thorised to receive revelation from God for their own personal guilt-ance, and heid the power to judge truth from error, and to discern the intents and purposes of the heart. The speaker them referred to the handling of the wealth of the world; the decelifulness of riches led the hearts of men from God and puffed them up in their own con-onit. He read the revelation given to the Prophet Joseph Smith in 1835, at Kirtland, on the Pricethood, commenting on the same and ad-vising the holders of the priesthood to make it their study to know the powers of the office they held, that they might not infringe upon the rights of others, but that all might be respected in their positions and callings.
