LOCAL BRIEFS.

The members of Mrs. Lee's Bible class of the First Methodist church will be entertained this evening, at a social at Mrs. Lee's residence.

The flour and grain trade has continued good during this month, and the reduction in prices does not seem to have cut much of a figure after the winter.

John Bachman, the man who was dangerously wounded in the Christmas row at Eureka, continues in a precarious condition at St. Mark's hospital.

While the present cold snap has stopped laying concrete at the Y. M. C. A. building, the work of excavation continues, and concrete laying will continue during lulls in the cold weather.

Five boys named Joseph Morrison, Robert Tuline, J. H. Green, Herbert Dietman and Fred Kette were arrested by the police last night for disturbing the peace by cutting in front of the Keogh-Wright hospital, and refusing to desist when notified that their noise disturbed the patients.

Laying stone has stopped for the season on the Federal building, but the steel construction for the new M. H. Walker works and carvers will be kept at work all winter, so that when warm weather returns in the spring, there will be a large amount of stone ready for immediate setting.

W. P. Noble has returned from Wyoming and reports the ranges in the southern part of the state as in a very favorable condition for livestock this winter, especially as the number of sheep on the range has been unusually reduced, so that less range feed is required.

Grieving over the death of her child for more than a year, hastened the death of Mrs. Susanina Gebhardt yesterday, the mother of the child who died being liver disorders. The funeral will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m., from the chapel of Joseph W. Taylor, with interment in Mt. Olivet.

Very elegant designs for stained glass windows for the new M. H. Walker mansion have been received by Architects Ware & Treganza from the art studios of Tiffany & Co., New York. The designs are of the most brilliant of grapes so arranged as to command at once the admiration of any one with any eye to the beautiful in art.

As Andrew Howard, the colored porter of the Elks club was going home at one o'clock this morning, after closing the club, he saw a figure standing in one of the front windows. Suspecting burglars he notified the police, and a search revealed heel prints in the same window, and an open basement door, but the intruder had evidently been scared away.

Mrs. Lucy M. Brown, wife of George Brown, an employee of the Daynes Music company, passed away Thursday at the family residence, of a heart ailment, after suffering for some time. The deceased was an estimable woman and had a host of friends who will be pained to hear of her demise. She left a husband and five children. The funeral was held from the Second ward meeting-house yesterday afternoon.

Salt Lake stands thirty-first in the list of cities whose bank clearings are chronicled by Bradstreet for the week ending last Thursday evening, the figure given being $3,947,053, an increase of $5 per cent. The week seems to have been an unusually prosperous one, for there are only eleven cities where a decrease is noted. The heaviest increase was at Decatur, Ill., where the figure was 145.5 per cent. Business seems to have been generally good throughout the country.

A barber shop belonging to John Morford, at 162 West South Temple street, was burglarized last night and a quantity of barber's supplies valued at about $15 stolen. The thieves stole seven razors, some shears, combs and brushes and some soap. Entrance was gained by breaking open the front glass door. The matter was reported to the police this morning and a description of the stolen property was furnished. Officers are at work on the case and hope to recover the stuff.

Special Christmas services were held yesterday morning in the Westminster Presbyterian church with an appropriate sermon by Rev. J. Richelson, the pastor. An excellent musical program was given at both services. In the morning the ladies' quartet, consisting of Misses Margaret Harley, Rosie Smithson, Katie Johnson and Leland Clayton, rendered "Calm Listening on the East." In the chorus the quartet was assisted by tenors and basses. At the evening services "Hark, Hark, My Soul" was rendered by Mrs. Richardson, Miss Smithson, Miss Johnson, Mrs. Lulu Maynes, soprano obligato; Miss Harley, mezzo solo, and Miss Clayton, contralto. The male voices were Messrs. Henderson, Pinkerton, Walker and Quay.

We pay 4 per cent interest per annum on $1 to $5,000. Zion's Savings Bank & Trust Co., Joseph F. Smith, President; George M. Cannon, Cashier.

Amusements

There were lively times around the front of the Salt Lake Theater this morning. In addition to the advance sale for Marie Wainwright and Lulu Glaser, which was going on at the regular box office, the Patti sale opened across the lobby at the east box office. Not since "Ben Hur" has there been such a rush, and of course, by far the greater part of it was for the Patti sale. The line stretched out of the lobby and down the steps to the west, and while it did not equal the "Ben Hur" crush, it constituted a very good imitation of it. The Patti sale will be kept up all the week at the same place, and by Saturday night it is expected a big sum of money will have been received.

Marie Wainwright appears tonight at the Theater in Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night." Her engagement is limited to one night only, but the production is said to be one of the largest on the road.

Lulu Glaser comes to the Theater tomorrow night and there is no doubt of her having a hearty reception.

At the Grand tonight Demian Thompson's play of "Two Sisters" opens an engagement of three nights and a Wednesday matinee.

Mr. Frank Ramsey, who is advance manager for his sister, Miss Emma Ramsey, is in town today. He reports Miss Ramsey as singing through Oregon and Utah, and says she is meeting with very gratifying success, the audiences everywhere being large and enthusiastic. Her tour continues through the Sound country and into Canada, and will last well into the summer.

MUSIC AT THE "PEN."

Program Rendered for Prisoners Yesterday Was Much Appreciated.

Dr. Thome, Miss Thome and Miss Datch favored the state prison Christian Endeavor society yesterday morning, with a vocal trio that was much enjoyed. The annual report of the society was read, giving the encouraging information recently published in the "News," showing the growth of the society and the announcement of the election of officers for the ensuing six months was announced. Such interest is now taken in the society, that the attendance (voluntary) is nearly half the prison population.

In the afternoon the W. C. T. U. conducted the general exercises, the speaker of the day being Rev. Dr. W. H. Faden of the First Presbyterian church. There was special music, vocal and instrumental, and the exercises generally were made particularly attractive to the prisoners.

JUDGE DICKSON IMPROVING
News from His Bedside This Afternoon of an Encouraging Character.

The hope was expressed by Judge W. H. Dickson's physicians today that he had passed the crisis of his illness—the result of a bad fall Friday night—and his condition at present seems to be very favorable.

Judge Dickson had been called out of bed to answer a telephone message and was leaving the booth in the rotunda of the Knutsford, when his foot slipped and he fell backwards with terrific force, his head striking the hard floor. The unfortunate man's physicians immediately pronounced the injury concussion of the brain and have spent two sleepless nights in an effort to save the distinguished attorney's life. It was feared that inflammation might set in, but friends will sincerely hope that the more cheering information from his bedside today will prove accurate.

Since the bedside Judge Dickson has been irrational at times, but usually in possession of his mental faculties, which is another encouraging indication.

BOGUS CHECK FIEND.
Bartender Gets Into Trouble and Jail For Passing Worthless Paper.

On Saturday evening, Sergt. Hempel and Officer Lincoln arrested a bartender named L. M. Hambaugh on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. The prisoner was taken to the county jail and locked up to await arraignment and preliminary hearing.

It is alleged that Hambaugh secured a Wells Fargo Co. bank book and proceeded to issue checks, signed by himself. He had little or no difficulty in passing the worthless paper on various saloons. He wrote checks, it is alleged, from $2 to $20. They would have been all right but for the simple fact that he did not have enough in said bank to purchase a hole in a doughnut. Hambaugh left the city but upon his return Saturday evening was arrested by the officers.

SERVICES AT THE TABERNACLE.

Elder David McKenzie, President
Of the High Priests' Quorum,
Was the Speaker.

TWO NOTABLE ANNIVERSARIES.

Vicarious Salvation by Sacrifice and Atonement the Foundation of All Religion.

The services in the Tabernacle Sunday afternoon were conducted by President Angus M. Cannon, and were opened by the choir singing the hymn beginning.

We're not ashamed to own our Lord
And worship Him on earth.

The opening prayer was offered by Bishop Carl A. Ek, after which the choir sang.

Ye simple souls who stray
Far from the path of peace.

Elder David McKenzie, the president of the High Priests' quorum, was the speaker in beginning. He referred to the recent dual celebration of important birthdays which occurred during the past week—the 23rd of December, as the birthday of that great modern prophet and seer Joseph Smith, and the natal day of Jesus Christ, the Savior of the world. The speaker held that the idea of vicarious salvation, by sacrifice and atonement, was the foundation of all religion, whether taking the form of Christianity or Buddhism or Mohammedanism. Adam fell, states the Book of Mormon, that man might be, and men are that they might have joy. Hence the tribulations, trials and perplexities of life were accounted for in the fact that they were ordained that men might learn to appreciate the joys prepared by the Father for His children.

Referring to the restoration of the Gospel, the speaker said that no man of any age, aside from the Savior, had made such a forceful impression upon the minds of men as had the boy prophet Joseph Smith, when but 16 years of age, had received a visitation from the Father and the Son, and was enjoined from allying himself with any of the Christian sects, as all had gone astray from the primitive truths of Christianity.

The speaker dwelt at some length upon the rites, ceremonies and sacrifices practiced under the law of Moses by ancient Israel, showing the relation of the same with the great sacrifice made upon Calvary, and the great salvation wrought out for humanity. The speaker graphically showed how the divinity of the work of God in the days of old was abundantly evidenced by the observance of anniversaries which were had among the Hebrew children from the day they left Egypt, which commemorated the great events of the exodus and pointed to the work of salvation done by the Savior. Many of the incidents connected with His life, death and resurrection were but the consummation of events portended in the important holy days observed under Moses.

Elder McKenzie gave an interesting account of his own conversion from doubt and unbelief to a knowledge of Christianity and "Mormonism," and of the divinity of the mission of the Prophet Joseph Smith, showing how, when the truth is brought to him, he was brought to him in answer to earnest prayer, in a manner so peculiar that he ever felt was due to the special interposition of providence.

The services were concluded by the choir singing the anthem, "In Our Redeemer's Name," and the benediction was pronounced by Elder Charles W. Penrose.
