

EDITORIAL NOTES.

New Mexico has a salt lake from which Arizona is supplied with most of the salt which it uses. The lake is just over the line of Apache County, is half a mile long and 500 yards wide, is situated in a heavily timbered region and the saline waters arise from a number of springs at the bottom of the lake.

Messrs. Letts, Son & Co., the well known publishers of Letts' Dictionaries, are issuing a Popular Atlas in monthly parts at sevenpence a number. Each part contains three maps 17x14 inches. In one year the subscriber will have a perfect set of steel engraved and finely colored maps of the principal divisions of the globe, for the outside cost of a dollar and seventy-five cents. We have seen specimens of the maps and can endorse the favorable notices of them made by the English press. Published by Letts, Son & Co., 33 King William Street, London, England.

During a protracted meeting in Douglas County, Missouri, last week, a young girl was up at the mourner's bench, and her mother was one of the participants in the shouting and general stampede, and carried away by the excitement commenced beating her daughter in a terrible manner. The girl fainted away, but revived in a short time, when the old lady commenced pounding her again, and persisted to such an extent that the girl died in a short time. This is the kind of thing that some Methodists and others call religion.

The San Francisco Chronicle has published a handsome volume of sixty pages of close print on fine tinted paper, giving the history of the foundation, early struggles and well earned successes of that enterprising and widely circulated journal. We cannot say that we always admire the tone of the Chronicle or endorse its views and methods, but we accord to it a measure of praise as a wide-awake, vigorous and aggressive newspaper, which has been steadily built up from small beginnings, until it is a power in the Golden State.

A late number of the Kansas City Review gives an account of the discovery of the tomb of a mastodon in Jackson County, Mo. The tomb was known in the road bed, and had been known to the people for some forty years, they regarding it as a log of wood. The elements and the grinding process of wagon wheels as they passed over it, had destroyed the greater portion of the tomb, but some three feet were found to be sufficiently well preserved to bear transportation, and the relic is now in the cabinet of the Kansas Academy. Other bones were found, but few of which, however, could be removed.

A fellow owning the suggestive name of Devlin, has been exposing, in Michigan, the secrets of Catholicism. He claims to be an expert, and talks of the evils of the confession and other matters after the usual style of escaped nuns and converted monks. We take no stock in such pretended disclosures of Catholic or other apostates. Like the rest of them this fellow fancies himself a Michigan paper says: "Any person who will go about the country revealing, or pretending to reveal, the secrets which he has promised to guard with his life, may be set down as a fraud." Our sentiments exactly.

According to the last statistics published by the French Minister of Agriculture and Commerce, the population of the republic is 37,000,000, of whom 13,000,000 live in cities and the remainder in the country. There are in France 219,000 individuals who have no special profession, 71,500 beggars and tramps, 9,321,000 professional men, 3,377,000 persons engaged in navigation and commerce, 1,274,000 tradesmen and workmen, 2,137,000 bondholders, and 18,988,000 persons engaged in agricultural pursuits. Of the latter 10,000,000 are landowners, about 6,000,000 tenants, while 2,900,000 are market gardeners, viticulturists and the like.

A STANDING REBUKE TO EVIL.

A temperance lecturer in Nevada lately made quite a stir among the blubbery inclined young men of that State by urging the young ladies not to associate with youths who drink or play dominoes. The boys were worried a good deal over this, so the local papers state, fearing that the girls would unite in acting on this suggestion.

Is not this wise advice? Are young men who make a practice of frequenting saloons and who have formed a habit of using intoxicating drinks fit companions for a virtuous, pure-minded girl? Is there any reliance for the future to be placed on youths who contract such habits, and is any young lady warranted in trusting herself to the care and keeping of a young man who thus wastes his time and money, burns up his vitality, weakens his mental faculties, and blunts his spiritual perceptions with alcoholic drink?

We believe that if the young ladies of Utah were to take the good counsel of a woman of the same sex, and to follow the example of the former, they would have a marked effect upon the latter.

cannot receive a welcome at their hands, and will not be received into their society. Such a course would prove louder than a thousand sermons and be a standing rebuke to evil. Try it, ladies.

JOURNALISM.

The following, which we clip from an article in the Denver Tribune, true though it is, will not be very encouraging to youths ambitious to make their mark in the field of journalism:

"A man who has a keen, bright intellect makes a decided mistake in entering journalism. It is the most thankless of professions and the one which offers the most trivial rewards. Law, medicine—even general literature if he is possessed of versatility—are better. Those who enter it and reach positions which are at all respectable, and that editorial writing is the best of which they are capable, are few enough to write two or three columns of presentable English a day if there were no range is far wider. The 'leader writer,' as he exists in England is almost unknown in this country. Middle-aged and middle western papers have one man who holds such a position, but in most of the offices there is a queer jumble of city editor, night editor, managing editor, copy editor and editorial writer, which makes everybody about the establishment a jack-of-all-trades except those engaged in the reporting work. This being the case, the language of less writing done. The man who has the editorial as part of his duties has little time to think about style. The idea which he intends to convey is uppermost in his mind, and in which it is couched is usually made secondary. If hurried composition is hurried and bad manuscript gets through the hands of the compositor and proof reader in even respectable shape, the result is something to be wondered at instead of criticised."

ADULTERATIONS OF OLIVE OIL.

Among the many articles in general use that are unscrupulously spoiled by the cunning of the adulterator is olive oil. A large quantity of this oil is used in this Territory, principally for religious purposes, and it is highly desirable that it should be obtained pure and unadulterated with other ingredients. But in the "olive oil" of commerce, cotton oil occupies a prominent position. This is an extract from a wide-awake, vigorous and aggressive newspaper, which has been steadily built up from small beginnings, until it is a power in the Golden State.

A simple method is to watch the variety of shapes taken by different oils on the surface of water poured into a saucer. If the oil is genuine olive oil, the drop will take a regular shape, but in the adulterated and marked with bays and promontories. If it is the product of the black garden poppy, the form will be at first round, but quickly changing into a long, thin, irregular round the edge. The same result will ensue with rape oil, but the formation round the edge will be more pronounced. Cotton oil makes a precise and well-defined circle. If there are one or more spurious oils mixed up with the pure olive oil, the forms of the drops will resemble more or less the types above indicated, according to the relative proportion of the various adulterating substances. Oil which, when shaken in the bottle, assumes a permanent chapel of air bubbles will not be pure olive oil, but a mixture of bubbles are only temporary. They, therefore, be set down as a mixture in which rape oil predominates."

BY TELEGRAPH.

AMERICAN.

New York, 20.—The Tribune's London cable says: The question of the premiership almost monopolizes public attention. It is believed that Mr. Chamberlain is to resign immediately on the arrival of the Queen, whose absence the Standard knows as creating the dead cabinet, not only outside, but inside. Chamberlain positively what decision was taken on Wednesday. The sphinx affects mystery to the last, he pleading that constitutional obligations compel him to withhold the Queen with his determination, before the public, thus leaving the most favored party journals ignorant of his intentions. Private advices say that a perfect understanding exists between Gladstone and Lord Rosebery and Hastings respecting the leadership, all yielding to the overruling evidence that it is necessary for Gladstone to resume power.

THE MODERATE HOME RULERS.

The moderate home rulers rejoice at Mr. Shaw's election for the county of Cork, by a great majority, notwithstanding the efforts of Parnell to defeat him. The Parnellites members number 21, Mr. Shaw's followers 34. The strength of Mr. Shaw's hand exceeds the calculations in the Tories, show little inclination to accept his proffered alliance. It will be impossible for him to find support for his government scheme in this house and a threatened intention to resign is likely to meet with sterner resistance than Sir Stafford Northcote offered. The liberals express the intention to consider all the constitutional and routine business of the session, and they will mark their sympathy by acceptable appointments and possibly make Mr. Foster, Secretary, and Lord Dufferin, Lieutenant.

THE TRIUMPH OF THE PARLOR SPECIAL.

The Tribune's Paris special of Saturday says: Count and Madame De Lesseps and their three children are delighted with America. The count and countess are so conversant with the country that they can converse without language or war. They esteem Americans as the most hospitable people in the world. Lesseps thinks that the cutting of the Panama canal would not be nearly so difficult as that of Suez, and is resolved to demonstrate this in every great town in the world. If the United States government then sends him to the city of New Orleans, he will have the advantage against it, including all intelligent Americans. In conversation with a group of friends at Madame Adam's, he will carry on his enterprise in concert with the United States if possible, but if not, with the rest of the world, as it did Nordenskiöld; he is to lecture at the circus and be received to-morrow by the Geographical Society at the Sorbonne.

Key Spoken Of for Vice-President.

The Times Washington special says: A great movement is on foot to put Postmaster General Key on the ticket with Grant as Vice-President.

Sherman's House in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, 20.—Republican primaries to elect delegates to the Franklin convention were held in the wards and townships last night. The county convention only selects delegates to the State convention. Sherman and Blaine delegates were voted for and a very large vote was cast. Thirteen wards and seven townships have been heard from and Sherman carries all excepting one township. This will give him a majority in the convention. Blaine carries one ward in the city. All of the wards have been heard from and eight townships. Delegates stand as follows: Sherman 23, Blaine 11.

Chopping Hands Tightly.

DECATUR, 20.—While Grant stood on the sleeper to shake hands, a man named General threatened to kick him in the face if he did not get on. Kelly loosened his hold, and Grant could with difficulty be persuaded to grasp other hands.

THE FEARFUL STORY.

EX. LUTHER, 20.—A special to the Post Dispatch from Lebanon: The tornado which caused such frightful havoc at Marshall, last night, passed entirely through Green and Webster counties, following the course of the James river in a north-easterly direction. It struck the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad in four places, and left it near Frank's Station, a hundred and ten miles from the side of Marshall. The latter place presented a terrible appearance, there being more than a dozen dead and injured persons. The Court-house and many other buildings took fire, and the scene and effects were of a dreadful character. At one house two children were found dead, another badly injured but still alive. The parents could not be found. In another case a woman was lost entirely, and seems to have been carried away bodily. No details of the fearful scene have been received. The force of the wind stripped the bark from the trees, and lifted others entirely out of the ground, and telegraph poles and wires were carried off and rods into the woods, and tied and knotted among the limbs of the trees like cotton strings. Everything possible is being done to assist and soothe the wounded, not only at Marshall, but at other places. Physicians throughout the country are flocking to the points most injured and doing all they can to alleviate suffering. Doctors went from Springfield to James River country, six miles south, as well as to Marshall, and scores of kind-hearted people have volunteered as nurses. Captain Rogers, General Manager of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad, is sending special trains with relief, wherever good can be done, and all are doing everything possible to aid the injured and dying.
