The correspondent does not anticipate any decided response to England's overtures until after some decisive operation. There have been numerous contradictory rumors in circulation on this subject.

A special from Bogot, about eight miles south of Plevna, has the following: The Czar arrived here on the 27th of October. The Grand Duke Nicholas has his headquarters here. General Todleben is at Euchenitz with his staff. The prince of Roumania's headquarters are at Paradine.

An attack on Telische, simultaneously with the capture of Dubnik, on the 24th ult., was repulsed with a loss of 1,000 men. The loss at Dubnik was 3,000 men. Every brigade and regimental commander was killed or wounded, as nearly all officers of the guards are personally known at headquarters. The fact that 200 officers had been placed hors du combat has cast a deep gloom over the staff at Bogot.

The bombardment of Plevna continues in a desultory way.

General Kanzeff announces the capture of Dac Tetewen, north-east of Orhanie, where there are seven large and thirty small fortified positions. The Turks left upwards of 100 dead on the field. Our loss was insignificant. We seized a large quantity of provisions, tools for entrenchments, cartridges and a herd of cattle. Yesterday Grand Duke Nicholas inspected the positions we have occupied at Gorny Dubrik, from which the Turks, on the approach of the Russians on the 31st ult., withdrew during the night to Plevna, thus this important point has passed into our hands without fighting. The same day we advanced from Dubrik two versts nearer Plevna. We are also entrenching in new positions towards Orhanie.

Our infantry have occupied Lokowitz, and the cavalry have made a further advance. Chevet Pasha is retiring without fighting towards Orhanie.

A Russian official dispatch, dated Visinkoi, 2nd, says: After almost unresisted occupation of Kaprikoi on the 28th ult., when Ghazi, Mukhtar, and Ismail Pasha's rear guard hastily retreated to Hassan Kaleh, our cavalry continued in pursuit, and two hours after midnight attacked the enemy's bivouac. After a short skirmish we entered the bivouac, cut down 100 men, and compelled the others to take to flight. The pursuit continued six versts, when it was discontinued because of the extreme fatigue of both men and horses. At 5 o'clock in the morning our cavalry occupied Hassan Kaleh. Meantime other cavalry arrived near Kurndjuk, eighteen versts from Erzeroum. General Heymann's and Tergukasoff's columns are concentrated near Deve Boyoun, where the enemy are encamped.

PANAMA, October 25.—The funeral of Henry Meiggs, the great railroad builder, took place at Lima, Peru, and was an imposing affair, 200 coaches and 20,000 people were in the procession. LONDON, 4.—A Vienna correspondent writes: There is much discontent in Roumania concerning the war. There is hardly a family in Moldavia which has not lost relatives. The full strength of the Roumanian army was sent into the field at the beginning of the war, and some companies now have only one officer, and as there are no reserve officers the army is disorganized. After the engagement of the 19th, the Roumanians threaten a mutiny if further attempts were made to lead them to certain death.

The Roumanian Chamber will be convoked at the latest possible date, and immediately reprobated, thus all chance of Roumania's retiring from the war seems to have vanished.

Local and Other Matters.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, NOV. 5.

Convalescent.—Brother B. S. Young, who was hurt in the recent accident on the U. C. R. R., has so far recovered as to be able to be about again.

Accident.—The other morning, a daughter of Captain Andrew Burt, aged six years, fell out of bed and broke her collar bone. The injury was surgically attended to by Dr. W. F. Anderson.

Report.—We have received from the Department of the Interior, Dr. A. S. Packard, Jr.'s Report of the Rocky Mountain Locust, and other insects now injuring or likely to injure field or garden crops in the western States and Territories. It is a portion of the report of the U. S. Geographical and Geological survey for 1875.

Missionaries.—By private telegram from Elder William Peterson, we learn that the company of missionaries en route for Europe, which left this city on the 1st inst., arrived at Omaha on Saturday, all well.

Emigrating Saints.—A small company of emigrating Saints, mostly from Minnesota, in charge of Elder Wulfenstein, passed Kearney, on the U. P. R. R., on Friday. They will probably reach this City this evening.

A Stern Chase.—Young Fred. Margetts took a cow out to the Point of the Mountain west on Saturday, and when returning home yesterday morning, he was accosted by a rough looking fellow, who demanded his horse, claiming it was his, and threatening to shoot him if he didn't give it up. Fred. said "you'll have to catch it before you get it," at the same time spurring his horse, making it almost fly over the road. The fellow followed some distance, but soon gave up the chase.

Fire.—We learn from "W. C." that the house of Brother Henry Boyle, at Santaquin, took fire, between the ceiling and roof, which latter was consumed. Had it not been for the timely and vigorous aid of the neighbors, the whole dwelling would have been destroyed.

Responsive to a call of Bishop Halliday, the brethren of the settlement assembled on the following day and replaced the roof with a new one. This was a fitting, kind generous act.

Missionaries.—Elders James E. Malin, of the 10th Ward, and Robt. Ellwood, of West Jordan Ward, intend leaving for Wisconsin, to which State they have been called to go on missions, on or about the 13th inst. They would be pleased to hear from other Elders going east about the same time, as they would like to have company on the journey.

Traveling Agent.—Elder William Bramall, one of our traveling agents, has started on a business trip in the interest of the DESERET NEWS and Juvenile Instructor. He will begin operations in Utah County, and will proceed southward. He is prompt, reliable and courteous, and we commend him to the consideration of the Presidents, Bishops, our local agents, all other leading men of the settlements, and the people generally. Any aid rendered to him to facilitate the accomplishment of the object of his trip will be appreciated at this office as if done to ourselves personally.

United.—On Thursday last, Mr. Brigham Hampton, jr., and Miss Hannah Dunbar, daughter of our friend Mr. Dunbar, of the Herald, were made "no more twain but one," by the tying of the nuptial knot. A number of the friends of both parties to the compact met on Saturday evening, at the residence of the parents of the bride, where they received profuse and hearty congratulations, and all present spent a pleasant time. The interesting young couple have our best wishes for their welfare.

We are pleased to see the young people entering the marriage state. Next.

Apparent Neglect.—About a week ago a woman, residing somewhere in Cottonwood, was thrown out of a wagon. Her head struck upon a brick, tearing the scalp away from the top to the back of it. Notwithstanding that the wound was of a serious character the unfortunate woman was only brought to town for surgical aid on Saturday. The head of the patient is in a very bad condition, a piece about the size of an ordinary hand being scalpless and raw, and the scalp from it gathered in a bunch at the back of the cranium. It looks as if the case had been culpably neglected. We failed to learn the woman's name.

A Petty Thief.—A thief of the shop-lifting kind was arrested this morning, on a charge of stealing goods from Z. C. M. I. He gives his name as J. Block. It would be difficult to ascertain the extent to which his thieving operations have been carried on at Z. C. M. I. and other places. He has been in the habit of visiting the store periodically, and either purchasing some trifling article or asking the price of goods without buying, and surreptitiously carrying off quantities of notions, such as packages of combs, pins, needles, inkstands, &c. He has been making a living by peddling off the stolen wares at greatly reduced prices. A quantity of stolen goods was found on him when he was arrested.

Brigham Young Academy.—The first term of the second academical year of this most excellent educational institution closed on November 1st. Here is the statistical report for the term:

Two of the thirteen who left had only engaged for half a term; two left without assigning any reason; two from domestic causes and seven on account of sickness.

The second term opened to-day, with Prof. Maeser as Principal, and an efficient corps of assistants. The directors have arranged for boarding students from a distance in private families, the rates, per week, ranging from $3 to $4.

The Rogers Inquest.—At the adjourned session of the inquest in relation to the decease of William Rogers, held at the City Hall, on Saturday afternoon, Dr. Douglas, who made the autopsy, testified that he did so at the request of U. S. Marshal Nelson. He further stated that he discovered no marks of violence on the body of deceased, and that, although the vital organs were in an advanced state of decomposition they were, so far as he could discover, in a healthy condition, at the time of the decease.

Dr. Benedict testified that decomposition of the vital organs was so far advanced as to render it next to impossible to determine whether they were in a healthy condition at the time of the demise. He gave it as his opinion that death resulted from pneumonia, superinduced by a debauch.

The inquest was continued until the proposed analysis by Dr. McPhail is completed.

Priesthood Meeting.—There was a good attendance at the Priesthood meeting of the Salt Lake County Stake, held at the 14th Ward Assembly Rooms, on Saturday.

In consequence of the services of Elder George F. Gibbs, as reporter, being required by the Presidency of the Church, he was released from being clerk of this Stake and Elder W. W. Taylor was appointed to fill the vacancy thus made.

The reports of the Bishops showed that the latter were generally alive to their duties, and that there was an improvement among the people.

The reports of the building committee of the New Tabernacle, and of Superintendent John Sharp, the latter in relation to the Temple were very satisfactory, showing that the work on each building was steadily progressing.

President A. M. Cannon gave some excellent instructions, in the course of which he described the order and defined the duties of the various grades and offices of the priesthood. He advised that all marriages among the Saints in this Stake be solemnized at the Historian's Office, that a regular record of them might be kept.

He announced that the work of organizing the lesser priesthood would be commenced at once, and also stated that when the New Tabernacle should be completed, at the meetings of the priesthood held in it, the brethren would be seated according to their order and position.

He also spoke for some time upon the necessity of instituting some efficient measures for the prevention of the spread of intemperance and other immoral practices.

He was followed in some remarks on the latter subject, by Counselor J. E. Taylor.

A good spirit prevailed during the meeting and a profitable time was spent.
