Relief Society Anniversary Festival - Big Water Suit.

Special Correspondence.

Moroni, Sanpete County, Utah, March 19 .- Our Relief Society has just held its annual celebration of the organization Prophet Joseph Smith. Nearly all the married folks of the place participated, and a very enjoyable time was had, from noon until midnight. A suitable program of songs and recitations and addresses was rendered. A fine report was provided and duly appreciated, The light fantastic was duly tripped, indeed, it was just such a time as our wives and mothers know best how to make.

Sanpete county's biggest water suit is now on, in the district court at Manti, It involves the right to the use of the water of Sanplich river, from Moroni to the northeast end of the county. The plaintiff's are the people of Moroni, against the settlers on the river above them. Efforts were made to settle the case by arbitration, but other influences prevailed.
