LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

The General Conference of the Young People's Mutual Improvement Association will convene in the Assembly Hall, this city, at 10 a. m. on Monday, April 9th, and will continue through the day.

All the members of the various Associations, and particularly the officers, are invited to attend, and the latter should come prepared to make their reports.

JOSEPH F. SMITH, W. WOODRUFF, Superintendents. Salt Lake City, March 21, 1883.

Notice.—The water will be shut off the main at First South Street from Second East to Seventh East, to-morrow from 10 a. m. until 8 p. m. G. M. OTTINGER, Superintendent.

Theatre To Night.—The play to be presented at the Theatre, to-night by Mr. John R. Lindsay, and a strong cast—"A Soldier's Fortune"—is described as a very attractive piece. The plot is said to be good, the dialogue brilliant, and the situations sensational. Miss Ollie Fontenay, a pupil of Mr. Lindsay's, will make her debut as "Florette."

Emigration.—The first company of this season's emigration will sail from Liverpool on Wednesday, April 11, 1883, per S. S. Nevada.

The fare will be the same as last year, but in no case, on account of a special agreement, can they be granted to any but members of the Church.

The railway fares will be published as soon as they are ascertained by advice from the New York office. It is thought they will be no higher than they were last year. — Millennium at Star, March 21st.

An Excellent Portrait.—With the April number of the Contributor, which will be out by Conference with a fine steel engraved portrait of the late President Jedediah M. Grant. Those who were familiar with the gentleman may say that it is a very striking likeness. The energetic, invincible character of the man is well defined in the features and expression. The picture is a splendid specimen of the engraver's art. The April number promises in other respects as well as this, to be unusually attractive.

The Stock Company.—The Opera House Stock Company starts for Montana, next Monday morning. They play two nights in Ogden, then two nights in Logan. From the latter place they will go through to Butte, Helena, Deer Lodge, and other principal towns in Montana.

Next Saturday afternoon, at the Opera House, they will play "The Maid of Montpelier" and "Aladdin, the Wonderful Scamp," on Saturday night, the 24th, "School, or Fun Among the Girls," will constitute the bill.

This will be their last appearance here this season.

An Anonymous Donor.—Inside of a year ago, Bishop Andrew Burt, of the 21st Ward, received an anonymous note, with forty-five dollars enclosed, and a request to distribute the amount among the ward poor.

A few days ago he received, evidently from the same benevolently disposed person, another similar note, containing fifty dollars, to be applied in the same useful manner. We do not know who the individual is who thus does a good deed without blowing a trumpet on the house-top, but whoever he is, may he live long and prosper, and his shadow never appreciably diminish.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

TWO BOYS CRUSHED TO DEATH.

The following special received from Payson this morning: "Two boys, Wm. Holt and David Barnard, who were working in the canyon here, were found dead last evening in their beds with a large rock upon them. They had been sleeping under an overhanging rock which fell upon them the night before last, killing them instantly."

UNDER THE WHEELS.

GEORGE HOVEY MEETS WITH A SUD- DEN AND TERRIBLE DEATH.

On Monday afternoon a grading outfit comprising about 30 men and outfit (flat) cars left Logan depot for the north on the regular freight train No. 5. Early this morning Roadmaster Toombs, who was coming south on his railroad velocipede, found a short distance south of Oxford, the body of a man lying on the track, and badly mutilated, as if by a passing train.

Later it was learned that the dead man was one of the party of graders, and that his name was George Hovey, and that his home was in Millville.

Before leaving Logan the men comprising the grading party, or a large number of them, hung around the saloon of Edwards & Pearson near the depot, drank freely and by the time they were ready to start many of them were in various stages of intoxication. Whether deceased had been drinking or not, whether he fell from the train or was thrown upon it or another that passed after he fell, are all matters for conjecture as yet, as the full particulars of the tragedy have not yet been brought out.

Enough has reported of this affair to create an intense public feeling against the place at which the graders obtained the drink that unfitted them to venture on a railroad train in motion, and while the Journal will ever urge the maintenance of order and the supremacy of the law, we are sensible of the fact that there exists in our community a more or less marked disposition to settle the liquor question—in a few instances at least—in a summary manner, and if it shall be fully shown that the liquor unlawfully sold by Edwards & Pearson was the cause of this man's death, this disposition, the part of some of our citizens will certainly be increased. — Logan Journal.

ABOUT BEE-KEEPING.

AN INTELLIGENT STATEMENT ON THE SUBJECT.

S. Worthington, of Payson, supplies the following:

"At the request of the Beekeepers' Association of Payson, I send you a report of our organization and the present condition of the bee industry here. On February 14th the Payson Beekeepers' Association held its annual meeting. Present: S. Worthington, Secretary; John Done, Treasurer; and German Ellis, worth local bee inspector.

As most of us are well acquainted there were in Payson, last fall, 789 stands of bees. This spring 188 of these, almost 25 per cent. of the whole number, were found to be dead. This is a very heavy proportion of losses. The past winter, however, was an unusually severe one. The bees were wintered on the summer stands with but few exceptions. Those that were not fared no better than the others. Two of the principal causes of the heavy loss of bees were weak colonies and an insufficient amount of honey being left in the hives last fall for the bees to winter upon. The first of these causes can be easily remedied, if not entirely overcome, by proper attention and management of the bees during the summer season and by eliminating them from brood nests in the fall, as they then go into winter quarters with plenty of young bees to maintain the animal heat necessary through the cold season of winter.

It should not be the aim of the apiarist so much to increase the number of his stands of bees as it should be to keep them strong, and not to divide his bees until he is forced to do so. Strong colonies will almost always do well; weak ones, never. Every one who owns bees should be sure that they have enough honey in the fall of the year to last them through the winter. If they have not then supply them with feedings. The greatest losses have been experienced by beginners. The losses of our more experienced bee men have been slight—from two to three per cent.

Bee culture is an important factor in the welfare and prosperity of our growing Territory. It yields fair returns for the time and money invested in it. But like many other industries it must be attended to at the proper time and season. He only can expect to obtain the best results who makes it his special business.

To any one wishing to obtain information relating to the management of bees, the treatment of foul brood, introducing queens, dividing bees, etc., I should recommend to apply to our president and vice-president, also to Wm. A. Grigg, all of this place. These men are competent and willing to give information to any one who takes a lively interest in the bee business.

The Cannibalistic Murderer.—Al Parker, the alleged murderer and assassin, is in jail at Glenwood, Colorado. He was to have a preliminary investigation before Judge Gerry, but the popular excitement was so intense that the proceedings were conducted in chambers. The prisoner waived examination and was held to answer at the next term of the District Court in Hinsdale County. There appears to be no question as to Parker's identity, having been recognized by Captain Geo. A. Jackson, for whom he worked in Bingham, Utah, just prior to leaving for the San Juan Country with his unfortunate companion prospectors.

Superior Antimony.—A few days ago we were presented by Mr. Ben. Hampton with a specimen of antimony from the mine of the American Antimony Company, situated in Grass Valley, Emery County. The piece weighed thirty-five and a half pounds. To test the quality of the metal, we had it used in our type foundry in the Germania Smelting and Refining Works. The result of the experiment that type of the hardest kind has been produced, and Mr. James McLaughlin, a type-founder of thirty years' experience, states that he has never used antimony of better quality, it being a very superior article.

EVIDENCES OF MATEAN.

A few days ago the brethren of Nephi presented Brother George Teasdale with a very handsome gold watch as a token of their affection and esteem. Since the late change in the Presidency of Utah State the has received many evidences of the profound personal regard of the people, whose condition has greatly improved under his administration. He attributes the success of his labors largely, however, to the hearty support he has received from the brethren, without whose cooperation he would have been unable to achieve the good results that have been attained. He deeply appreciates the good feelings which have been exhibited toward him, and hopes that the same moral support that has been uniformly accorded to him while in the position of President of the State will be tendered to his successor.

Judge Lynch.—Last Friday a barn and contents belonging to H. C. McNally, near Helena, Montana, was fired by incendiaries and destroyed. An old man named Coombs, postmaster at Eleven Mile House, and his hired man, James Smith, were suspected of perpetrating the outrage. On Monday morning four masked men entered Coombs' house, dragged him and Smith from their beds, took them a short distance off and hung them both. This summary manner of dealing with men on the bare ground of a suspicion is horrible.

Will Mrs. Ibberson Saddle, who, some time since, published a notice asking for information concerning her daughter, please call at this office?
