OGDEN SOCIAL NEWS.

One of the most elaborate events that has taken place in Ogden in the way of wedding anniversaries occurred Tuesday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. William Eccles, Sr., celebrated their sixticth, or diamend, wedding anniversary. The affair took place at the beautiful homes of Mr. and Mrs. David Eccles and Mr. and Mrs. William Eccles on Jefferson avenue. There were cles on Jefferson avenue. There were present nearly three hundred relatives and friends who joined in the evening's festivities.

festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. Eccles received many beautiful and costly gifts, the most beautiful among which was a picture frame arranged to contain a family group, which was presented to the worthy parents by their six living children. The portraits of the aged couple occupy the center of the group, surrounded by a circlet of sparkling diamonds. The photos of the seven children are grouped in the frame children are grouped in the frame about the father and mother, and half circlets of diamonds ornament each of the corners of the frames and between each of the portraits are studded precious stones. The presentation of this costly gift took place at the home of Hon. and Mrs. David Eccles, Judge H. H. Rolapp making the presentation speech in behalf of the family. Bishop speech in behalf of the family. Bishop John Watson of the Fifth ward, was master of the evening's ceremoines. Addresses were made by Robert Patrick of Salt Lake City, John Crawford, of Brigham City, James Taylor, J. M. Ferrin and Thomas D. Dee of Ogden, who spoke warmly of their associations and acquaintance with the honored veterans.

Mr. William Eccles, Sr., delivered the address of the evening in extending the thanks and appreciation of himself and wife for the numerous and exquisite gifts and the many good things that had been said about them.

After the formal ceremonies the guests adjourned to the large home of William Eccles, Jr., across the street. where a sumptuous banquet was served, Mr. and Mrs. Eccles, Sr., occupying the seats at the head of the tables. After feasting on the bounties of the land, during which time Ford's enlarged orchestra furnished some very enchanting music, they returned to the David Eccles mansion, where a couple of hours passed quickly away listening to sweet music from the orchestras, beautiful vocal selections by Hagbert Anderson, Charlton P. Ferrin and others, and the bagpipes were played to the great delight of all present by Chief Piper Duggan, all tending to make the evening one of great enjoyto make the evening one of great enjoy-ment, long to be remembered by all who participated in the festivities.

On the fifth day of May, 1843, in the town of Paisley, Renfrewshire, Scotland, the wedding ceremony was solemnized which made Miss Elizabeth Hutchinson the bride of William Eccles, and twenty-seven years later when seven children had come to them, they bade farewell to old Scotland and with a company of "Mormon" emigrants came to Utah, where they have made their home almost continuously ever since; and although their locks have become whitened by many years, yet they are still jovial and hearty.

Six of Mr. and Mrs. Eccles' children are living, one son having died about Six of Mr. and Mrs. Eccles children are living, one son having died about two years ago. The living children are John Eccles, Scofield, Utah; David Eccles, Ogden; Stewart Eccles, Each, Weber county; William Eccles, Ogden; Sarah Baird, Sait Lake ICty, and Mrs. Margaret Sivinger, Baker City, Oregon. Besides these children they have its grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

The picture was taken Tuesday, show-ing William Eccles, Sr., his son John and the latter's son and grandson,making four generations. Tuesday morning a pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Long, situated on Twenty-second street, when their daughter, Miss Marguerite Long, and George W. Jones, Jr., were married at 9 o'clock, Rev. Brown of the Episcopal church officiating. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the contracting parties and a few intimate tracting parties and a few intimate. tracting parties and a few intimate friends. After congratulations were extended the wedding guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast The contracting parties are well and popularly known in Ogden. The bride is a charming and accomplished young lady; the groom is the son of ex-Councilman George W. Jones. They went to Sait Lake Tuesday.
