BIG CONFLICT IS NEVITABLE.

Serious Obstacles in the Way of Carrying Out the Strawberry Project.

LEGAL STRUGGLE EXPECTED.

Homesteaders Say They Will Not Submit to Diversion of Water Without a Protest.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

Vernal, Utah, Jan. 10.—The project to make a great reservoir of the strawberry valley, by the storage of water from the Strawberry river, and Curran creek, which has been endorsed by the government engineers, is being closely watched on this side of the range; and it seems certain that there will arise grave and serious complications over the matter in the future.

BIG LEGAL STRUGGLE.

These people who have entered their lands and tied on the water in good faith, will not submit to the diversion of the water to the west side of the range without a big legal struggle, for it is quite generally understood that the object of the promoters of the Strawberry project is not only to store the water in the normal flow as well.

EXPENSIVE CANAL NEEDED.

To reclaim this land will necessitate an expensive canal, containing an outlet of over $8,000 to $10,000, or $12,000, per acre. The land is of fine quality, and entirely free from alkali, and will justify this cost.

WILL FIGHT FOR RIGHTS.

That the success of the Strawberry reservoir schemes will sound the death knell of the homesteaders in this county, whom it is certain that this canal will be undertaken, and when an attempt is made to interfere with the flow of the Strawberry river, these people will be ready to fight for what they believe are their rights.

WHOLE SECTION INVOLVED.

Just as certain as the sun shines, the pushing of the Strawberry project will involve the whole of northeastern Utah in one of the biggest and most diversified legal contests in the history of irrigation in the west.

A POINT OF ATTACK.

The filing on the waters of the Strawberry river, which was done before the opening of the reservation, by the Utah County people, will be made a point of attack, and the contention will be made that the state engineer did not have jurisdiction at that time, over the waters of the reservation.

Have You a Good Dictionary? Just think what a small proportion of the families of the United States have a good DICTIONARY, and yet this is the home of the public school, the land of universal education.

Webster's Unabridged Dictionary (1903 Edition) The Best of its kind— BECAUSE it is used as the standard by the United States Supreme Court and by nearly all of the Federal and State Courts.

BECAUSE it is the standard in the United States Government Printing Office at Washington, and in the executive departments generally.

BECAUSE the schoolbooks of the country are based upon it—25,000,000 issued annually—so that the children are educated in accordance with its principles.

BECAUSE in every instance where State purchases have been made for the supply of public schools, Webster has been selected.

BECAUSE it is heartily recommended by nearly all the Presidents of Universities, Colleges, and Seminaries, and by every State Superintendent of Schools now in office.

BECAUSE it is warmly indorsed and commended by men and women of recognized authority in literature, education, and science, all over the world.

BECAUSE of its adoption by the English Government as the standard in the Postal Telegraph Department—the only department having an absolute standard.

BECAUSE its sale in Canada and other English Colonies is largely in excess of the sale of all other dictionaries of similar scope.

BECAUSE it is used as the standard by a vast majority of the newspapers. Thousands of statements to this effect are on file with the publishers.

BECAUSE of its very wide use in Great Britain, on the Continent of Europe, in Turkey, India, Australasia, South Africa, China, Japan, South America, etc., etc.

BECAUSE it has wider acceptance and is more generally adopted in actual use as a standard authority than any other lexicon in the world.
