

To the Following Saints:
The Semi-Annual Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will commence at 10 o'clock on the 24th inst. of Tuesday, October 1st, at Lehi, Cache County, Utah Territory.
JOHN TAYLOR,
GEORGE Q. CANNON,
Of the First Presidency of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.
Salt Lake City, Sept. 17th, 1885.

THE UGALL PERJURY CASE.
A GREAT deal of interest has been manifested in the case of Bishop David R. Uggall, of St. John, Apache County, Arizona, recently sentenced to a term of three years in the Detroit House of Correction and to pay a fine of five hundred dollars on indictment for perjury.

The Bishop is respected wherever known, as the soul of honor, and the belief among all his acquaintances that he is innocent of the crime of which he was convicted is amply justified by all the details of the case, which we are enabled to place before our readers as obtained from a source of unquestionable reliability.

In 1880 the property known as "Kitchen Springs Ranch" was bought by Bishop Uggall from Mr. Wall, who was then the undisputed owner of the place. In 1881 Mr. Uggall sold the place to W. E. Platt, and soon afterwards M. P. Romney bought a one-third interest in it. Finally the latter purchased the entire ranch and made improvements upon it by repairing the house, plowing the land, and building some 50 or 60 rods of fence, etc. Mr. Romney engaged his sons and hired men to work the ranch, and frequently in visiting and assisting in the work. Bishop Uggall and Romney also kept a mail station at "Kitchen," the greater part of one year, and during the entire time, up to the period that Mr. Romney made the final entry, no person made any claim whatever to the ranch. Mr. Romney filed on the land and made proper application to the land office at Prescott, advertised it as required by law, and proved his claim before a Fred Rine, clerk of the District Court in St. John, Joseph Crosby and Bishop Uggall being his witnesses. The latter was paid for his services, and was issued by the land office, and forwarded to Mr. Romney.

About this time an anti-"Mormon" Society was organized in St. John. Among its leaders were Solomon Barth, E. S. Stevens, J. L. Hubbard, Alfred Rine and Geo. A. McCarter, the latter being the editor of the Apache Chief. These parties through their malicious spite, advised the people to hang D. R. Uggall, J. N. Smith, John Hunt and M. P. Romney, and then, with ropes and shotguns run the "Mormons" out of the country, as had formerly been done in Missouri.

As a commencement to these intended proceedings, in March, 1884, and in May, 1884, M. P. Romney was arrested on a charge of perjury, for concerning "Kitchen Springs," and was brought before G. A. McCarter, United States Commissioner, a sworn enemy of the "Mormons," and an unprincipled fellow of the lowest type of humanity. Mr. Romney was examined, and gave $5,000 bonds, and was released. On the morning following the arrest of Mr. Romney, D. R. Uggall was arrested on a similar charge, and proceeded to have an examination, which resulted in his acquittal.

In August of the same year a special United States grand jury was called by Judge Howard, in Prescott, to enquire into this case. Hon. J. C. Campbell, the prosecuting attorney, during his investigation of the case of M. P. Romney and D. R. Uggall, ignored the charge, and they were dismissed. But D. R. Uggall was arrested on a charge of perjury, his bonds being placed at $2,000. This same grand jury also indicted A. M. Tenny, C. J. Kempe and P. J. Christensen, who were afterwards legally sentenced to a term of years in Detroit for perjury; also W. W. Flake and J. N. Skousen, who have served a term of six months in the Federal Penitentiary for the same offense.

Up to this time Joseph Crosby had not been interfered with, nor had he been publicly named, nor had he been harmed in any way. He had not appeared in the trial.

In November, 1884, the grand jury of the Apache County, Arizona, indicted D. R. Uggall and Joseph Crosby for perjury. Uggall was in Prescott at the time, and gave bonds for his appearance at the next term of Court. J. Crosby was arrested in St. John and taken to Prescott, where he also gave bonds. J. Crosby, however, did not appear at the next term of Court, and was returned to the officers of the Court and gave bonds to answer to the indictment in the sum of $2,000.

The case of the last named was brought up by his attorneys asking for his discharge on the ground that the laws of Arizona declare "That after a man has been acquitted before a grand jury on a charge preferred against him, he shall not be again indicted for the same offense." The judge, however, refused to grant the discharge, and the case was returned to the officers of the Court and gave bonds to answer to the indictment in the sum of $2,000.

The foregoing is a plain recital of the facts in this case, and proves that it is clearly one of perjury, for these reasons: The lawyer who first started these suits refused to proceed further with them and assisted the defendants in their final trial. It is innocent, so is Bishop D. R. Uggall for they both testified to the same facts, the only difference being that Crosby is not an influential "Mormon," or Bishop. It was apparent that it was the duty of the jury who tried Crosby to also acquit Uggall. Therefore they were discharged and another selected. The press at a distance stated that from "advice received from Prescott," we are assured that Uggall will be convicted," thought Crosby, who testified to the same facts as Uggall, had been acquitted and pronounced innocent.

The "Statutes of the U. S. provide that the law shall be construed favorably to the applicant for land where there is no contest, and this was the result in the case of Crosby. Bishop Uggall and send him the company of felons.

The ring of Apache County, who have testified against these brethren are known throughout the Territory of Arizona to be one of the most corrupt rings of men, and that Bishop Uggall was in the way of the "slandering" design, hence their effort to send an honest God-fearing man to prison, knowing him to be innocent of the charge preferred against him. It is their avowed intention to drive the "Mormons" from their peaceful possessions in the County, and they continually strive to assist them to cover up their corruption.

It may be interesting to know how some of those who have taken an active part in the Arizona persecutions are coming to grief. We learn that Attorney F. P. Dunn, who was one of the first to encourage the crusade against the "Mormons" in that Territory, recently shot himself through the head in Prescott, dying instantly, leaving a letter in which he stated: "That the Spirit of God will not always strive with man." Mr. Dunn had been a ruler of the "Mormons" in his own right. His wife has left him; he is described as a degraded, drunken sot, and has been despoiled of all that he had by all his associates. Sol Barth has been arrested and indicted for raising the number on county warrants, and J. L. Hubbard is at war with the County Court and County Commissioners. The entire press of Arizona Territory denounce them as set of corrupt office-holders, and their reign will no doubt be short-lived.

A THEORY EXEMPLIFIED.
Last Friday we analyzed the segregating ruling upon the Edmunds law by Judge Kane, by whom the Grand Jury was authorized to find any desired number of indictments against one man, and still keep him in prison. Taking it in connection with the claim that the statute was made expressly to "catch the authorities of the 'Mormon' Church," we held that the late construction was invented to grade the punishment according to the victim's ecclesiastical position. It could be made out of the fact that imprisonment for six months and a fine of three hundred dollars, to a life incarceration. Already has this theory received a verification in the case of Hugh S. Gowans, who was arraigned this morning to answer to three indictments for the same offense, the segregating principle having been applied in his case, while the others who were before the Court to plead last only to answer to one indictment.

The exemplification of the theory we advanced lies in the fact that Elder Gowans is President of a Stake, while the other persons placed in jeopardy occupy more humble positions. The inference is, therefore, undoubted, that one indictment has been found on account of an alleged infraction of the law against a man living with his wife, and the other two for being a President of a Stake. Reasoning from that standpoint, it appears that his occupancy of a dignified position in the "Mormon" Church is a crime of double magnitude compared with an infraction of the law. The matter appears to involve a question of degree, about this: If imprisonment for one year and a fine of $500 is estimated to be a proper penalty for the crime of being a President, what would be the just penalty for one an Apostle, or any other relative ecclesiastical officer of more or less importance?

We presume that, notwithstanding their ecclesiastical positions, the courts run on the anti-"Mormon" plan, and they are entitled to be held in respect, and not to be treated as dogs. The infraction of the law is not a crime of double magnitude compared with an infraction of the law. The matter appears to involve a question of degree, about this: If imprisonment for one year and a fine of $500 is estimated to be a proper penalty for the crime of being a President, what would be the just penalty for one an Apostle, or any other relative ecclesiastical officer of more or less importance?

The phyloxera, the insect which is proving so destructive to grape vines in various parts of the world, has so far defied all efforts to exterminate it in California. It was claimed some time since that its ravages could be prevented by mixing mercury with the soil about the roots of the vines, but E. W. Morse, special inspector for the Viticultural Commission of that State, has recently examined for the third time the diseased vines that have been treated experimentally with mercurial mixtures about the roots, and his report contains nothing new to indicate any further prospect of success in this method of attacking the pest. In every case examined the insect appears to flourish in the midst of soil impregnated with the mercury. Healthy vines planted in new soils, where the roots have developed sufficiently, show that, even when infected in holes in which the mercury has been mixed, they may become infected. We have not yet heard of this pest being found in Utah, and fervently hope we may not. The greatest possible care should be exercised by those who import fruit, trees and vines to this Territory from other parts that the diseases and insect pests with which the vine is troubled in other places be not imported at the same time. There can be little doubt that the codling moth and caterpillar were imported by means of the railway from either the east or west, as they were never seen in this Territory until the advent of the cars.

According to the records at the San Francisco custom house the arrivals of Chinese at that port, which were almost shut off entirely a few years since by the passage of the restriction act, have since 1882 been increasing rather alarmingly. In 1882 only 89 arrived; in 1883 there were 3,014; in 1884 there were 8,002; and up to the end of last month there had already been during this year 8,350. When those who have arrived this month are added they will swell this year's number to fully 7,000.

SAVE THE WHEAT.
PRICES ARE LIKELY TO ADVANCE.
The existing theme of the persecutions which our brethren, who have obeyed the celestial law of marriage, are now undergoing, has probably prevented the important subject of storing grain receiving much notice in the News columns lately. It is known, however, that it is a topic considerably talked about among the farmers, and that it is considered to be of some extent by all classes, and is practiced by a few persons. It seems as though there should be no further necessity to talk about the matter. Every Latter-day Saint is surely convinced, by this time, that it is his duty to assist in saving some of the present abundance of grain, to provide against coming years of famine.

All that remains now is to DO IT, while there is grain that may be saved. I do not think it is right for us to expect the farmers alone to undertake the fulfillment of this duty; in fact, it is impossible for them to do so. It is as much an obligation on the head of the Latter-day Saint as it is on the head of those who are dependent upon him, when convinced there will be a scarcity, as it is for him to provide shelter for them from the inevitable storms of winter.

Although the saving of grain is, in itself, an individual duty, I think it can be best accomplished by organized efforts in the various wards or stakes of Zion.

J. W. of Lehi, discussed this in a sensible, thorough, business-like style, in a communication published in the News a few months ago, and suggested an excellent, feasible plan for buying and storing grain, co-operatively, by every publication in the Territory.

There are few things more important to the temporal salvation of our people than that they should be provided with a sufficient supply of grain. It is a duty which should be immediately suspended, and remain inoperative until an international agreement shall give substantial assurance as to the future relations of our kind as a nation. Mr. C. H. Frohman, of Charleston, S. C., opened the discussion favoring the resolution.

LATEST TRANS-ATLANTIC DISPATCHES.
Discharge of Musselmans.
PHILADELPHIA, 23.—All the Musselmans enrolled in the militia of Roumelia have been discharged from the service as a precautionary measure against conveying military secrets to the enemy. The Musselmans are undoubtedly in the Porte, and if permitted to remain in the army they would probably fraternize with the Turkish soldiers.

PRINCE ALEXANDER, of Bulgaria, declares he is able to withstand the attack of the sultan.

MADRID, 23.—Newspapers here and in the provinces have been prosecuted by the government for their utterances regarding the Carlist cause.

Expression of Gratitude.
ROME, 23.—King Humbert's message of sympathy to the inhabitants of Palermo, who were suffering from cholera, was received with enthusiastic expressions of gratitude. The epidemic in Palermo is stationary. Stormy weather prevails throughout Sicily.

THE POWERS WILL NOT LOOK CALMLY ON.
LONDON, 23.—The Standard today, commenting on affairs in Roumelia, urges the signatory powers to the treaty of Berlin to insist on it, and to take steps to restore the status quo in Roumelia, they should take immediate measures to prevent the spread of the insurrection to the other Balkan States.

BERLIN, 23.—The semi-official statement is made that the Powers will not look calmly on the breaking of the treaty of Berlin, and will side with Turkey and Russia against Bulgaria, and to grant the united countries the protection of Russia.

THE ITALIAN GOVERNMENT HAS JUST PUBLISHED an official report of the cholera epidemic of last year. Eight hundred and sixty-three communes, with a population of 5,711,000, or about one-fifth of the kingdom, were visited by the epidemic during the last year. The mortality of about 60 per cent. in Naples, with a population of 945,000, there were 15,927 cases and 7,968 deaths.

DEATHS.
