He also believed that the State board of health had been unwise in the way it had gone about to accomplish If vaccination be made comthings. pulsory it should apply to everybody, and be made a condition precedent to entering places of amusement such as theaters, dances and any public gathering.

HIS PEOPLE WISH IT.

Senator Smoot said that his people ere opposed to compulsory vaccination and yet they could pass as intelligently on any public measure as any people They desired him to support the McMillan bill and he proposed to do

Senator Murdock thought that if vac. cination is enforced it ought to begin with the Governor and then the Senate, tarting at the head and going to the

eet. "Would you support such a measure?" asked Allison,

"Personally I would be in favor of just such a measure," replied Murdock, "but two-thirds of my constituents are opposed to compulsory vaccination and am here to represent them.

In the meantime Senator Allison had been exercising his grey matter with the result that he had the following amendment to make in the title of the bill, "An act to promote the spread of contagious diseases." Klesel seconded It, but when it was put to a voto Allison's lone treble voice was heard in the affirmative.

THOMAS GIVES REASONS.

Senator Thomas said that he had been opposed to vaccination for twenty years, and that opposition had come about through observation and study. He read from an eminent English physician who inveighed against vaccination in strong term

Senator Love said that he believed in the efficacy of vaccination, his con-stituents wished him to support the bill and he would therefore do so. Senator Barnes and Larson spoke in favor of the bill, deeming it their duty to carry out the wishes of their constituents.

WHITNEY SUPPORTS BILL.

Senator Whitney said that he would take for his text of a very brief dis-course, "I came not to do my will but those who sent me." He couldn't see why the Senator from

Weber (Allison) could believe in im-munity when he had had smallpox when a boy and had broken out two or three times during the session. He furthree times during the session. He fur-ther said that some arguments are best answered by silence. He then referred to Thomas Carlyle's beautiful tribute to silence, and commended it to the junior senator from Weber along with the Swiss proverb, "Speech is silver, but silence is golden."

"I support this measure," concluded Senator Whitney, "because my constitu-ents wish me to, not because I am a foe to vaccination or an enemy of the health board."

Senator Alder was unqualifiedly in fasenator Alder was unqualineary in ta-vor of vaccination. Chairman Anderson Says it Will Enforce All Necessary Rules.

Chairman Anderson, of the county board of health, was asked by a "News" reporter today if he had anything to say relative to the action of Dr. Jones, of Murray, in endeavoring to b .ve the county attorney prosecute the trustees of certain county school districts, for allowing unvaccinated children to attend school. Mr. Anderson said that according to sections 9 and 12, of chap-ter 45, of the last session laws, it was the duty of the local boards of health to enforce necessary rules and regula-tions concerning smallpox and other contagious diseases; that it is the duty of all physicians or other persons to report all cases of infectious diseases to the local board of health. Dr. Jones is only a member of the board, and not the local board, of health, and therefore should have reported all al-leged violations of the law to the board whose duty it is to enforce the law, rules and regulations, whatever the same may be, governing such cases.

Chairman Anderson says the local board of health will enforce all rules and regulations as the law provides.

GARLAND ARRAIGNED.

Will Plead to Charge of Murder on February 13.

Only one case received attention in Judge Stewart's court this morning, which was that of the State vs Frank Clarence Garland; defendant was arraigned on the charge of murder in the first degree, and February 13th the time set for defendant to plead.

There is always danger in using coun-terfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The original is a safe and certain cure for piles. It is a soothing and healing salve for sores and all skin diseases. F. C. Schramm.

Reports show a greatly increased death rate from throat and lung trouhes, due to the prevalence of croup, pneumonia and grippe. We advise the use of one Minute Cough Cure in all of these difficulties. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Children like it, F. C. Schramm,
