DESERET EVENING NEWS.
Saturday, - - - - August 15, 1868.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

CORRESPONDENTS writing for publication are requested to write on one side of the paper only.

No notice can be taken of anonymous communications. Correspondents' names must in every instance accompany their communications, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of reliability.

THEATRICAL.—"Mary Stuart" will be repeated this evening for the last time, and should draw another crowded house, for the manner in which it was received on Tuesday night declared most unmistakeably its power to win popular favor. The dramatist's picture of the last days of the captive Queen, who gave her head to the block in Fotheringay Castle, is touching in the extreme; and, when presented with such vividness as Miss Ince is capable of bestowing upon it, elicits the sympathies of the most callous. The characters are good and are well disposed; and there is sufficient fire in the tragedy to relieve it from any charge of dullness.

LAMENTABLE ACCIDENT.—Some short time ago, while Bishop A. Gardner and a party were near Green River, to cut ties for the U. P. R. R., a young lady, named Hillman, who was with a portion of the Bishop's family that were of the party, laid down in one of the wagons, under the cover, to avoid being wet. Soon after one of the men went to put his Henry rifle in the same wagon, when in some way, the hammer was accidentally moved and the rifle was discharged, the ball entering the mouth of the young lady, coming out near the eye, and entering the forehead. She was killed instantly. The sad accident filled the party with the most intense grief. The rites of sepulture were bestowed upon her remains with all possible care.

CACHING FLOUR.—Considerable conflict of opinion has existed concerning the practicability of preserving flour, some maintaining that it could be preserved a number of years, while others have held the opinion that it could not be kept more than two or three. This question has been settled by actual experiment, as we have now before us a sample of flour cached ten years ago, in 1858, and untouched from then until the present season. It is good in every respect, only it bears the flavor of the pitch pine box in which it was kept. The outside of the flour, next the wood, when the box was opened was of a gummy consistency; inside that it was nice, clean-looking flour. Here is the letter which accompanied the sample, to Elder Geo. A. Smith, who has placed it in our hands.

PAROWAN, Iron Co., Utah,
August 9th, 1868.

Hon. George A. Smith:—Dear Bro,—we send you a sample of flour, just taken out of a box of flour which was deposited by us high up in the mountains, in the year 1858, and taken from its cache, in June, 1868. The box contained about 20 lbs. of flour, and was laid in a ledge of rocks, exposed to air, rain and snow. The box came out safe, and the flour is in excellent condition. Our experience in caching flour in these mountains during the past ten years, proves that deposits can be made with perfect safety.

Your brethren, respectfully,
WM. H DAME,
CHARLES HALL.

CATARRH.—This disease is somewhat prevalent in this Territory, at times. Those who are subject to it may derive benefit from the following, published in the Boston Journal of Chemistry:—"There is no common affection from which quacks reap such a harvest as from what is known as catarrh. With their wretched appliances in the form of nasal injections, and debouches, and 'snuffs,' and 'oxygenized air,' immense mischief is accomplished and credulous men and women robbed of their often times scanty means. Catarrh, or chronic irritability of the mucuous surfaces of the air passages, generally results from neglected colds, and from want of attention to those hygienic measures which tend to fortify the system against sudden changes of temperature. The best method of treatment is dry friction over the whole surface of the body. The use, night and morning, of a coarse towel, or hair mitten, so as to produce a glow upon the surface of the body, will not fail to cure, or benefit nine cases out of ten. Let all the clothing be removed, no matter how cold the weather, and with the 'air bath' thus secured, and friction over the entire surface, the troublesome difficulty is soon removed."

RIPE PEACHES.—The first ripe peach that we have seen this season was on Chadd's fruit stand to-day, of medium size, mellow, and juicy looking.

POLICE.—Sam. Kahn and Louis Lozer, not having the majesty of the law and the dread of the police before their eyes, were running a "bar" without license, on Second South street, west of East Temple street, which it seems Greenwald, the boarding-house keeper, had been previously engaged in propelling. Several fines have been imposed on those plying the traffic there; but the concern was too profitable to shut it on such terms. The fact having been duly proved that the bar still continued, Kahn & Lozer having on two occasions this week brought themselves directly within the power of the law, the officers paid a visit this morning to the establishment, arrested the two men, and abated the nuisance by pouring out the drinkables, and playing smash with the articles used in the traffic. The parties arrested were brought before Alderman Clinton. They asked an adjournment till five o'clock this afternoon, which was granted them.

FROM THE SANDWICH ISLANDS.—By letter to Brother James Lawson, from the Sandwich Islands, with which we have been favored, we learn that the missionaries there were well and quite contented at date of writing. Their crops looked very promising, and the sugar mill was in course of erection. They enjoyed themselves on the Fourth of July with distant music from a fife, played by Kahue, a native, some riding around, and a collation at Elder George Nebeker's, followed by sports and amusements in the afternoon. The native Saints have a large piece of land under cultivation, and were plowing, sowing and planting.

FROM WEBER KANYON.—The work on Sharp & Young's contract, in Weber Kanyon, is progressing, and the men are about to receive their first pay; those at Belmont Station will be paid on Tuesday for the month of July, and the laborers will receive their pay in full about the middle of each month, from this time. Thus the greenbacks will begin to be scattered around, and every kind of trade will feel an impulse.

Sharp & Young want 500 more good, reliable men, stonemasons, quarrymen, and laborers, to whom they will pay the highest wages; and they will supply them with good board at fifty cents a day.

ARRIVALS AND DEPARTURES BY STAGE.
