DESERET EVENING NEWS MONDAY NOVEMBER 26 1906

Citizens of Nyssa, Near Caldwell Took the Law in Their Hands.

UNCOUPLED TWO CARLOADS.

They Told the Conductor They Needed Fuel and Then Helped Themserves All Right.

It remained for the citizens of Nyssa a small station just west of Caldwell Idaho, on the Oregon Short Line main line, to solve the coal problem on Saturday night, and today every stove in Nyssa is cheerily roaring. The Oregon Short Line officials are also roaring. To be more precise, the citizens simply held up a coal train bound for Huntington, Or., and uncoupled two cars and helped themselves. News of the holdup are meagre, as News of the holdup are heagte, as the frightened conductor dispatched the briefest report of the holdup to the chief dispatcher at Pocatello, who in turn flashed the astounding news on to the general superintendent. In Sait Lake.

JUST HELPED THEMSELVES.

JUST HELPED THEMSELVES. From what can be learned, however, the people of Nyssa had not a pound of coal within the corporate limits. They saw coal go by drily in big bat-tisship cars, but not a sack came their way. The second cold snap was too much for them, and after a council of war, they decided to hold up the first train that came along. In due sea-son the train arrived about dusk on Saturday evening, and stopped. When the conductor climbed out of his warm caboose to see what was the trouble, he was met by a delegation of deter-mined cilizens who asked him to un-couple two cars of the precious fuel. He demarred at first, but later thought better of it, and did as requested. The better of it, and did as requested. The two cars were left on the side track, and before morning all of their contents and before maring all of their contents had been transferred to the coal bins of the residents of the town. If the people tendered cash in pay-ment for the coal taken, it is the opin-ion that there will not be a jury in the country that will convict any of them of the crime of holding up the train.

MAY BECOME CHRONIC.

The only fear the Short Line offi-cials have is that this holdup busi-ness will become chronic. For in-stance, as detailed by the Idaho Falls correspondent in the Wayner on Satstance, as detailed by the Idaho Falls correspondent to the "News" on Sat-urday, the residents of Idaho Falls are scriously debating the subject of hold-ing up a coal train along similar lines. Should all the towns take such dras-tic measures it can easily be seen that the operating department of the Ore-gon Short Line would be demoralized in short order. In the meantime the coal situation in Idaho is critical. Today's mail from all over Idaho brought a huge budget of letters asking for coal at any price.

DRAWING ON RESERVE.

Gen. Supt. E. Buckingham of the Oregon Short Line has been in Ogden and ap north for a week past working night and day solving the problem. In every case where possible the reserve of the railread has been drawn upon to supply the people. At Pocatello, for instance, a limited number of tons of med can the commany store (a being week past, Congress has authorized the interstate commerce commission to ascertain whether in any section of the country there exists a practical monopoly of the coal business; whether there is a combination or so-called trust; whether the holdings the companies have were properly acquired; whether there is oc-casion for Congress to legislate for the protection of the hattonal fuel supply, and the manner in which the same is handled in getting to the consumers. These phases in Utah will all be probed at the Investigation which promisese to be an exceedingly interesting occasion.

PHOTOGRAPHER'S TROUBLES.

C. II. Monroe Made Defendant for Failing to Comply With Decree.

Because he failed to comply with the terms of a decree of the district court in Denver which ordered him to pay $10 per month for the main-tenance of his two children until they became 18 years of age, Charles H. Munroe, one of the proprietors of the Munroe photograph studio on west Second South street, was today made defendant in a sult filed in the dis-guilty to the charge of grand larceny, and was sentenced to two years in the state prison. Arty, J. W. McKinney, who was appointed derend the min, made a strong ple. for leniency. He said that Coolty at one time was an insurance agent and kad a fine suite of offices in Chicago, but that drink had caused his ruin and the present offense was committed while Coolty was re-covering from a protracted spree. He said that the defendant has been the only support of his widowed mother and asked the court to be lentent in his sentence. entence.

Cootty snatched a purse from a young woman on East Temple street on Oct. 23 and it is said that this is his first offense. The purse contained 23 cents.

BLAMES CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

Mrs. Leetsch Says Her Husband Would Not Allow Her Medicine.

Christian Science is alleged to be the cause of Elizabeth L. B. Leetsch suing her husband, W. C. Leetch, for divorce. The complaint was filed in the district court today and alleges that plaintiff has been compelled to endure great suf-ferings because of her husband's rell-gious beliefs and that she is not able to live with him longer. Mrs. Leetsch claims that her husband would allow no medicine around the house and that claims that her husband would allow no medicine around the house and that when she burnt her arm severely he tore the bundages off of it and threw the medicine out of the window. Munroe was granted a divorce from the de-fendant in this case in Denver on Aug. 27, 1302, and that she was awarded the custody of the two children and Monroe was ordered to pay $10 per month to Hunt for their support until they reached the age of 18 years. The daughter of defendant reached the age of 18 on Nov. 11, 1994, but it is al-leged that Monroe only paid $30 for her support, and that there is due for her benefit the sum of $235. The son of defendant will not be 18 years of age until May 21, 1998, but the de-fendant has only paid $30 for his sup-port so there is due now for the boy's benefit the sum of $473, making the total amount due $738, for which judgment is asked.

Gowans and other per-sonal friends with carriages, and were driven direct to the meetinghouse, where it had been announced shorrly before that the funeral services would commence at 10 o'clock. As Tooele is the old home of the Lyman family, and the place where the deceased lived un-til be removed and settled in the Big-horn country about eight years ago, it was but natural that the good people of Tooele should, as they did, gather in large numbers, out of respect for President Lyman and his deceased son. The ward choir rendered sweet music in the shape of appropriat hymns, and the congregation was addressed by El-ders Alonzo G. Gowans, Matthew Spiers, Ephraim G. Gowans, Matthew Spiers, Ephraim G. Gowans, Matthew Spiers, Ephraim G. Gowans, George F. Gibbs and George F. Rikhards, the three first of whom had grown up with the deceased from childhood, and al-ways instinatined a close reiotionship with him. Their remarks were full of tenderness and affection for their de-ceased companion, and they testified to the strength and nobleness of his life. Brother Spiers, who labored as a mis-sionary with him in Kentucky, spoke culogistically of his energy and dill-gence in the missionary field, and paid a high tribute to his ability as a pub-lie speaker and proselyter, in which is speaker and proselyter, in which is performed by the deceased while laboring as a missionary, as given in the obituary notice, in which it was stated that he baptized mine persons, whereas it should have been 45, which baptisms he performed during the first two years of his three years' mission, 25 of which Brother Spiers said, he was a witness to htmself. It adds a third class of mer-chants who are required to pay license, namely, those who carry a stock of goods valued at $100 or less, and fixes their license at $3 per quarter. Here-tofore the boarding house and room-lighouse keapers in the county have falled to pay a license to the county under the claim that they did not come within the meaning of the term "hotel keeper." That matter is reme-died in the new ordinance and here-after boardinghouse and rooming-house keepers will have to pay a li-cense of $25 per year.
