

Quarterly Conference.

The quarterly conference of the Box Elder Stake of Zion was held in the Brigham City tabernacle, January 22nd and 23rd, 1893.

There were present on the stand the Presidency of the Stake, the High Council, a good representation of the Bishops of the various wards, and Elders Goulden Kimball, Harry Mathews and Deaconess Duncan, as visitors.

The time of the two meetings held on Sunday, January 22nd, was taken up by several of the Bishops, who reported the condition of their various wards, and by Prof. Angus M. Vance, who spoke of the temptations coming into our midst to lead away our young people. The young should be made to realize that talents are placed in them by proper instruction and training. To obtain the best results, theology should be taught together with the other branches of education.

Acting Superintendent Peter Baird reported the Sunday school of the Stake as being in a good condition. The children are well cared for and are making good progress.

Elder Goulden Kimball said our young people are surrounded with temptations now that have never been known before. They will get their knowledge just as every child gets it, and will not obtain knowledge and salvation through the labors of their parents.

On Monday, January 23rd, two well attended meetings were held. Bishop Abraham Zanzili reported the Ward as being in a good condition, also spoke of the methods we should extend to each other. If we will not forgive or be forgiven we can not expect the Lord to forgive us.

Elder Duncan, who Mathews said they were called to labor in the interest of mutual improvement in Box Elder and Weber Counties. Give some excellent instructions to the young people regarding the responsibilities resting upon them.

President Hedges Clawson reported that the presidency of the Stake had visited all the wards in the Stake since our last quarterly conference and found a good feeling existing throughout the Stake. There are but few difficulties to be settled by the High Council or by Bishop's courts. Advise the people to pay their tithes and their offerings and to live holy lives preparatory to their entering the Salt Lake Temple in April next.

After the opening of the afternoon service were taken up principally by the remarks of Elder Zanzili, and Charles Kelly, both of whom gave fatherly counsel and instructions well adapted to all present.

Elder Goulden Kimball occupied thirty minutes in a very logical and pleasing manner. Said we were left to do as we please, and if we make any mistakes we must pay for it ourselves. Advise the Saints to live Godlike lives, that we may not fall short of that which is ours has been promised to the faithful.

After the choir had sung an anthem and benediction pronounced, the people dispersed, and the meeting was well paid for meeting together.

It is a matter of common knowledge that India rubber goods even of the highest quality are perishable. Although not subject to any great wear and loss the time comes when the rubber loses its elasticity and becomes soft and rotten. Millions each perished rubber has represented a waste material for which no one could be found, but by a process recently invented the perished rubber can be made, it is said, once more serviceable.

Which incubator to buy is another problem that confronts the beginner. Some argue in favor of hot water, while others favor hot air machines. The truth of the matter is both are good. Hundreds are in use by practical poultrymen, and the reliability of the machine features is well known. We do not recommend any special incubator as superior over another. The reason for this is obvious. To those contemplating the purchase of such an incubator we advise not to delay, but to buy as soon as possible. This will give an opportunity for studying and visiting the machine and may save considerable disappointment and many valuable eggs later on.

A Useful Arrangement.
A farmer who believes in the practical benefits of having a place for everything and then keeping everything in its place has arranged a corner of his barn as shown in the sketch here reproduced from Farm, Stock and Home. He says the arrangement has saved him many dollars.

PLACES FOR VARIOUS THINGS.
It contains old hats, boots, brushes, shoes, clothes, clock springs, keys, rings, bits, pieces of copper, steel and brass, iron, wood, glass, china, etc. This farmer says, "The great mistake most farmers make when they get a saving streak and attempt to establish a scrap heap is that they put the big, in one place, the shovels in another, and the hammer, wrench, screw driver, pliers, etc., in another, instead of bringing them all together."

All the carpenters in the place, who stand at the doors of the dining room of the large hotel in charge of the hotel, which are left outside by the guests is very striking. Some of them perform really wonderful feats of memory in the way of identifying the hat of each person, although they do not see the guest more than once, and that for only the instant when he passes to leave his hat behind him as he enters.

At a hotel on the Maine coast is a clerk who is famous among the guests for never making a mistake, although sometimes the guests have tried to puzzle him by going in in groups and by wearing hats which he has never seen. One day one of the boarders talked with him about this power and the waiter said that he had acquired it by long practice.

"And do you never make mistakes?" the question inquired.
"No, sir, I don't call to make no mistakes," was the answer.
"And do you give every man his own hat?"
"Oh, yes," returned the waiter.
"Isn't some of 'em liable to lose the hat?"
"I give to every man the hat he gives to me," Boston Courier.
