DIDN'T WANT TO BE SHAVED.

"I was not going to have a lot of freshmen shave my head if I could help it," he explained to his compan-ions outside. They thought the incident was closed, but the "Chronicle" made a verse about it, and used "Cuddy's" name. That and the gun, which had been lost in the shuffle and recovered by the nightwatchman, gave the discl-pline committee a clue and the iden-uity of Russel was established, after which the novement, for his suspension was been in was begun.

PREST, LANGSBURY'S VERSION.

When asked today for a statement of his position in the matter President Kingsbury said: "The action of the faculty is taken to bring this thing to a stop if possible. There is danger in it, and for instance in this case, if the and for instance in this case, if the nightwatchman had fired as he was no doubt tempted to, he would have killed a student, in 'the belief he was deal-ing with a highwayman. The faculty will meet this afternoon to settle the question of what shall be done, but I don't think anyone wants the young men expelled. That would hurt them for life, and leave a bad name, which they do not deserve for their boyish they do not deserve for their boyish panks."

FACULTY CONCERN.

The concern of the faculty over this case is made greater by the fact that the instance, in which they have caught an offender, merely follows a long list of expensive pranks practised through the year. Franklin's delivery wagon was one night waylaid by engineering students, and refreshments intended for a normal class were stolen. The normals refused to pay for the goods, normals retused to pay for the goods, as they claim they were not delivered, and Mr. Franklin has requested the authorities to help him get the money. President Stevens of the Associated students said, after the council among class presidents, that it was not the intention of the students to assume a defiant attitude. He said they intend-ed to be respectful towards the faculty in its efforts to enforce discipline, and would not tolerate any act of defance on the part of the students. He ex-pressed the hope, however, that no sus-pensions would follow the faculty neeting this afternoon.

COAL SITUATION BAD.

Besides Outlook for the Future is Anything But Reassuring.

The coal situation remains today practically unchanged, with the normal demand calling for 100 cars a day, while the supply is about one-quarter of that amount. Some housekeepers are shutting up parts of their houses and living in restricted quarters, to economize fuel. A talk was heard today, illustrating the shifts some people are obliged to resort to in order to keep warm, and which included this remark, "Say, do you know we had to go to bed yes-do you know we had to go to bed yes-terday afternoon, to keep warm, be-cause we had no coal." However, it is the aim of the dealers to see that there is no case of extreme distress. The shortage in coal has boomed the local wood market more than ever before. As to the future, deal-

SUIT AGAINST TICKET BROKERS

Southern Pacific and Denver & Rio Grande Proceed to Stop Scalping Business.

DEFENDANTS TO SHOW CAUSE

Judge Marshall Gives Them Until Jan. 22 to Prepare to Uphold Their Position.

As was predicted in the "News" a month ago the railroads have moved against the ticket scalpers, or brokers, as they prefer to be known, with the object in view of driving them out of business in Utah.

The expected has happened and this morning two suits were filed in the federal court asking for a restraining order against the scalpers to prevent them dealing in railroad tickets.

The suits were filed by the Southern Pacific and the Denver & Rio Grande railroad companies and in both cases the defendants were Oscar Groshell and 10 other ticket brokers.

As a sequel Judge Marshal this morning issued an order to show cause should the brokers be restrained as they were in Colorado some months ago during the G. A. R. encampment, un-doubtedly they will go out of business as was the case in Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo and other points. Locally the backers affirm they that

Locally the brokers affirm that their case will be carried to the supreme court of the United States, if necessary, but in the meantime, should the re-straining order issue, the man with a weakness for buying scalped tickets with the usual risk of being put off the train at most uncomfortable places along the line, will either have to buy his ticket from the railroad company

BUSINESS NOTES

The board of directors of the Utah Sugar company met this morning. Vice President Thos. R. Cutler presiding in the absence of President Smith, and Directors W. S. McCornlek, Jno. C. Cutler and Jno. R. Winder, being in attendance. The regular dividend was declared on the preferred stock, payable Dec. 30, but by a unanimous vote of the board, it was deemed advisable in the best interests of the company, to discontinue the payment of dividends on common stock for the time being. That the action of the board had been generally anticipated is shown by the market quotations on common stock which have been falling for several weeks past, today's price being $3.60. Memmbers of the board state that the passing of the dividend is due to several circumstances, the principal ones being the partial failure of the best crop in the south, the low price of sug-ar and the large amount of money the company is borrowing to carry its stock of sugar. The beets have all been paid for and the costs of manufacturing met, but it takes some time for the market to consume the supply on hand.

Today's logal bank clearings amount-ed to $795,839.46 as against $525,863.63 for the same day last year.

MASONIC INITIATIONS.

Grand Commandery Installed Followed by a Sumptuous Spread.

There were great times at the Masonic temple last night owing to the initiation of the grand commandery which was installed by Deputy Grand Commander Epperson. Following the ceremony there was a very interesting banquet and it was early this morning ere the party eventually broke up. Fol-lowing is the grand commandery initlated:

H. M. Cushing, eminent commander, H. M. Cushing, eminent commander; C. S. Kinney, generalissimo; G. H. Brown, captain general; Wm. M. Rash, senior warden; J. T. Breckon, junior warden; Samuel Paul, prelate; John S. Scott, freasurer; E. O. Leatherwood, recorder; L. P. Judd, standard bearer; J. M. Marriott, sword bearer; John Houghton, warden; guards, W. H. Ar-nold, W. L. Barnes and Mr. Kutnewsky.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Yon Yonson" has not lost its power to please, and after years and years of visitings, came again to the Grand last night to delight a large audience. This particular "Yon" was not so much of a cartoon on his race as he sometimes has been. Instead, he was a character has been. Instead, he was a character with decidedly sterling qualities, and when opportunity presented itself he could hold his audience at the tear tem-perature, as easily as he could make them laugh. The scene at the breaking of the log jam in the second act was a well prepared climax, and brought forth several curtain calls. In the presenta-tion generally the same cost appears which was here on its last visit. "Yon Yonson" will remain at the Grand until the end of the week.

Miner's Merry Burlesquers, the atmatter is the Lyrie for the ensuing week commencing tomorrow afternoon, comes with the recommendation of dracomes with the recommendation of dra-matic critics throughout the country. The show has been pronounced one of the best of its kind ever organized and the patrons of the Lyric have been eagerly awaiting its coming. Ten big vandeville acts will be seen in the ollo and two burlesques, "A Night on the Bowery," and "Dector She," will af-ford opportunity for the introduction of a merry chorus of 20 young women. The costumes and scenic effects are elabor-ate the family residence, corner of Sev-enth and G streets. The family has the hearty sympathy of all of its friends because of the sad bereavement.

GOODS FOR THE POOR.

The retail grocers and butchers, having abandoned the custom of dispensing Christmas gifts to their patrons, will honor requisitions from the Bishops of the different wards for goods for distribution among the poor. This is in accordance with a resolution passed by the Butch-ers and Grocers' association. ----

FLORISTS ARE BUSY.

And Scarcity of Flowers Indicate that They Should be Grown at Home.

Florists report a scarcity of flowers this holiday season, although prices are not being boosted on this account, and it is said ordinary demands can be responded to. The cause of the scarcity is the fact that growers in Colorado, Il-inois and California, reply to orders from this city that they have enough orders at home to require all their attention, without worrying any over out-side calls. The general impression here is that California supplies most, in not all of the flowers used in Salt Lake not all of the nowers used in part bank Local florisis, however, say this is not so. But few flowers come from the coast as compared with the hot house products grown at eastern centers, no-ticeably Denver and Chicago. The rapidly growing population of southern California is calling for a larger and larger market every season, which keeps local growers busy. Sait Lake dealers say that there is a fine supply of potted plants and any demand if these can be filled without difficulty.
