LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

The Emigrants.—The coming company are still expected to reach this city to-morrow night, unless some unexpected delay occurs.

District Court.—Wednesday morning, July 17th.
United States vs. John Crane; indicted for purchasing public property from a United States soldier. Trial by jury in progress.

Water Increase.—The workmen engaged in operating for water in City Creek Cañon have advanced six miles from the mouth, and the increase of the water volume is already noticeable in the main channel.

Brotherly Consideration.—We understand the crops of persons who have settled upon the bench land, east of the city, are suffering for lack of water to mature them. They have petitioned the city for relief, but although the council would give any aid in its power, under the circumstances, it is compelled to decide that the petitioners have no legal claim upon the water, in that direction, their supply being subject to the will of those holding prior rights. Although this decision is legally correct, the parties have those rights which grow out of that brotherly consideration that should be felt by one man in relation to the welfare of his fellowman. If there is any water that can possibly be spared by the people located below the settlers upon the bench, it should be freely given to it, that they may suffer as small a loss as possible by the present drought. Perhaps, however, the "golden rule" has already been applied in this instance. Anyway, this hint will do no harm to any one.

The National Game.—The ban hall fever has not yet abated. Monday next will witness a trial of skill between the Deserets of this city and the Cheyenne Red Stockings, the club who were unsuccessful, last year, in defeating our local nines, but who, now, are confident, from the strong reinforcement they have received of bearing off the palm over all competitors. The skill of their pitcher and catcher, Messrs. Teding and Jones, and the powerful batting of the nine, generally, are said to be the strong points of their success. Three, or perhaps four, games will be played here, while the Cheyenne club remains. It is not yet decided whether or not the Red Stockings of Salt Lake will take part in the series, against them. If Utah is victorious over Wyoming in the coming contest, she already is over Colorado, the champion club of this Territory, which, on playing the closing game of our local series will be either the Deserets or Reds, will in all probability, visit Colorado and Wyoming, next month, and in October, the State of California.

Found Dead.—From the Junction of last evening, we learn of a young man named Levi Willis Bingham being found dead, on Sunday afternoon, in a field, about 30 rods south of the residence of Erastus Bingham, Sen., of Lynne, Weber County, by Chancy D. Gates and James Gardage. The deceased had been living at Father Bingham's up to the time of his death and on Wednesday afternoon, after eating a hearty dinner, had gone into the field to cut lucern. From that time, nothing was heard of him till the discovery of his body between 2 and 3 p.m. of the following Sabbath. The cause of his death is unknown, the corpse when found, having decomposed so far as to prevent this being ascertained, but it is supposed that an attack of apoplexy or of heart disease terminated his life. He was a quiet, inoffensive young man, and possessed the respect and good will of all who knew him. The remains were buried in the Ogden cemetery, Sunday evening, and a coroner's verdict was rendered in accordance with the facts elicited. The friends and family of the deceased have our earnest sympathy in their sad bereavement.

Returned Missionary.—This morning we were pleased to meet with our old friend Elder B. H. Schettler, who arrived from a mission to Holland, last night. He parted from the emigrating company of Saints at New York, coming along in advance, in consequence of having in charge the remains of Elder Joseph E. Hyde, who died, of consumption, on board the steamship Nevada, near the Newfoundland shore, while returning from a mission to England, in which country he only remained a few weeks. Elder Schettler delivered the remains of the deceased elder to his brother-in-law, Brother George L. Farrel, at Ogden. Elder Hyde leaves a wife and five children.

Elder Schettler left here August 21st, 1877, and before proceeding to Holland he visited London and portions of Wales. The readers of the News are already familiar with his movements and ministry in Holland, which we have several times alluded to. He labored diligently without being able to make much headway, the people being bound up in their false religious dogmas and very bitter in their opposition of the truth. He baptized one person, who has since come to Utah. Seventeen Saints have emigrated from Holland to this Territory this season.

City Council.—The Council met last evening, Mayor Little presiding.

H. A. Reed was granted an auctioneer's license for one year. The committee on streets and alleys, to whom was referred the petition of Wm. Ridd, reported that a compromise had been effected between the petition and the parties who had fenced in the streets by which he obtained the right of way to his premises, thereby rendering unnecessary any action on the part of the Council to secure the opening of the streets heretofore mentioned. Adopted.

The committee on public works reported that they had taken under consideration the matter of the compensation of Robert Smith regarding the labor performed by him for the city, and recommended that his wages be fixed at $3 per day. Adopted.

A petition, asking the privilege of occupying, during the pleasure of the Council, a portion of Fifth North Street, and offering to pay rental therefor, was received from T. W. Ellerbe. Granted.

Petition of A. H. Raleigh, asking the privilege of occupying a portion of Fifth North Street, was granted on the same conditions as those of the previous grant. The ordinance in relation to the equitable distribution of water for irrigation was referred to the committee on municipal laws, with the City Attorney associated.

The committee on irrigation reported in reference to the matter of water on the east bench, south of the insane asylum, setting forth that on August 28th, 1877, a report had been made on a similar petition regarding the water in that locality, being that the petitioners had no legal rights in the premises.

The committee to whom was referred the petition of Wm. Paul, tendering his services as inspector of buildings, reported recommending that the petition be laid on the table indefinitely.

Alderman Raleigh was appointed inspector of buildings for the city.

On motion of Alderman Fyfe, the water meter was instructed to ascertain what surplus water, if any, should be applied for the relief of the east bench petitioners. The Council adjourned till next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Theatre.—The theatrical entertainment, for the benefit of the New Tabernacle, in the Theatre, on the 24th of July, will consist of two vocal and instrumental concerts in the afternoon and evening; the one in the day time a matinee for the amusement of families, the other for the public generally. The choirs of several city wards have volunteered their services, and among the other attractions promised on the occasion are a cornet solo by Mr. Mark Croxall, a piano performance by Mr. Jos. J. Daynes, a dialogue by Miss Nellie Colebrook and Mr. D. McKenzie, and other exercises of a literary and musical character, by the best amateur talent of the city. We predict for the affair the success, which its object and prospective merit deserve, and hope the public will turn out in force, to enjoy themselves in celebrating the memorable day on which the performance are to take place.

Serious Shooting Affray.—The following special to the News has been received, per Deseret Telegraph line:

"SILVER REEF, Utah, July 17, 1878.
"Last night at 8 o'clock, a difficulty occurred between George Boyde and Joseph Birch, at Leeds. Three shots were fired, Boyde was seriously wounded. Birch gave himself up, and is now in charge of the sheriff.

AN INDIGNANT PROTEST.

Editors Deseret News:
An indignant and injured bar has been driven to open protest and to imperatively demand the removal of the present Chief Justice of Utah. This self-made obnoxious personage, after a brief absence from the Territory, during which no specific action for his removal has been made public by the authorities at Washington, has returned back and has the audacity, in the face of an almost unanimous impeachment by the Salt Lake Bar, to resume his seat upon the bench.

Is it possible, sir, if I wish publicly to ask, that as attorneys we are still to be forced, in the protection of the rights of clients, to attend the persistent call of the docket by an individual who well knows, if he knows anything, that neither client nor attorney has the smallest degree of confidence in his legal ability or in his appreciation of and adherence to true equity, and the high responsibility reposed in a Judge in determining and correcting the mischief between contending parties?

It is possible that litigants, whose causes of difference present interests involving thousands and millions of dollars, shall be compelled to submit them for adjustment to a chancellor who, through acts of palpable weakness and inexcusable incompetency, if not criminal indifference and carelessness, has literally become a stench in the nostrils of every member of the profession with but a solitary exception of two, and reasons for the exception being very apparent and a public blemish and by-word.

Will the department of justice tamely permit this state of affairs to linger, when the life, the homes, and the future destiny of families, as suspended as it were upon a single thread, and that thread the very legal and judicial authority of such a Judge, when insulted justice, by the unanimous voice of the whole people, demands a justification of the undesignated wrong imposed upon them?

Can a state of depravity so unprecedented in the annals of judicial history be tolerated? Is it to be tolerated that of a certain judicial luminary of Burlington, Iowa, requiring a forced expulsion, like an obstinate monstrosity, from the habitation of society—be imagined that the conservative of law and right does not reason demand that this unwelcome judge should not only immediately resign the position he has assumed, but tender that apology due to the Bar and to the public for the defendant resumption of his seat, under such charges, without explanation?

Should not this tramping upon the rights of a civil, wise, and noble community, and flagrant disregard of the solemn protest of a learned and worthy body of men, because his position gives him power to do so, call for such rebuke as shall make of his case a criterion for the future and one of lasting advantage in the national progress and judicial development of this fair Territory?

common, all-pervading principle of self-defense rise in its irrepressible majesty and protest against the cause and source of perversion? And finally, allow me to ask, can any honest attorney, true to his client, true to himself, true to his obligation as a conservator of the vital interests of the community to whom he owes his position, do otherwise than protest against the continued incumbency of Michael Schaeffer as Chief Justice of this Territory?
