FAMILY REUNION A GREAT SUCCESS

Descendants of President Brigham Young Enjoy Themselves Thoroughly at Logan.

BUSY FROM MORN TILL NICHT.

Afternoon Banquet a Feature of the Affair-Big Meeting at the Tabernacle.

Special Correspondence,

Logan, June 1 .- The members of the family of the late President Brigham Young have spent a day full of activity and pleasure. From early morning until late at night their time has been fully occupied, and the B. Y. college officials, whose guests for the day they have been, have done all in their power to make memorable the first official family visit to Logan. The good and hospitable people of Logan have done their share in making the celebra. tion an occasion of thorough enjoyment for the visitors. Carriages have been placed at the disposal of those who cared to drive, houses have been open-ed to the distinguished guests and lavish hospitality has been the rule. Flags have floated today from numerous buildings, and welcome has been ex-buildings, and welcome has been expressed in every way.

After breakfast this morning, the visitors were called for at their temporary domiciles by carriages provided by the college, and a delightful drive was taken up Logan canyon, as far as the city power plant, as related in this evening's "News." Returning, a pleasant visit was paid to the Agricultural college, where the party was shown over the institution by the college officials.

AFTERNOON BANQUET.

It was 2 p. m. when they came back to the B. Y. college for luncheon. There was an informal regalon of the family and a half hour of delightful sociability before the luncheon, which was served in the gymnasium building under the direction of the domestic science de-

The gymnasium was beautifully decrated for the occasion. College col-ors formed a canopy over the tables, which were arranged in the shape of a star. An abundance of white spires formed the floral decocations.

PORTRAIT OF PRESIDENT.

In the south end of the hail was placed a splendid life-sized portrait of President Young, which had just been completed by Prof. A. B. Wright. The portrait was on exhibition for the first time, and it was the cynosure of all eyes, as the hundred members of the family came lot the gymnastum. Many ame into the gymnastum. were the expressions of satisfaction from those who best remembered the departed leader, and some were enthusiastic in their praise of the painting and of the painter. The face express-es the littense determination of the man, and admirably blended with this is something that tells of a genial, kindly disposition. kindly disposition.

It is rumored that there is a prospect of the painting being purchased and presented to the college. The guests to the number of 125 were served with an elegant lunchean. The menu follows: Wafers

PREST, SMITH'S ADDRESS,

President Smith made the closing adress. He referred to the work and ac-tomplishments of President Young who, te said, was not visionary, though a Prophet. By the grace of God he had tomplishments of President Young, who, is said, was not visionary, though a Prophet. By the grace of God he had imphasized in the most practical manner the practical religion of the Prophet. Wadsworth, $1,200 to $1,300; Butler, $2,000 to $2,500; Carson City, $2,000 to $2,700. Decrease, Wadsworth, $1,600 to $1,300.

Joseph Smith, not only in leading his people across the desert—a work that has no parallel in the world's history— but in teaching them to be self-support roung after reaching Utah. Brigham Young did not do this alone. We should rob him of half his honor if we said he did. It adds to his glory to say that God and His servant Brigham Young

God and His servant Brigham Young united in this grand work.

President Smith recalled the institutions founded by Brigham Young, especially Z. C. M. I., which he declared the best instance of Brigham Young's practical mind and temporal works he could think of. He said that institution had saved millions to the people in keeping down the prices of necessaries.

During the speech-making, some vocal selections were rendered by Miss. cal selections were rendered by Miss Carrie Thomas, Miss Maggie Jones and Prof. W. O. Robinson.

A resolution was adopted looking to the appointment of Seymour B. Young as honorary president for life, and Franklin W. Young as honorary vice president for life.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, members of the family were shown through the college buildings, and then, after two hours for rest, the evening program called them to the

EVENING SESSION.

The large assembly room of the tabernacle was filled at the evening session. The B. Y. College choir sang a song composed for the occasion, entitled "Our Prophet, Honored Seer."

President Joseph Morrell presided at the exercises, and Patriarch L. H. the exercises, and Patriarch L. H. Hatch offered prayer. Mayor Robin-son was announced for a speech of son was announced for a speech of welcome, but was not present, and M. J. Ballard, representing the Commer-cial club, made a nice little speech, welcoming the guests to our city and recounting a number of recounting a number of instances in which the hand of President Brigham Young was manifest in the growth and development of this beautiful valley.

BRIGHAM YOUNG'S LOYALTY.

There was a vocal solo by M. J. Ballard, after which President Seymour B. Young, representing the Young family, responded by reading a revelation given to President Brigham Young at Winter Quarters in 1847, and spoke of many incidents in the life of the president, exhibiting his love for and loyalty to, the great government of the United States. The speaker narrated a number of instances illustrating the love of the president for the people and great desire to improve their temporal and spiritual welfare. their temporal and spiritual welfare.

PREST. JOSEPH F. SMITH.

President Joseph F. Smith said it vas a source of joy and satisfaction o mingle his voice in eulogizing the memory of President Brigham Young. "I should regret if in all these mountain valleys there were to be found another man who loved him more than I do. We owe him our eternal grati-tude for bringing our fathers from the various nations of the earth and plant-ing us firmly and permanently in these ing us firmly and permanently in these beautiful and fruitful valleys." He spoke of the work of the president in laying the foundation of the temples at Salt Lake, St. George, Manti and Logan, that the great work of the salvation of the dead might go on, that the purposes of the Lord might go hand in hand with the temporal growth and prosperity of the people, and the time will come, and many now living will see it, when this people will become lenders, and not borrowers, and I want to live to see this Church free from debt, for the time is coming when from debt, for the time is coming when Zion is to be redeemed, and it is redeemed by purchase, and we must be in a condition to buy. The great work of the kingdom of God is progressing in the earth, and will go on until the bride, the Church, is adorned for the bridegroom, and when that time comes the bridegroom will come to his own Now I feel to honor President Young for laying the foundation for the pro-gress of this work, and the bringing about of these purposes.

PREST. FRANCIS M. LYMAN. President Francis M. Lyman spoke of the honor we owe to the Prophet Joseph and to President Young for the parts they took in laying the foundation of this great work, but we should also remember that it was God who did the work and who has given it the success that we have witnessed.
