalf, pleading their ignorance of the law. The treasury department rules that they are not to be deported and that the men be deported.

The second ruling overrules a previous decision. It is to the effect that all sons of Chinese resident merchants who are under 21 are admissible within the boundaries of the United States.

One Jay Kills Another.
Fresno, Cal., Sept. 10.—A Japanese named Taniguchi was shot and instantly killed by another Japanese early this morning. The murderer and his victim were both officers of the Japanese navy. The fugitive turned and shot McSwain twice, inflicting painful wounds. Nelson then fired and wounded the Japanese, who was forced to surrender.

Reply to Rebel Manifesto.
Colon, Colombia, Sept. 10, via Galveston.—The United States gunboat Machias has returned from Bocas del Toro, no developments having occurred there which require her presence.

The following is the text of the communication, dated Sept. 4, in which the United States consul replied to the rebel manifesto addressed to foreign consuls in Colon, dated Sept. 4, and signed by Gen. Patino, which intimated that Patino intended to attack Colon shortly and which requested that the respective nationalities be notified:

"I acknowledge receipt of your letter of yesterday and respectfully notify you that any interference on your part with the free transit of goods or passengers across the Isthmus of Panama would be a violation of treaty rights of my government, and the latter, should you attempt such interference, would not accordingly."

"Obstruction of free access to the Panama railroad stations in Colon from the docks at this port or obstruction of the free transit of goods or passengers across the Isthmus of Panama would be a violation of treaty rights of my government, and the latter, should you attempt such interference, would not accordingly."

It Strong to Report to Gov. Taft.
Washington, Sept. 11.—Lieut. Richard P. Strong has been ordered to report in person to Gov. Taft at Manila for duty as director of the government biological laboratory at that place.

Russian Duties on American Goods.
Washington, Sept. 11.—The state department received a cablegram from the 4th instant from Commercial Agent Green at Vladivostok, to the effect that the Russian government has decided to impose duties on the tariff of European Russia have been enforced at that port. Duties will be levied on the gross weight and the measurement of goods.

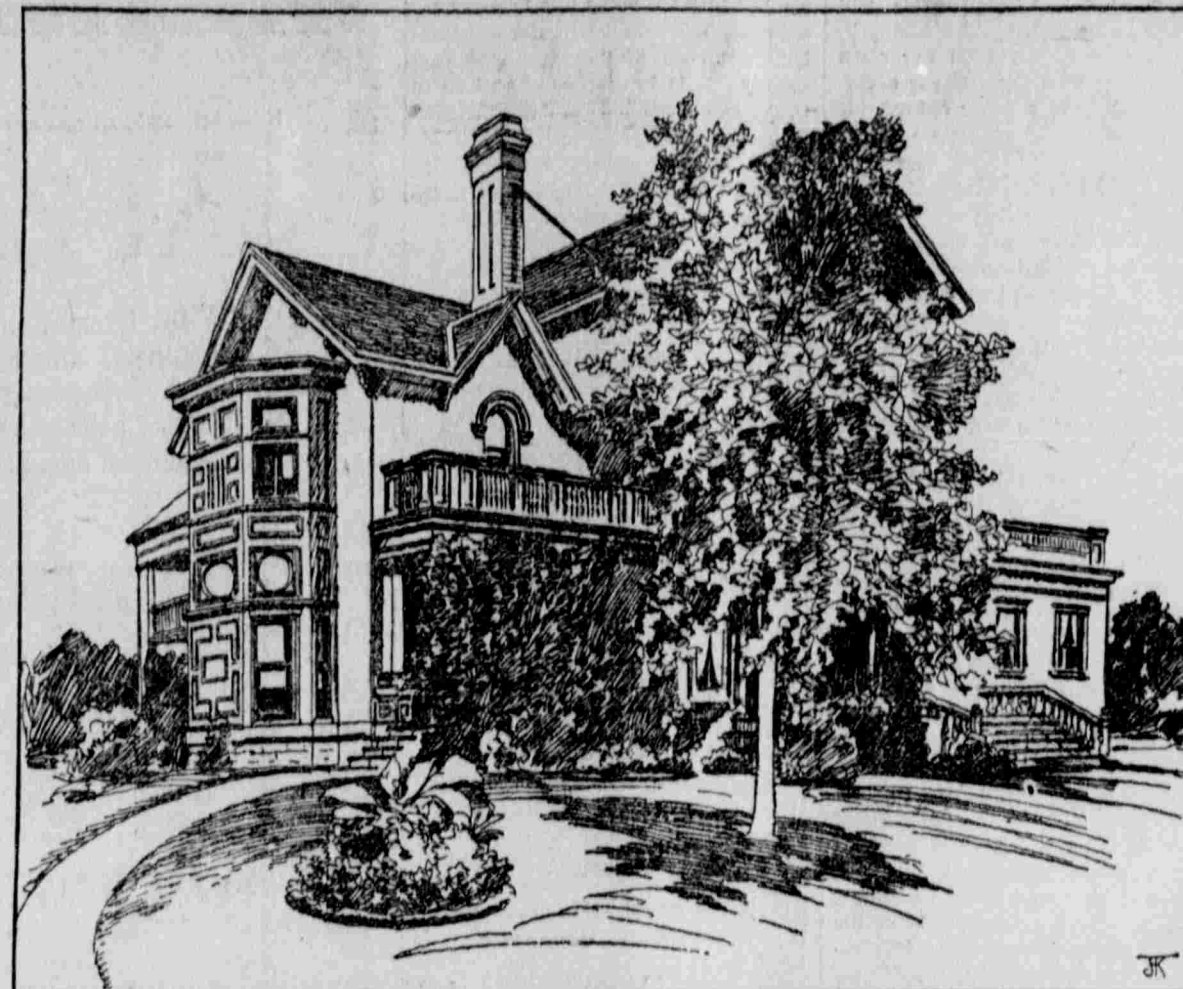

MUSCULAR PASTOR.
Muscles Built Up by Common Sense Habit.

"For years I have not been able to drink coffee, as it made me very nervous and gave me a headache. No one loved coffee more than I and it was a severe trial to abandon its use. Nearly three years ago I saw Postum Cereal Coffee advertised and concluded to try it."

"I have been so well pleased with it and its healthful effects that I have used it ever since. I carry packages with me when I visit other places."

"When I began to drink Postum, my muscles were flabby, but for the past two years my muscles have been hard and I never felt stronger in my life than I do now at sixty years of age, and I attribute my strength of muscle to constant use of Postum. I drink it three times a day. I feel so enthusiastic about Postum that I cannot recommend it too highly wherever I go. Wish you great success, yours truly," Rev. A. P. Moore, 474 Rhode Island St., Buffalo, N. Y.

The reason Postum builds up the human body to a prime condition of health is that when coffee is left off, the drug effects of the poison disappear and the elements in Postum unite with albumen of the food to make gray matter and refill the delicate nerve centers all over the body and in the brain. This sets up a perfect condition of nerve health, and the result is that the entire body feels the effect of it."

EXTRADITION OF EMMA GOLDMAN

Buffalo Police Have Made No Request For It Yet.

SHE WILL BE INDICTED.

Want Chicago Authorities to Have Ample Time to Make a Full and Complete Investigation.

Buffalo, Sept. 11.—The Buffalo police have made no request for the extradition of Emma Goldman, under arrest in Chicago on suspicion of complicity in the plot to murder President McKinley. Supt. of Police Bull and Dist. Atty. have had a number of consultations on the subject since the news of the woman's arrest reached them, but it is evident that they have not finally decided upon a course of action.

They want to give the Chicago police department time to make a thorough investigation at that end with the supposed confederate of Czolgosz in their custody and they are anxious that the recovery of President McKinley be positively certain before they go into court. They have on foot a general investigation aimed at showing that the Goldman woman was an accessory and apparently want more time. There does not seem to be any doubt that when the time comes a showing sufficient to warrant the extradition of the woman will be forthcoming. Czolgosz in his confession made on the night of his arrest, admitted that he had heard the inflammatory speeches and read the incendiary literature of Emma Goldman and since then both have admitted that they met. There may not be evidence to justify the arrest of the woman, but there is no doubt that an indictment can be secured against her.

The police are working to secure reports of the Goldman speeches that they have heard and copies of her pamphlets which were read by him, and they are also carefully investigating the circumstances under which they met. Discussing the case with an Associated Press representative, Supt. Bull said: "Any action as to Emma Goldman is in the hands of Dist. Atty. Penney, but I will say that no request for her extradition has been made."

The impression that an indictment is absolutely necessary to secure extradition is not correct, but most governors insist that there be an indictment. Nothing has been decided as to the time in the case and it is not until this time say what will be done. It would hardly be wise to make any move toward the courts until the result of the President's word is finally and definitely known. There will be no extraordinary grand jury called for the grand jury now in session here has all the power that is necessary. We have no one other than Czolgosz in custody in Buffalo."

"Are you depending entirely on the Chicago police for your evidence in the Goldman case?" the superintendent was asked.

"No, we are not," he said. "We are working on her case ourselves and are also operating with the Chicago department."

Want Restrictions Removed.
London, Sept. 11.—The Tokio chamber of commerce, says a dispatch from Tokio to the Times, has memorialized the Japanese government to remove all restrictions on the foreign ownership of land and foreign mining operations in Japan.

DEMONSTRATION OF RESERVISTS
Had No Bearing on General Spirit of the French Army.

Paris, Sept. 11.—The special dispatches published in London, announcing a riotous demonstration on the part of a number of reservists at Montcaulles-Mines were evidently grossly exaggerated. The incident at Montcaulles-Mines, which was of a trivial nature, has absolutely no bearing on the general spirit of the French army. The affair occurred Sunday evening, and passed almost unnoticed. Only three Paris papers alluded to it. Following are facts in the case:

A handy, socialist deputy from Montcaulles-Mines, obtained from the minister of war, Gen. Andre, the re-establishment of days of liberty for the reservists called to the colors for a month's training which leave had been suppressed by the local authorities. A number of reservists consequently spent the day at Montcaulles-Mines and took a train in the evening, a majority of the men being intoxicated, to return to the camp at Chalons-sur-Saone. On arriving at the railroad station at Montcaulles-Mines a reservist shouted to a gendarme, who was on the platform, "Down with the gendarmes!" The gendarme asked for the man's papers and wrote down his name. His comrades seeing this, began to shout, "Down with the gendarmes," and abused the police. The latter tried to arrest

LUCY PARSONS, THE ANARCHIST.

Admits Knowing Emma Goldman And the Isaaks.

CONDEMNED CZOLGOSZ'S CRIME

Deed of a Lunatic—The Trusts, Not the President, Responsible for Many of the Workingman's Wrongs.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Lucy Parsons, widow of the anarchist who was hanged for his complicity in the Haymarket riots in Chicago, was interviewed by a representative of the Associated Press after the arrest of Emma Goldman. Mrs. Parsons was found in the garden in the rear of her comfortable cottage in North Troy street.

Mrs. Parsons admitted that she knew Emma Goldman, stating that they first met in 1887 in Philadelphia, where Mrs. Parsons was on a lecturing tour.

"I have known the Isaaks," admitted Mrs. Parsons. "They came here from the Pacific coast in January and I have called at their home in Carroll avenue many times. I have not seen any of the family for several days."

Despite this statement, Mrs. Parsons displayed after a few moments' hunt the latest copy of Free Society, the editorial columns of which were filled with glorification of Bresci and his crime—the killing of King Humbert of Italy. Mrs. Parsons steadfastly refused to part with her copy of the paper, maintaining that it might be the "last issue."

Questioned as to the life of the Isaaks, Mrs. Parsons expressed much ignorance. She only knew that in some way they managed to issue the paper. They were persons of considerable originality, and managed to find printers who were willing to get out the sheet. She maintained that she did not know Mrs. Parsons declared that Czolgosz was undoubtedly a lunatic.

"No person of sound intellect," she said, "would assail the head of this republic. With only a few years to occupy the position of President what good could come of the attempted assassination? The President is the chief executive through popular choice and in view of the limited term of power conferred upon him, no person of sound judgment could dream of benefitting mankind by attempting the bringing about of his death. It could have been the deed only of a lunatic. I have never met Czolgosz. He was, I am sure, connected in no way with the persons under arrest in this city. It is true, however, he had visited Chicago and was acquainted with the Isaaks. But he was not supplied with funds by them, nor was he urged to do the shooting by any person connected with the circle. In Chicago, what could be gained by the wanton shooting of the President of the United States? Nothing. It is the trusts, the heads of the trusts, with whom we should now contend. The public citizen, as represented by the necessities of life are against whom the energies of all classes must be focused. Everything I wish to purchase for the household has doubled in price and its value in value is chiefly due to the manipulation of prices by combinations of capital. But with the President of this grand nation that has nothing whatever to do. Therefore, I say, Czolgosz in his mad crime, acted not as the agent of any circle of organized enemies of the government but strictly on his fevered imaginings."

"What can I say about my relations with the Isaaks? Nothing while they are in the hands of the enemy. I do not see how they can even be extricated. They have committed no crime. But while they are in the hands of the police they are in the hands of the enemy."

say it is believed the Loroand claim will soon be settled.

The attitude of the sultan toward the French claims is undoubtedly attributable to the action of the decree of the French minister of the interior in expelling Turkish sales from France. The decree has been held back for several days in the hope that the sultan, who naturally was aware that it had been drawn up, would take the hint, but the patience of the government was finally exhausted and yesterday Feridoun Bey, head of the Turkish police in Paris, and another agent were ordered to leave France. This step was followed by today's announcement that the sultan has settled the Tuhini claim.

Consul-General Stowe Returns.

New York, Sept. 11.—James G. Stowe, formerly consul-general of the United States to Cape Town, has arrived in New York and goes at once to Washington. He says that when he was officially given up his position by reporting to the Washington department he will have some news to tell about the Boer war. Until then, however, he declines to talk on the subject. Mr. Stowe says that when he took the position at Cape Town four years ago, the trade of the United States in South Africa was $5,000,000. Now, he says, it is $20,000,000. Commenting on this connection on the smallness of the salary of the consul-general at Cape Town Mr. Stowe said: "In the expansion of American ideas which mean to extend the field for American manufactures, something will have to be done to place our consular force on an equitable financial basis."

Killed by Midnight Robbers.
Leadville, Colo., Sept. 11.—Joseph Manshine, bartender at Dettler's saloon, in Stringtown, three miles from Leadville, was killed by robbers at midnight. Manshine was closing up the saloon when two masked men attempted to gain admission. In the struggle which ensued one robber drew a revolver and shot Manshine dead. Dettler, the proprietor of the saloon, pulled a gun and killed one hold-up who was not as yet identified.

Denver Boy Murdered.
Denver, Sept. 11.—Some weeks ago Homer Reahard, an 11-year-old boy, was found dead near his home in West Denver, with a bullet in his brain. He was thought to have been accidentally shot by a hunter but the police now believe it was a case of murder, and eight boys have been arrested on suspicion. They are: Sam and Casey Gaul, aged 14 and 12 years respectively; Chester John, aged 14; Ray Pool, aged 14; Henry, Charles and Roy Bruns, brothers, aged respectively 13, 14 and 12 years; and their cousin George W. Bruns, aged 14.

The detectives believe Reahard had quarreled with some of these boys, and that he was first stoned and then shot him. They claim to have the evidence of a boy whose name they refuse to give on which to base their theory.

Canton, Colo., Sept. 11.—Three convicts at the state penitentiary—Ed Caviness, sent up for murder; Frank Harris, for stealing beef cattle, and D. K. The overpowered Overseer King, and taking his carbine and revolver, and taking horses from the stable, started for the mountains. A large posse is following with bloodhounds. The men are expected to fight if overtaken.

Smuggling Dynamite into Canton.
Canton, Sept. 11.—Owing to the report that quantities of dynamite are being smuggled overland into Canton, the municipal officials are actively searching for dynamite.
