Officials Respecting Insane Patient Special Correspondence.

Provo. Utah Co., Oct. 29.-Terrence Whetly, who was arrested on Provo Bench last Friday and brought to Provo to be examined for his sanity b still in the county fail. He now says that when he was discharged from the asylum in September he left for Lead-ville, Colo., where he says his brother, Simon Wheatly, is living. He had been given a ticket to Grand Junction by the unty authorities, and when he arrived here he was arrested and put in jal and a short time after given a ticket to Provo, and put on the train. This is undoubtedly true, because he has the stub of the ticket. Since that time it is supposed he has been traveling around the country living by begging, although he says he has worked in Salt Lake, but he does not remember whom he worked for, and does not seem to remember much of anything. He is in-different to what goes on around him, but says he would like to go to his brother in Leadville. Simon Whetly has been written to and if he answers that may determine what will be depe that may determine what will be done with Terrence. If not beard from Ter-rence will probably be sent to asylum, as he is unable to take care of himself. He is not at all violent, but stupid, in-different and forgetful. DISTRICT COURT ORDERS.

DOG'S LONG FAST.

A fox terrior belonging to Stuart Smith of Sutton Bridge, Lincolnshire, has had an extraordinary adventure. The dog was lost and advertised for, and after being absent 12 days, was found buried in a rabiit hole, where he had been for that period. Some men passing heard a whine, and knowing that a dog was missing from the hotel, fetched spades and commenced digging. After some time their efforts were re-warded, and the dog, which had work-ed into the rabbit hole, and had thrown the earth behind him, thus blocking the entrance, was got out alive. He was in the hole about two yards up, and when found had been there for 12 days without food or water The animal, of course, was thin and weak, but with careful feeding is now getting on all right .- London Telegraph.
