DEPARTMENT A.

The Entries in the Horse Department Show Some Fine Animals.

The showing made in the horse department is very satisfactory. The entries numbering upwards of 150 animals.
Nearly all the horse breeders are well represented and the number of registered standard trotters and thoroughbreds is much larger than last year.
The Clydesdale and Percheron also hold their own this year, while the draft horses outnumber the entries of last year, two to one. Those who have made entries in this department are:

DEPARTMENT B.

Those Who See the Cattle Show Will Be Amply Repaid.

Undoubtedly the finest exhibition of cattle that has been made in Utah, is now to be seen at the state fair. A great amount of time has been spent with both the currier and sand paper to make the appearance of all animals as conspicuous as possible.
The short horn division, J. R. Allen and Bros. have 43 entries; John W.
White, 27; Thomas W. Jennings, 6; the Island Improvement company has a total of 43 head of Herefords which also show excellent marks of breeding. The Jersey stock is well represented by John R. Winder; George M. Cannon and Joseph Barker.
The entries for the sweetstakes in the cattle department in all classes except short horns consists of one bull two years old or over, one cow three years old or over, one heifer, one year old and under two and one heifer calf.
In the short horns class there will be sweetstakes in the senior and junior herds. The senior herd will consist of one bull and four cows all over two years old. The junior herd one bull under two years old, two heifers over one year and under two years old, and two heifer calves under one year old.
The following is a complete list of exhibitors:
Arthur T. Clark, Salt Lake City; W.
White, Paradise, Cache Co.; James Solomon, Salt Lake City; J. Carson, Salt Lake City; Joseph Barker, Ogden, Utah; John H. White, Salt Lake City; Island Improvement Co., Salt Lake City; George M. Cannon, Salt Lake City; Thomas W. Jennings, Salt Lake City; John R. Winder, Calder's Station; J. R. Allen and Bros., Draper, Utah.

FREE ATTRACTIONS.

Some Very Good Turns Are Features on the Grounds.

The free attractions which followed the opening of the fair this afternoon were decidedly up to the promises made by Amusement Manager McDonald. The first act by the Stelner Bros. demonstrated that the management had secured high class talent. They gave an aerial horizontal bar act that was both daring and mirth provoking.
Then on the big stage adjacent to the Midway followed a Spanish revolving ladder turned by the savages that drew applause and made some of the timid fair sex present catch their breath. Immediately following the Stelner Bros. came out and indulged in some comic tumbling and general knockabout stunts. Miss Savage then sealed a ladder to the top of the big grandstand where a pole had been placed supporting a wire cable, head downward, with her ankle strapped to a running gear she performed what is technically known as "the slide for life." Sailing through the air she eventually landed on the Midway where the crowd rushed to pick up the pieces. Here they were met by some more free shows in the form of the Irvine, in their elev-er acrobatic tumbling act; Prof. Thomas, the strong man, who juggles with pious, tables and other heavy things, and later in the afternoon Prof. Mallory gave a balloon ascension and a parachute jump.

CLUB WOMEN
ARE IN CONFERENCE

Discuss at Length the Status of The Organization as a "Public Beneficiary."

PRESIDENTS AND PROGRAM.

Suggestion That Outsiders Be Permitted To Speak Although They Might Not Say Much.

The initial meeting of the Utah Federation of Women's clubs met this morning at 9:30 at the Ladies' Literary clubhouse and was devoted chiefly to a discussion of "The Status of Woman's Clubs as a Public Beneficiary." Mrs.
Hall of Logan opened with a paper, and a discussion ensued among those who took part being the following:
Mrs. McMahon, Mrs. Bickford, Mrs.
Blakely and Mrs. Vincent.

After this a conference of presidents and of the program committee was held and affairs pertaining to the best interests of the clubs and the federation were considered. It was Mrs. Mc-Mahon's belief that the federation would be benefited by having not only the members of individual clubs speak at the meetings, but also people outside the clubs, as they might tell the club women things important to their advantage. "Of course, it will be hard for them to tell club women anything," Mrs. McMahon said laughingly, "but there is no harm in letting them try." The committee agreed heartily with this, and the innovation will probably figure in the future meetings of the federation. The subject of limiting papers and speakers to certain limits of time was discussed, and it was decided that this was eminently necessary for the harmony of the federation meetings.

There was a meeting of the executive board, and the credentials of the representatives of the various clubs were presented. At noon the session adjourned to meet again at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session of the federation was the opening of the program proper, and a notably interesting one had been listed by the committee. The hall was bright with palms and cut flowers and a large and animated throng was gathered there at the hour of opening.

The program commenced with a violin solo by Prof. George E. Skelton, after which Rev. W. M. Paden delivered the invocation.

President Mary E. Coulter gave a short address which was followed by a varied program of addresses and responses, among those who took part being Mrs. F. D. Bickford of Salt Lake, Mrs. Val Gideon of Ogden and Miss E.
Kyle of Springville. Miss Isabel Mon-children the youngest being seven weeks of age. It is alleged that on July 29, 1902, at Salt Lake, defendant choked his wife until she was nearly unconscious and caused her to be sick for more than two weeks from the effects of his cruel treatment. She also asks to be awarded the custody of the minor children and a reasonable sum for alimony.

The fees of the county clerk's office for the month of September amounted

BUSINESS NOTES.

Owing to the half holiday the banks closed their doors at 1 o'clock. The following statement of the Salt Lake Clearing House shows a falling off as between today's clearings and those for the 1st day of October of last year of about $50,000. Comparing the clearings for the month of September of this year with those of last year there is a falling off of about $100,000. This is quite readily accounted for, for the reason that last year there was a larger volume of business being done on the mining stock exchange and there were also a number of mining deals in process of consummation. There has been an increase in the ordinary business of the city, which seems to be in a healthy condition. The comparisons are as follows. Today's clearings, $512,863.39.
Same day last year, $561,968.07. September clearings this year, $12,339,953.05.
Same month last year, $12,496,125.82.
