ANNUAL CONFERENCE.

To the Officers and Members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day

As the Sixth of April, the day ap- among the Saints in this city who can pointed for holding our Annual Conference, falls on Sunday, we deem it proper to commence the Conference meetings on Friday, April 4th, 1884, at 10 o'clock a.m. at the Large Tabernacle in this city.

Trusting this arrangement will suit the convenience of the officers and to "entertain strangers" at Conference Saints generally, and that there will be a punctual attendance at all the meetings, to which you are hereby invited, We remain your Brethren,

JOHN TAYLOR, GEORGE Q. CANNON, JOSEPH F. SMITH, First Presidency of the Church Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. SALT LAKE CITY, March 12, 1884. ---

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Defnocratic editors are well divided on the Presidential question. The editor of the Courier-Journal is for McDonald, the editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer is for Payne, the editor of the St. Louis Republican is for Morrison, the editor of the New York Sun is for Tilden, the editor of the Washington Post is for Bayard, and the editor of ded, in any event, that some action on the Philadelphia Times is for Randall. the subject is necessary. ...

A partial translation of the manuscript entitled the "Teaching of the Twelve Apostles" has already been made, and the whole is soon to be given to the public in a version by Dr Hitchcock and Prof. Brown, of the Union Theological Seminary. This manuscript, discovered at Constantinople, in 1875, by Bishop Bryennios, of the Greek Church, was first published by him in 1881. It is supposed to have been written in the early part of the second century, and scholars claim that the internal evidences of its gen- and we have no doubt of their final uineness are beyond dispute. It does victory, the clear right being on their not, of course, pretend to canonical authority, but it is of value as illustrating the principles and practice of the primitive church on various disputed points.

An exchange says that Bradford, Pa., has a new city engineer, who is a native of Japan. His name is T. A. Mats-He is a son of a nobleman, came to diminishing the volume of water being this country in 1870 at the expense of one which has been in lively dispute leave from his father to stay here for a few years to practice civil engineering. Leave was refused, and he was told to come home at once or his allowance would be stopped. He concluded to face the situation and stayed, obtaining work as assistant engineer on the Manhattan Elevated Railroad in New York City, and afterward was appointed and served for three years as chief to tolerate him. In a case such as that in Wyoming, Idaho and Montana.

One of the great worries of editors his attempted seizure of property to is prolixity in the productions offered which others have so clearly a superior for their inspection, Some men's minds are constructed so that they do for kloubt that the bona fide settlers not know how to stop. Stopping at the right place is a great art, but one land dispute. That this will be the that young writers should master first outcome of the contest is the wish of of all. Better to be too brief than too ong, Brevity, in this work-a-day world, is a good thing in all sorts of compositions. To all literary aspirants we offer this advice, in a kindly spirit, and believing that it will help them along: Say what you have got to say as briefly as you can, and when you made, by eight masked men, to rob a have said it, stop. THE influx of people from all parts of the surrounding country at General Conferences is of gigantic proportions. Each half year swells the numbers and for a year or two past many visitors to those gathering shave been unable to find lodging accommodations. The hotels have been literally packed, and while hundreds have been entertained in private families, among friends and acquaintances, quite a number were still inable to find places wherein to lay

It appears necessary that some steps should be taken to prevent, as far as possible, inconvenience of this character in future. There are two plans that suggest themselves at this moment. The first is for every private family do so to accommodate one or more visitors, showing that hospitality which is generated and enlarged by the spirit of the Gospel. The Saints are so hospitable and kindly that it may seem almost superfluous to offer this suggestion, but it may serve the do so to accommodate one or more purpose of an incentive to those who have until now falled times not from a lack of disposition, but on account of not being impressed with the urgency of the step.

There are members of families that we know of in this city, whose premises are literally crowded during conferences, and instead of the situation being viewed as a cause for annoyance, it is looked forward to with pleasure, there being to people in whose hearts the kindly teeling wells in this city. UTAH LAKE LAND DISPUTE.

PUBLIC indignation in Utah County is ers" who are attempting to wrest a large track of valuable land bordering Utah Lake, from the bong fide settlers and claimants. At the time the government survey was made on the land adjacent to that body of water, the edge of the lake was much higher than now, but the government line was made as close to it as practicable. As the lake receded, a strip of valuable unsurveyed up and used by people whose properties, for which they had obtained beautifully illustrated, and can be had titles, adjoin it up to the surveyed

It is this unsurveyed stretch of land, which has been settled upon by the people, that the land-jumpers are atattempting to selze and on which they have unsuccessfully endeavored to erect buildings in order to give color to their claims. We are informed that the principal parties at the head of this land-jumping movement are a man named Pitts, proprietor of a low resort on the State Road, near this city, known as Pitts' gardens, and

"Tom" Vincent, of Provo. The bona fide settlers of the land in dispute will fight the issue to the end, side. They have taken steps in the proper quarter to have the land surveyed by the government and to secure titles to it up to the meander line of the lake. Not only have the settlers upon the land used, improved and fenced it, but they have been at considerable expense and trouble in taking steps to keep the daira, and he is the first Japanese to lake down so as to make the land availhold civil office in the United States. able, the question of increasing or his parents, and was destined for a between Utah County and Salt Lake high position under the Japanese gov- County for several years. The land ernment. After graduating he asked has thus actually been produced by them, so far as its eligibility is concerned, its remaining covered with water indefinitely being, by their action, prevented.

The genus land-jumper is in bad odor in every community. He is looked upon as little if any better than a highwayman, and no respectable portion of the people can afford engineer of the Union Pacific Railroad in which the Utah County settlers are interested, he appears in his most obnoxious phase, because of the absence of a glimmer of legitlmate excuse for claim. There is but little if any room every lover of fairplay.

Newcomerstown, O., 28.—A peculiar malady termed "Grub" is just now carrying off many of the sheep in this section, and sad havoc is being made among some of our wool growers' flocks. The disease is caused by a worm called a "grub," and is very distressing. An egg of a worm is deposited in the nostrils of a sheep in July or August by a peculiar kind of fly, a grub hatches out in March and begins burrowing toward the brain, which, when penetrated, kills the animal at once.

Chicago, 28.—The first through party from the City of Mexico, over the recently completed Mexican Central Railway, arrived here from Kansas City this morning, in a special train over the Burlington road. The party is made up jointly of Americans, who have been visiting the Mexican capital, thirty students, who left for Notre Dame University, in Indiana, this morning, and a few Mexican merchants.
