The Little People.

Hiding her grandmamma's knitting away Teaching the kittens their letters at play; Clambering up to the table and shelf, Having a tea party all by herself. Quiet a minute, in mischief, no doubt, Pulling the needles and thimbles about, Sewing her apron, demure as you please; Any one got such a dear little tease?

Putting her hands in the soft tempting flour, Tumbles and bumps twenty times in an hour; Tangling the yarn and unraveling the lace, Doing it all with the prettiest grace. Mother is scolding her, very bad girl, Says that she sets the whole house in a whirl; Looks at her pouting there down on her knees, Claps to her heart again dear little tease.

Portugal exports no port now, but "old port" in this country is as plenty as ever. The logwood crop still holds out.

Small cut active boot-black to a wearer of thirteens—"Say, boss, le'me black yer boots; do it for five cents an acre, and warrant it done before sundown."

Gail Hamilton reckons that the average cottillion American does not cheat in trade, does not snub his wife, does not lose his temper much oftener than the average church American.

Says Katie to her new husband: "John, What rock does true love build upon?" Quoth John, and grinned from ear to ear: "The rock of yonder cradle, dear."

"A man who'd maliciously set fire to a barn," said good old elder Poyson, "and burn up a stable full of horses and cows, ought to be kicked to death by a jackass, and I'd like to be the one to do it."

It is said that a new description of lava is being thrown from the crater of Vesuvius since the last eruption, consisting of crystalized salt. This beautiful phenomenon has hitherto been unknown in volcanic natural history.

Elizabeth Stuart Phelps asks, "How much more power of endurance does it require to mow a field in the sun on a July day, than to cook three meals for six men and a family of children over blazing coals?"

"Calumny," says Archbishop Leighton, "would soon starve and die of itself if nobody took it in and gave it lodging." "There would not," says Bishop Hall, "be so many open mouths if there were not so many open ears."

A three-year-old, contemplating a favorite cow, asked her mother "what Daisy done with her cud, when she was done with it?" The puzzled parent did not know. "Oh, I know," said the little one; "she gives it to papa, and he keeps it in his cheek!"

The town of Greeley, out in Colorado, is the purest town in America. The men don't drink, smoke, or swear; the women don't scold, the babies don't cry, and the mules don't kick. But a sudden grief has fallen on the place. The citizens are horror-stricken to discover that the boys have learned to steal watermelons.

According to a late writer, sun-stroke is due to the action of light upon the brain exerted through the eye, and not, as generally believed, to an elevation of temperature; and it is asserted that, if the eye be properly shaded from the glare of the sun, any unusual precaution in the way of protecting the head and back of the neck may be dispensed with.

Went for Him.—A rough-looking specimen of humanity was recently promenading up Chatham street, New York, when he met a Jew, a specimen of his race, about whom there was no mistake.

Without a word of warning, the rough knocked him sprawling into the gutter. Picking himself up, and taking his bleeding nose between his finger and thumb, he demanded an explanation.

"Shut up or I'll bust yer agin!" shouted the aggressor, approaching him again.

"I have never done none notings mit you, and what for you mash me in the nose?" asked Abraham.

"Yes yer have; yer Jews crucified Jesus Christ, and I have a mind to go for you agin."

"But mine Cott, dat wash eighteen hundred years ago," said the Jew.

"Well, I dont care if it was; I only heard it last night," replied the unwashed, and he went for him again.
