

CASTLE GATE IS AN ARMED CAMP.

Entrance Prohibited to All But Those Who are Known Until Crisis is Past.

BOYS ON REGULAR ARMY PAY.

Troops Have Been Paid Off for the First Twenty Days Service In The Field.

Castle Gate is an armed camp. Entrance is prohibited to all but those who are known until the crisis is past, and the supplies of the strikers are being cut off. Thirty-five armed guards are on patrol, and the troops are in readiness. Supp. Crow says nothing will prevent the fuel company from starting up the mines at Castle Gate and operating them successfully. Fifteen of the new men deserted to Helper Saturday night, after obtaining clothing and coupons on the company's store. They were pursued with hopes of capture. Strikers from all of the camps are gathering at Helper, where the agitators continue to hold their headquarters, and where the strikers propose to camp out at the expense of the union. Kellher has given out for publication, that the union is opposed to all violence; but the company officials have reason to believe that this is a bluff, and that the agitators talk one way to the newspapers and in an entirely different strain to the strikers.

Detectives have arrested at Helper two men charged with defrauding the fuel company by agreeing to work in the Castle Gate mines, and then skipping out with what supplies had been furnished by the company. On the person of one man was found a dis honorable discharge from the Twenty-eighth infantry, made out to George Hovey, July 1, 1903, on Mindanao Island in the Philippines. The discharge also showed the man had been in a military prison. Both men protested innocence. They were taken to Castle Gate.

Gen. Cannon and Paymaster Lund have paid off the troops for the first 20 days' service, and now the boys are on regular army pay.

ITALIANS ARRAIGNED.

Vice President Kramer Gives His Opinion of the Strikers.

The coal company officials are congratulating themselves on having got rid of the bumptious Italian element in the camps, and anticipate no trouble with the English speaking element. Vice President Kramer, however, who has refused to amalgamate with Americans or learn the English language, and have lived with the intention of getting out of this country as they could and then returning to their land of olive and dirt. The majority of the Italians, struck at the word and stayed on strike. It is all off with them now so far as the coal company is concerned, says Vice President Kramer. "We are getting along all right without them and in spite of them," he said, speaking not of the Italian strikers but of all the workers, which necessarily includes the Italian element, "and they cannot come back to work for us now."

The Italians are leaving on every train. Some are bound for Butte, some for the mines of Iowa, Missouri and Illinois, and elsewhere. The English-speaking miners generally are staying better. "We shall go to the finish," they say. "But what do you understand to be a finish?" was asked. "Here is the company operating its mines, adding to its profits daily and unquestionably in complete control. What are you going to do?" "Oh, we'll hang around for a while, anyway. These farmers can't get out enough coal and they'll be going back to their farms in the spring."

"Yes, but by that time some of the green men will be good miners, able to teach other green men who can no doubt be taught by the English miners."

"Oh, well, if it comes to a showdown we can always out the country," and that's what we may have to do."

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide is in Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair wigs may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that New Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

Sold by leading druggists. Send the stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. For sale by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

HERE AND THERE.

THIS AND THAT.

Vice President Kramer expects to return to Denver from Castle Gate tomorrow, by which time he thinks all trouble will be over.

Several detachments of the state troops will be ordered home this week, and there will be a gradual reduction of troops in the field from now on.

Agitators Price, Kellher and Rupert, and Atty. Elder, are at Helper stiffening the local strike backbone.

The coal camps are overrun with dogs, and the soldiers are having considerable fun with them.

The soldier boys are becoming very restive and want to be ordered home. It is not a few of them see no reason why they should be kept there. One soldier writes that this Carbon county stunt will result in the dissolution of the national guard.

The guards at Castle Gate have dug entrenchments on the heights approaching the camp, and a Gatling cannon has been placed in a commanding position where it can sweep the approaches to the town.

The members of the signal corps at Sunnyside are arranging for a ball next Saturday night.

Capt. Webb is in Salt Lake on a leave of absence.

The troops at Sunnyside are having a peaceful, pleasant time of it, and the time between guard mounts is largely taken up with skirmish drills on the hill sides.

A coal famine is threatened in Nevada on account of the shortening of the Utah supply. At Winnemucca there is none left, the local dealers having sold out at $14 per ton. The Southern Pacific has arranged to furnish its employees with coal at $8 per ton, which will tide them over.

There is a new agitator at Helper, Louis Rupert, a Swiss formerly of Mercur, and the fuel officials say they have no objection to his presence in the county as long as he works among the strikers and does not interfere with the company's business.

BROWN-BRADLEY SCANDAL

Still Another Chapter in the Notorious Case on Saturday.

According to the story of an eye-witness Mrs. Annie M. Bradley created another scene in Senator Brown's office on Saturday and succeeded in routing both the senator and Mrs. Brown out of the office. It is said that she called on Senator Brown and demanded an interview, which he refused to grant her. Upon being pressed for an interview he finally left the office. Mrs. Bradley remained in possession, and shortly Mr. Brown returned with his wife and told her to eject Mrs. Bradley. Thereupon Mrs. Brown removed her hat and gloves and seizing a poker attempted to carry out her instructions. The poker was taken away from her, however, by a disinterested party. She then took a piece of rope and tried to lasso Mrs. Bradley and drag her out. The third party again interfered, whereupon, after an exchange of hot words Senator Brown and wife departed, leaving Mrs. Bradley in possession.

EVER INCREASING.

A bank account is like a snowball—roll it gently along and it will get larger and larger (almost without your noticing it) as the days go by. Like the snowball, too, the hardest work is making the first deposit, giving it the first push, after which the initial impulse carries it along as the ball runs down, the bank account rolls up. We
