FIVE YEARS IN THE PEN. Caleb Levy Gets Heavy Sentence for

Grand Larceny. Caleb Levy this morning pleaded

Caleb Levy this morning pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny in Judge Ritchie's division of the Third district court and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. The crime consisted in the theft by Levy of two pairs of pants, two gold watches, two watch chains and five gold rings from L. Webber. The plants were valued at $10 and $3 respectively, the other articles ranging in value from $1 to $25, bringing the total value of the stolen articles up to more than $50, thereby getting into the "grapd larceny" column.

for all time.

The accident occurred in lower Main street while Fuller was driving the Newhouse car at a high rate of speed—he says 30 miles an hour; others declare the clip was nearer 60 miles. A buggy in which were Adam Peterson, Miss Emily Walsh and a 4-year-old child was struck by the automobile; and while the horse was killed, the buggy demolished, and the machine more or less damaged, Fuller was the only person seriously hurt. With the latter were Henry Mayer, the bicycle rider, and two young women.

The horse, valued by its owner at The horse, valued by its owner at $225, was struck squarely in the breast, and received a terrible wound, as wal as having three legs broken. The mimal was shot by Policeman Harris. The buggy was valued at the same price as the horse, and both will have to be paid for, or suit for damages will be instituted.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater-The historic old playhouse threw open its doors for the new season-its forty-seventh, by the waylast evening, and the usual handsome retinue of first nighters was in at retinue or first highers was in ac-tendance. There was an odor of fresh-ness in the atmosphere and a sugges-tion of the spick and span everywhere which told that the house was fresh from the renevators. The tan of sun-mer was evident on a good many cheeks ethroughout the audience, that told of fresh returns from the mouncheeks ethroughout the audience, that told of fresh returns from the mountains, and throughout there was a breeziness and a chatty informality that made the turnouf take on much the character of a big re-union.

The play chosen for the opening was "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary" with May Robson as the central figure. In the years which have elapsed since Miss Robson was last seen in Salt Lake with the Frohman company, years

The main sentiment among her friends last night, was, one of regret that after all those years, she could have found nothing more ambitious than a light waisted skit like the one in question. Miss Robson, of course, brought out all the laughs it was possible for the part w produce, and she had a number of hearty recalls at the end of each curtain which evidenced her popularity with the audience, rather than any real enthusiasm over the comedy. The piece was handsomely staged, and the supporting company ranked from the fair to the average, without presenting anything unusually brilliant. The best instances of acting were contributed by Mr. Storey, as Jack, who besides is apparently a clever musician, and by Miss Saville as Lucinda. The others had fittle to do, except to play with vivacity and this they did in rattling fashion.

ETHICAL CODE REPUBLICANS

Female Suffragists Invade the Convention and Insist on Recognition in Platform.

DEMANDS WERE IGNORED.

Committee Favored a Restricted Suffrage in School Matters but Not Full Elective Franchise.

Oakland, Cal., Aug. 27.-The state Republican convention met here today with 500 delegates in attendance, and formed a temporary organization by the election of Thomas B. Dozier of Shasta county as chairman. After the appointment of the usual committees the convention took a recess until tomorrow, when it will permanently organize and choose 10 presidential electors. District conventions were held tonight at which two congressmen, six state senators and 10 assemblymen were nominated. A feature of the opening of the state convention was the presence of a delegation from the suffrage amendment league, consisting of 200 women prominently identified with the equal suffrage movement. Headed by Mrs. Theodore Pinther, the suffragists marched in a body to Segregation of taxes as proposed by the senate constitutional amendment No. I to be voted on at the next election, was commended.

The district primary was approved and the legislature pledged to carry out the promises of the party.

The demonstration of woman suffragists failed to influence the committee to incorporate a plank in the platform submitting to the people a constitutional amendment extending to women the right to vote equally with men.

The committee favored granting the women a restricted suffrage with the right to vote upon school matters, but not a full elective franchise. This was refused by the women.

Committee Presenting Report Says It's Duty of Lawyers To Prevent Litigation.

PRIVATE TALKS WITH COURT

Arguing at Such Times Merits of Pending Case Cause for Judicial Rebuke-Contingent Fees.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 27.-The mempers of the American Bar association today continued the consideration o committee reports and heard the report of the special committee on the classification of laws, on Indian legislation, on penal laws and prison discipline, federal courts, title of real estate, code of professional ethics, proposed copyright bill and proposed lawyers' home.

In presenting its code of ethics for the lawyers of the American har, the committee told the convention in clear and forceful language that it is the duty of the lawyer to prevent litigation, to make peace between those inclined to litigation and to diligently discourage among the laity the prevalent growth of disrespect for the courts. At the same time, the report continues, where there is proper ground for serious complaint of a judicial officer, it is incumbent upon the lawyer to submit his grievances to the proper authorities.

Under the new code it is made the duty of lawyers to prevent political considerations outweighing judicial fitness in the selection of judges and aspirants for judicial honor are directed to be governed by an impartial estimate of their ability. The practise of arguing privately with a judge as to the merits of a pending case is made a cause for judicial rebuke.

A lawyer must not acquire an interest by purchase or otherwise in the subject matter of the litigation he is conducting, and he shall at all times consider his profession a branch of the administration of justice and fix his fees accordingly, not overestimate them fees accordingly, not overestimate them or undervalue them. Suits against clients for fees are permissible only to prevent deliberate fraud. Ill feeling and personalities between counsel, bullyents for fees are permissible only to prevent deliberate fraud. Ill feeling and personalities between counsel, bully-ragging witnesses, newspaper discussion of pending litigation are marked as unprofessional. Fawning and flattering juries or jurors is in decided bad taste, and is entirely reprehensible, says the new code.

The code of ethics contains 32 canons and follows the Alabama code, which was made the basis of the work by the committee. The thirteenth canon, relating to contingent fees and containing words which apparently called in question the integrity of the system, was under fire for an hour and was adopted only in an amended form. As contained in the report the section read:

"Contingent fees lead to many abuses and where sanctioned by law should be under the supervision of the court." Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, led the fight against the clause asserting that under the present conditions of industrial development the contingent fee is imperative to the welfare of the working people.

W. J. Dickinson, president of the as-
