SALT LAKE INVASION.

The secretary of the Boise Commer-cial club, Mr. Reilly Atkinson, is in recelpt of a letter from Fisher Harris of Salt Lake City, respecting the business men's excursion from that city to Ida-ho towns next month.

Mr. Harris says in part: "It is the intention of this club to run a business men's excursion to the principal cities of Idaho for the pur-pose of getting better acquainted with our friends and customers there, and incidentally to look over the beautiful scenery for which the Gem state is so justiv famous. justly famous, "We would like to make arrange-

We do not want these receptions to cost your people any-thing, as we have no intention of im-posing on your unfailing courtes; but we are anxious to make the excursion one of pleasure to those who are visited, as we know it will be to the visitors.

HEAT PROBLEM POSSIBLY SOLVED.

John Elimore, a poor shoemaker of Altoona, Pa., may have within his grasp the millions of a modern Crossus if his claim to have discovered the secret of getting heat and energy from ashes is built on a foundation of scientific fact. Having no knowledge of chemistry, Elimore says he has discovered certain ingredients which, when mixed with coal ashes, will burn with a greater heat and give out more energy than coal burned under a forced draft. The cost is triffing, about 25 cents worth of the chemicals being sufficient to treat a ion of ashes. The claim is a remarkable one and chemists generally are sceptical, yet those few who have witnessed a demonstration of his discovery are mystified by its apparent success.
