

other man has done, and in this matter I have acted entirely for myself, to secure if possible a fair trial, and I will advise the right now that if any man will come to me and tell me that he knows where I can get a fair trial claim I will gladly pay him $200 for the information.

"I don't see how fraud could have entered this case. I know it did not in the dealings with me, and if I believed it did, I would tell you to the law any man offering a fraudulent proposition so quick that he would have to be a mighty tall man to make it get away."

Mr. Kimball was asked if he knew anything of the persons who alleged that they knew where the land was and who were to get the tip money, and he said he did not, nor anything about the extent of their operations. Asked if he knew whether they had solicited in places outside of Salt Lake, he said he knew nothing of it and had been surprised to learn of such solicitations in the papers.

BY WALTER J. POULTON.

Mr. Poulton has been mentioned as the person with whom some Salt Lakeers put their money in escrow pending the time they should secure title to timber claims in which someone, whom Mr. Poulton says he does not know, was to lead them.

"You can say for me," he said, "that I know nothing of the methods used to solicit in this matter, and that until I read it in the papers I did not know that soliciting was being done in Idaho, or Provo, or Ogden or Draper, or in connection with it being confined to friends in Salt Lake."

Mr. Poulton, like Mr. Kimball, was ignorant of where the persons who were to furnish the "inside information," or why the deal had not been carried to a termination.

Further reports on the matter are expected very shortly from Idaho and Utah, but none of them yet throw definite light on who the original tipster was, and how he organized the scheme in Utah. Meanwhile the government people continue to insist that the arrest of Thompson, who worked the Dorango scheme, explains the collapse of the Utah scheme.

TEAMSTER BADLY HURT

Man in Hospital Suffering from Internal Injuries as Result of Run-away This Morning.

A teamster named Black, residing on West Temple and Thirteenth South street, met with a painful and serious accident shortly before noon today in front of the residence of Judge C. B. Diehl of the criminal division of the city court.

Black was driving down the street with a load of malt when the traces on one of the horses became detached. This frightened the animals and they ran away. The wagon was thrown against the curb and overturned. Black was thrown to the sidewalk and received severe internal injuries. He was picked up and carried into Judge Diehl's residence. Physicians were summoned and ordered the man sent to his home. Later it was found that the internal injuries were of such a nature that Black would have to go to a hospital and he was sent to the D. S. hospital this afternoon. He was unconscious when picked up and at last reports was still in that condition.

MAN IS BADLY INJURED

Lawrence Cracraft Struck by Careless Bicyclist Scorching Down Main Street—Condition Serious.

Lawrence Cracraft, 12 Twelfth East, was taken to the L. D. S. hospital this afternoon in a comatose condition arising from injuries received in a collision with a bicycle about noon. Cracraft was crossing Main street in front of the Royal case when some criminal carelessness individual person came dashing down the street on a wheel. He ran square into the man on foot, knocking him to the pavement. The man on the wheel picked himself up and jumping upon his wheel rode away leaving the victim of the accident on the ground. Eye witnesses rushed to the unconscious man's side and when it was seen he was badly hurt the patrol was summoned. He was taken to the emergency hospital at the city jail and Dr. S. G. Paul called. Dr. Paul found a bad laceration of the scalp; concussion and a possible fracture the most serious of the man's injuries. He was cut and bruised about the body; also his injuries are serious and the attending physicians cannot say at this time that they are not fatal.

GARCIA ALARM IS ENDED

Deputy Sheriffs Sperry and Corliss Come Back from Nevada With Nothing But Sun-Burn.

Deputy Sheriffs Sperry and Corliss returned to this city this morning, sun-burned, tired and sand-blinded, but minus Garcia. They left Salt Lake Friday for Nevada to investigate "tips," which came in that the Mexican half-breed who figured in the Ford murder trial and who disappeared right after killing of the patrolman, on the night of Dec. 14, was working on a ranch near an isolated village called West-burn. The reports that the man wanted here was there were so persistent the two officers were sent to Westover. This place isn't on the map, and according to the returned deputies, it shouldn't be. It is miles off any railroad; has no telephone or wire communication with the outside world, and is surrounded entirely by burning sand with a hot sun overhead. The officers traveled a dreary, miserable country to find, upon reaching the ranch that Garcia was not there. The country abounds with Mexicans and the reports of one of the "peons" might have been to Garcia started the reports. Immediately upon reaching town the two officers reported to Sheriff Emery and the hired home where they could bathe and seek once more a downy cot.

ELDER DIES IN FIELD

John A. Southwick Succumbs to Typhoid Fever While Laboring in New Zealand.

A cablegram has just been received at the president's office, from Pres. Rufus K. Hardy of the New Zealand mission, announcing the death of Elder John A. Southwick, from typhoid fever.

Elder Southwick has labored in the Thames district, North Island, New Zealand, with Elder S. E. Hoadcock, for some time past and has been ailing over a month.

Pres. Hardy, writing under date of Feb. 15, stated that Elder Southwick was in the hospital, receiving every attention and that several elders and Sister Esther Linford were with him. The young man left for his mission in October, 1907, being called from the E. Y. university.

Elder Benjamin Goddard met him last year, and speaks highly of the missionary record made by him. His body is being sent home this month on the S. S. Marama, due at Vancouver April 5.

EXCITING EXPERIENCE.

Two Business Men From North "Haled In" at Ogden.

L. J. Lindley and David Athay, two business men of the north end of the state, had an interesting experience in Ogden yesterday on their way to this city. They were accompanying an elderly gentleman on his way home to Denver, and at the station were handing the man $50 and his railroad ticket, when an officer noticed the act. Thinking they were trying to hold the old man up by the vigilant guardian of the law placed them under arrest. There were three other officers, a police patrol and a crowd of perhaps a thousand people lined up to watch the march up street to the city jail when another officer by the name of Russell coming up, recognized Mr. Athay as an old friend, and inquired what all the to-do was about. Mr. Athay briefly explained the situation and the two men were released by the officious officer, with profuse apologies for his hurried conduct. The friends of Messrs. Lindley and Athay in this city are enjoying a huge laugh at their expense today.

HOT BLAZE AT THE ELKS CLUB

Firemen Chop Through the Roof To Get at the Flames.

THOUSAND-DOLLAR DAMAGES.

P. H. Irwin of Bell Phone Company Turns in Alarm and Department Makes a Quick Turnout.

Through the prompt action of P. H. Irwin, of the Bell telephone company, and a prominent member of the Elks lodge, the Elks clubhouse on State street was saved from probable destruction by fire at 11:30 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Irwin happened to glance from the phone building to the clubhouse at the time stated and noticed smoke issuing from the roof of the building. He did not wait to investigate, but unhesitatingly turned in a fire alarm. The department responded quickly, all the apparatus from headquarters rushing to the place. Had Irwin waited to investigate the chances are that the upper floor of the building and perhaps the entire structure would have been enveloped in flames in a few minutes.

The fire was caused by burning soot falling upon some canvas on the roof. The roof is covered with tin and that became red hot from the burning canvas and set fire to the woodwork in the attic.

Upon the arrival of the fire department members of the club started to work removing costly furniture and books from the building, but before this could be done a great deal of damage was done in that room.

GOOD TIME MADE.

The big aerial truck was on the scene and the 85 foot extension ladder raised in one minute and 35 seconds from the time it stopped in front of the fire. No water was used in fighting the fire but a line of hose from the chemical engine was run up the ladder and hand chemicals were also used. A considerable portion of the roof was chopped open to permit the fire fighters to get to the flames. After about half an hour's work and fire was extinguished. The principal damage done by the chemicals seeping through the roof into the library and is estimated by Secretary Raybold that the damage will amount to probably $1,000.

The building and contents are fully insured. The building is insured for $36,000 and the contents for $10,000.

First it was thought the fire had been caused by defective wiring, but after it was learned that burning soot caused the blaze. One of the wits about the club said that the fire was caused by the "hot number" which, he said, was such a "hot number" that it set fire to the building. It is a coincidence that the Booster was delivered at the place about 10 minutes before the fire alarm was turned in.

HIS DEAF FRIEND'S MISTAKE.

"I always late to tell a story," said a well known actor at a banquet, "because my listeners may have heard it before. What boredom that is for them, what agony for me! It is like the case of a friend of mine. He is deaf, but tries to conceal his deafness. One night at a dinner the host told a story about everybody roared, and my dear friend joined in and outcried the whole table, though in truth he hadn't heard a word.

"At the end of the laughter he held up his hand as a sign that he wanted to speak.

"That story," he began, "reminds me of another."

"And then the poor fellow went on and told the very same yarn the host had repeated only a minute before."

SHOCKS TO THE EAR.

ME COME AS FAR AS CEMENT WORKS

Twenty Get Off There and Walk The Rest of the Distance.

ACCEPT WORK IN R. G. SHOPS.

Warning Notices Are Posted About Yards to Strikers Who Stay Away Of Their Own Accord.

As yesterday afternoon's Rio Grande Western train from the coast was whistling the announcement of its approach in the local yards the depot platform was crowded with a throng of idle men down to "see the train in." As they waited the train stopped at a point near the Portland cement works, half a mile down the line, and 20 men got off. These men came to Salt Lake to work in the local shops, which have been practically deserted since a strike of shopmen was called. It comes from authoritative source that these men are not "strike-breakers" in the ordinary sense of the word. They are said to have been promised permanent work and not having union scruples or beliefs, were willing to accept employment without asking any questioning.

Rumor had it today that more men were coming into this city on No. 5, arriving at 1 o'clock but none arrived. Foremen in the local shops and those in nearby points are now out in obedience to orders received yesterday.

The strikers are stout in their assertions of confidence in their ultimate victory. They repeat their belief that the system is getting more and more crippled with each succeeding day. From Colorado comes a report that "country blacksmiths" were prevailed upon by the company to repair certain rolling stock.

TRAINS ON TIME.

I. A. Benton, general agent of the passenger department of the company here commented laughingly on this point. "You can quote me as saying those country blacksmiths must have been cracker-jacks as our trains are running on time to the dot today. No. 5, due to arrive here at 1 o'clock was on time exactly today and three sections of No. 1, the first due at 3:20 are reported on time all along the line. So you see we are getting along splendidly. Passenger and freight service are both being carried on as if nothing had happened."

When the noon whistle blew in the Rio Grande shops the neighborhood of 50 men appeared from the various buildings and scattered for lunch. A number were from the car yards, where they had been cleaning and overhauling cars. They went to their lunches quietly, and when through returned to their work, just as quietly.

WARNINGS POSTED.

The big board over the north shop door is still up. This sign of strike now shows honors with a number of placards tacked in conspicuous places about the shops, the most of which are dated March 16, and signed by A. C. Ridgway, general manager of the Rio Grande and Rio Grande Western, and warn all except those who are working for the company, to stay away from the company's grounds, and threatening those who violate the sign's commands with prosecution as trespassers.

ALL IS PEACEFUL.

No demonstrations of any sort whatever are being made by the strikers, and the present trouble so far has been of the most orderly and imaginable. The depot supervisors say the strikers are keeping away, so no trouble of the slightest nature is anticipated. A member of the strike publicly commented that every man was a committee of one to see that order is preserved and to prevent, if possible, any thing which would cast discredit upon the strikers. "It is usually outsiders—loafers—who create all the noise and trouble and we are not only watching ourselves but rowdies," is the way he put it. A report also out that he had been established by these men but this is not probable, especially in view of the quietude reigning over the scene of the strike.

MEN OBTAINED.

The company says skilled mechanics are plentiful throughout the country and no trouble is going to be experienced in filling every place necessary to operation. An A. P. dispatch from Denver this morning reads:

One hundred strike-breakers employed to take the places of the union boiler makers, blacksmiths and machinists of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, who are on strike, arrived in Denver this morning, and were taken to the Burnham shops which are guarded by a large force of special officers. Many more strike-breakers are said to be on the way from the east.

From Chicago comes this message: "We had two strike breakers left Chicago last night for Denver to take the places of union boiler makers, machinists, and helpers on strike at the shops of the Union Pacific and the Denver & Rio Grande railroads."

Meetings of the strikers—numbering about 225—are being held in Federation of Labor hall here daily.

LOCAL MARKETS.

In today's local markets there are fairly large receipts. Strawberries are back again, retailing at 25 cents per box, the prices of a number of vegetables have been slightly reduced; hay is down a notch, eggs continue plenty. Fish are more plentiful, but lobsters are now out of the market, as the season has closed to allow the crustaceans a chance to spawn. The car lots include bananas, two of mixed vegetables from southern California, a car of potatoes from Provo, and one from Cache, four cars of oranges which gives the markets a good supply, one of lemons, etc. Then there are Florida tomatoes, local asparagus, with express shipments of garden truck from Sacramento. ## LAST SUNDAY EVENING, IN THE PULPIT, A MINISTER OF ONE OF THE LARGEST CHURCHES IN SALT LAKE DISCUSSED FOR FULLY FIVE MINUTES THE MERITS OF McDONALD'S FAMOUS CHOCOLATES.

It was an unexpected eulogy on industry, concentration of purpose, modern equipment, system and cleanliness—business attributes necessary to the attainment of highest quality in a given article.

What a theme for a discourse!

It could have been made applicable to the struggles and upbuilding of humanity, looking to the ultimate rounding out of a strong, ideal life.

The minister did not specify Dutch chocolates for daintiness and quality; Rainbow chocolates or Bitter Sweets for perfection of quality; but the congregation—proud of the article of luxury which occupies foremost place in their homes, in the thoughts of young people, proud of a concern the importance of which the whole civilized world bows acknowledgment to—yes, they knew.
