The people call it measles, la grip, chicken-pox, and cold sores, but the doctors christen it chickenpox, and while Orangeville citizens may be like Parowanites, not the swiftest on the globe, yet I am afraid we are fast enough to catch chickenpox, which is supposed to have come from the Mam-moth or Tintic mining country about four months ago, and that is the place where smallpox was thriving some time

The disease is in such a light form that I question whether the people or some doctors can tell what it is. ## SMALLPOX CONDITIONS. Strict Quarantine but No Compulsory Vaccination.

Special Correspondence. Cedar City, Iron County, Feb. 8 .- The smallpox epidemic has visited us, so we are at least fashionable in this regard; we consider ourselves somewhat fortunate, however, as but one family has been stricken with the loathsome disease. The strict quarantine regula-tions of the board of health prevented the spread of the contagion, the result is, no further cases are reported and the yellow flag is seen no more in our town, at least for the present. In con-sequence of several cases having broken out in our neighboring city on the north, (Parowan), a strict quarantine is being maintained between them and us, and we now have a quarantine guard established between us and Parowan, to prevent any comingling of our citizens with those of the infected districts; we hope with caution to keep the disease in check, although a few days ago, the Parowan Dramatic com-pany visited our town and entertained our citizens in the drama for two even-ings, playing to crowded houses. Of course their advent into our city was before it was publicly known that smallpox had broken out in Parowan; and it is generally conceded here that it will be marvelous if we escape after so flagrant an exposure. Schools are open here to pupils and teachers regardless of vaccination and the prevailing sentiment is that the imperative orders so recently issued by the state board of health will not maintain, many of our citizens expressing themselves that the public schools should not be singled out and our children made the victims of autocratic rule; why not apply the rule to all pub-

Poulson, deceased, Niels C. Poulson was appointed administrator and Paul Poulson, Chris. Poulson and Hans Christensen as appraisers.

In the matter of the estate of Wm. Smith, deceased, hearing was had on petition for summary administration, sale of real estate confirmed, residue of estate distributed and administratrix discharged.

WILL CONTEST THE WILL.

A petition for the probate of the will of Elias Crane, deceased, was filed last week and was set for hearing Monday, but on that day Attorney George T. Bean filed a petition in behalf of the surviving widow objecting to the probate of the will on the grounds that the same was revoked by the subse-quent marriage of the testator. There is likely to be an interesting controversy in this matter. Invitations are out for the grand valentine ball at the Star Pavilion Thursday evening. The home dramatic company of Richfield will present "Shamrock and Rose," next Saturday evening.

Demise of Orson B. Adams, Pioneer Battalion Survivor.

Special Correspondence.

Leeds, Washington Co., Feb. 8.-Or-son B. Adams, a pioneer and one of the son B. Adams, a pioneer and one of the survivors of the Mormon Battalion,died here Feb. 4, 1901. He came to Utah the year following the pioneer com-pany. In 1850 he started out again in the pioneering expedition which reached Parowan, or rather the place where Parowan now stands, on Jan. 13, 1851, and assisted in the same labor of making it possible to live where savages and wild beasts only had ever main-tained an existence. Parowan proved tained an existence. Parowan proved to be one of the hardest places in the Rocky Mountain region in which to maintain civilized existence, but he unlike many others, stuck faithfully to it, until some further pioneering labor was solicited by the leaders, when ten was solicited by the leaders, when ten years after arriving at Parowan he volunteered to help break the way into the present county of Washington, where, at the little town of Harris-burg, he settled and lived until about five years before his death. He was born in the State of New York March 9th 1815 and was within 29 days of the expect to realize as much from one acre 9th, 1815, and was within 33 days of be-

The brother of the youth married the old people's daughter and then de-serted her. But this boy had nothing to do with that. He was on his way home and while waiting for a wagon going his way he naturally went to stay with the only family that he knew in the place. Old lady Cook says that he paid his way and behaved like a gentleman and that the ringleader of this gang of rufflans sought her daughter's hand in marriage a year ago, but lost his suit, and that now he is seeking revenge by floating base and groundless rumors about her daughter and this young man.

unwelcome visitor la grip, almost every family in the town has been laid up with it and some have had it very severely. But the most of the people are getting better.

The weather is very cold at present. About four inches of snow fell about the 4th of the month; but not enough for sleighing.

The young people are anxiously waiting for the new opera house to open, which will occur with a grand dress ball on the 20th of the month.

FINE CANAL PROJECT.

A large canal is being taken out of Bear river, five miles north of Preston, which has been pushed very rapidly since October 1st. It will irrigate a large tract of land, known as Trenton, Utah, and running as far south as Newton. This canal has furnished labor for a great number of people, and has distributed from $5,000 to $10,000 in cash per month among the people.
