

VICTOR EMMANUEL ARRIVES IN ROME

Will Proceed Thence to the Scene of Assassination.

PUNISHING THE ANARCHISTS

What Can Be Done in This Line—
Career of Bressi—His Family Disgusted by His Crime.

Rome, August 1.—King Victor Emmanuele III and Queen Helena arrived here early this morning and proceeded to the city where they will arrive this evening. The ministers met their majesties at the railway station.

FINALITY FOR ANARCHIST PLOTS.
New York, Aug. 1.—Anarchist plots against the king in this city, according to statements by the district attorney, are now to be punishable only as misdemeanors. The penalty for a misdemeanor may be a fine of from $1 to $100, or imprisonment of from one day to one year.

There is no law, said Assistant District Attorney Forbes J. Hennessy, against directly with anarchists. Their plots and threats, though, are covered by the conspiracy laws, and that section of the penal code dealing with unlawful assemblages. Conspiracy to commit a crime is a misdemeanor, as is the assembling with intent to commit any unlawful act.

"But the crime of murder should be committed outside the State, in accordance with the plans of a conspiracy formed in the State, the offense could be indicted here for murder in the first degree," said.

UNITED STATES CANNOT PROSECUTE.

New York, Aug. 1.—There is little that the United States can do in the way of aiding the Italian government in prosecuting those engaged in the assassination of King Humbert. It is the duty of the United States to protect its own citizens, and it is the duty of the Italian government to protect its own citizens.

There is no such provision in the treaty between the United States and Italy. It would, therefore, be impossible to grant a demand from the government of Italy for the extradition of any person in the United States who may have been engaged in the assassination of King Humbert.

It would be impossible to grant a demand from the government of Italy for the extradition of any person in the United States who may have been engaged in the assassination of King Humbert.

CONSPIRATORS ARE EXEMPT.

It would be practically impossible for the United States to surrender to the Italian government as a matter of course any of the alleged conspirators, as if the attempt should be made, it would constitute an application to the United States for a writ of habeas corpus.

While persons engaged in this country in a conspiracy against the head of a foreign government could not be punished as conspirators, they could be punished as persons engaged in a conspiracy to kill the President of the United States or even a threat to kill him could be punished as a conspiracy to commit a crime.

FERRETING OUT ANARCHISTS.

New York, Aug. 1.—The leaders of the Italian colony which has settled on the shores of New York harbor are taking steps to ferret out and bring to justice those anarchists, who they believe are directly or indirectly responsible for the killing of King Humbert.

The better class of Italians discredited in Monday even the suggestion that the assassin of King Humbert, the assassin of the king, was in any way backed by a local society.

FLOTTED IN NEW YORK.

Rome, Aug. 1.—There is no doubt in my mind that the assassination of King Humbert was planned here. It is the duty of the Italian government to protect its own citizens, and it is the duty of the United States to protect its own citizens.

There is no such provision in the treaty between the United States and Italy. It would, therefore, be impossible to grant a demand from the government of Italy for the extradition of any person in the United States who may have been engaged in the assassination of King Humbert.

CAREER OF THE ASSASSIN.

New York, Aug. 1.—The World's correspondent at Florence, Italy, yesterday made a trip to Prato, where he obtained a detailed account of the antecedents of Bressi, the assassin of King Humbert, and of his movements prior to the assassination.

Gaetano Bressi was born November 10, 1869, in Ciano, a mile from Prato, a small town in the province of Florence. He began work as a shoe-maker but studied in a technical school at Prato for a time, and thus became a shoemaker, which avocation he followed for nearly 20 years at Fabroni's large factory in Prato.

After a strike in 1892, he left Prato and went to work in Ciano's factories at Florence. A year later he returned to Prato, where he was employed in Zoloni's mill. He must have been of a restless, roving disposition, for he left Prato again for Lucca on January 22, 1898, and sailed from Genoa for New York on February 22 of the same year.

Bressi returned to Prato on June 4 last, and about that time the Italian consul in New York advised the authorities in Italy that Bressi had interpreted himself in an anarchist newspaper published at Paterson, N. J., edited by Ciancabelli and Malatesta, revolutionary Italians.

Bressi travelled from New York via Paris, and on June 14, applied to the municipal authorities of Prato for a birth certificate that he might secure a permit to carry arms. This was refused because of his character and past offenses, which he had committed against the municipality.

On June 15 he secured a passport for New York, describing himself as a shoemaker. Early in July he went to Castle San Pietro to visit two of his young nieces.

On the evening of July 18, he took the train for Milan via Bologna.

BROTHERS CONDEMN HIM.

Bressi is tall and slender with an olive complexion, dark eyes and a slight mustache. His mother died in February, 1881, and his father in 1895. The assassin has two brothers, one Lorenzo, a shoe-maker at Ciano, 13 years older than himself, and the other Angelo, for whom the murderer appears to have been at first mistaken. Angelo is eight years older than the assassin, and is a lieutenant of artillery, stationed at Ciano.

Lorenzo Bressi, interviewed at Ciano by the World's correspondent, said:

"I knew of Gaetano's anarchist opinions, but never attached any importance to them. I always thought him a quiet, good natured fellow, though unsettled."

"For my part I curse the anarchists, my opinion being that for workmen like us the chance to eat, drink and work should be secured, and I think much about politics. Gaetano, who was always interested in such matters, was quite peculiar in our family in that respect."

The police today visited Lorenzo's house and took charge of the murderer's belongings, including a target at which he practiced with a revolver.

BRESSI FAMILY DISTRESSED.

The family is deeply distressed at the disgrace which has fallen upon their name. They showed Gaetano's photograph to the World's correspondent as proof of his quiet appearance, and exhibited a letter recently received from him for the purpose of showing that he made no reference to the assassination of King Humbert.

Gaetano's old nurse, Maria Belli, was also appalled and grief-stricken by the crime which her foster son had committed.

"He was always good hearted and of a sweet disposition," she exclaimed, "and he was a very good worker."

The town of Prato is draped in mourning flags for the murdered king. Manufacturers are closed and troops have been ordered there. The police are actively on the lookout for possible accomplices of Gaetano. He had many anarchist friends in the town, who are under police surveillance, and although his relatives naturally enough pretend not to know him, the police are generally well known to his relatives and friends.

He disliked him for his sinister and brooding disposition, which was much accentuated on his return from America. He seemed to have sufficient money but made no display of it.

ITALIANS WILL PROTEST.

San Francisco, Aug. 1.—There is to be a general mass meeting of the Italians of this city to publicly express their sentiments regarding the assassination of King Humbert. Ceremonies will probably be conducted here simultaneously with those celebrating the last rites, over the dead sovereign in Rome. It is the intention to fire a salute of 101 guns, the state salute, on the occasion of the death of a king in Italy. Business places and shops of Italians throughout the city will be closed.

MORDED THE ZIONISTS.

Columbus, July 31.—Last night a mob stormed the residence in Mansfield, O., where four Zionist elders were holding services, and captured the elders. Two of the men, A. McFarlane of Marion, and G. F. Stevens, of Chicago, are now in the city, and were released. The others, E. P. Fisher and A. W. McClurkin, of Chicago, refused to make such a promise, and the mob, after stripping them of their clothing, and having subjected them to a beating, paraded them through the streets.

Today John Alexander Dowie, head of the Zionists, telegraphed Gov. Nash from Montague, Mich., asking protection for the elders at Mansfield. The governor communicated with the sheriff of Richland county, who replied that the elders left town at noon, and that everything was quiet.

"My wife used several bottles of S. S. S. as a blood purifier and to tone up a weak and emaciated system, with very marked effect by way of improvement."

"We regard it a great tonic and blood purifier," F. Durr, Princeton, Mo.

is the greatest of all tonics, and you will find the appetite improved, strength returns, and nervousness vanishes as new rich pure blood once more circulates through all parts of the system.

S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known. It contains no minerals whatever. Send for our free book on blood and skin diseases and write our physicians for any information or advice wanted. No charge for medical advice.
