

REAL ESTATE and BUILDING

The approach of inclement weather does not seem to have any terrors for the real estate men of the city and the market is just as active as it has been throughout the past season. And not only is this true, but it is also notable that the men "on the street" are preparing for a continuous campaign throughout the winter. The influx of families looking for homes is as generous as ever and the demand is heavy.

Of course the building operations will perform as well as usual, but the cold weather, said a real estate broker today, "but the sales and investments will still go on. There are a number of them under way which cannot possibly be completed for a month or more, and there are other big jobs in contemplation which will keep things moving until the spring."

The feature of the past week has been that of others preceding, a heavy demand for all kinds of investment. Two heavy trading in the southern and southwestern part of the city, especially as regards residence properties, has given way somewhat and the north and northeast have been the scene of heavy trading. There has been a heavy demand for improved properties in these sections and they show no sign of abatement.

The verification of the Knutsford hotel property sale cleared a somewhat busy atmosphere, resulting about the lower part of State street and deals in this vicinity, and to the south and east, became general. The fact that a large syndicate has obtained for the Knutsford property on the southeast corner of the Phillips property on the southeast corner adds a very appreciable value to this section.

The possibility of the erection of another skyscraper on the old Cliff hotel corner has excited much comment. It is one of a number of big deals which are now on the table, but are being held from announcement either for completion or for the purpose of acquiring contiguous properties for reasonable prices.

The week has again seen the addition of a number of foreign buyers looking for investment. A feature of late has been that purchases have not been made so much to turn over money as for permanent investment with a view to substantial improvement. Possibly one-half of the big deals now on hand will eliminate from Salt Lake holdings eastern owners who have been content to derive a reasonable return on their investments without any material improvement of the properties. These are being taken by men who will not hesitate to tear down and rebuild upon the most up-to-date plan.

Out-of-town conditions remain much the same with steady buying being the feature. An event of the week was the Green River exploitation of the Hirsch-Schipp Realty company. A special train took numbers to the fast growing agricultural country where they were expected to see something of the new land of the winter watermelon. There are a large number of good ranch lands up and down the river which are very accessible to trappers and Green River promises to become a center for heavy investment for those who favor ranch and fruit lands.

Secretary A. D. McMullen of the Strevell-Patterson Hardware company has completed an unusually well equipped apartment house, at First and T street, at a cost of $18,000. It is two stories, 60x65 feet area dimensions, with four suites of six rooms each. This house is considered a model of its class.

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

The index Coalition Mines company of this city filed its articles of incorporation with the county clerk. Its capital stock is $20,000, divided into shares of $2 each. The company is organized for the purpose of mining and the long run than wooden ties; removal of most of the causes of railroad accidents—spreading or overturning of rails, low joints, etc.; prevention of fire, especially on bridges, smooth roadbeds, simplicity in construction and long life of tie; rails cannot get "out of line"; reduction of section work to a minimum; absolute impossibility of the becoming "center bound," solves the problem of lack of material for ties, the greatest problem of the railroad world today.

Articles of incorporation of the Empire Brick company of this city were filed in the office of the county clerk. The capitalization is $100,000, divided into shares of the par value of $1 each. W. J. Burton is president; P. E. Hatch, vice president; M. Thomas, secretary; R. P. Morris, treasurer. In addition to these, Margaret C. Burton and P. Z. Hatch are directors. The company takes over the plant and property of the Hatch Brick company of Bountiful.

With the filing of articles of incorporation of the Zions Realty company in the county clerk's office, a new real estate company was launched in this city. It is capitalized at $50,000, divided into shares of the par value of $1 each. E. P. Peterson is president; W. R. Hutchinson, vice president; W. M. Arkins, secretary; C. W. Johnson, treasurer. Listed with E. P. Peterson, compose the directorate.

Articles of incorporation of the South Eastern Brick company of this city were filed in the office of the county clerk. The capital stock is $100,000, divided into shares of the par value of $1 each. John H. Hickey, former master mechanic for the Rio Grande Western, declares: "Your tie possesses features of endurance and elasticity that must appeal favorably to the track departments of railroads."

FILLS THE BILL.

A booklet issued by the company says: "For years there has been a strong and growing demand for railroad ties, possessing all the essential qualities of the wood tie, a tie that is simple in construction, feasible in its operation, economical in its manufacture, a tie

JEFFERSON PLACE.

Just off West Temple on Eighth South in what has been named Jefferson Place, the real estate firm of Burt and Carliquet is constructing sixteen houses, all brick and modern in every respect. They are fitted with gas, electric light and complete plumbing; while the street has paved sidewalks, sewer curbs and a proper gravel grade. The building activity throughout the whole city well attests the growth of our splendid city.

INVENTOR SOLVES THE TIE PROBLEM

Universal Steel Railroad Tie Removes Worry of Track Officials.

WILL PREVENT ACCIDENTS

Slipping of Ties, Spreading of Rails, Low Joints and Other Prolific Sources of Disaster Impossible.

A steel railroad tie retaining all desirable qualities of the wooden article, for which a demand is anticipated which will far exceed the capacity of the projected plant, has recently been submitted to experts and pronounced perfect, the end of a quest that has been made for years by every large railroad in the country without success until the patented universal metallic tie was offered by its inventor for the verdict of the engineering profession. The company which will handle the patent has for its roster of officials the following business men whose names are their best recommendations. They are: John C. Sharp, president; D. W. Standford, first vice president; John P. Ingram, second vice president; Matthei Thomas, secretary; A. H. Peabody, treasurer. The directors are the above officers and the following: Gov. William S. Fox, James T. Hammond, John P. Cahoon, R. S. Rupp, J. W. Johnson, L. A. Marks, L. J. Findlay and D. L. Evans. Offices have been opened in suits 216 Judge building. The incorporation was under the laws of Utah.

METALLIC TIE.

The universal metallic tie is of mortar box shape, steel plated, and is practically the same length as the ordinary wooden tie and is either 8 or 10 inches wide, while the sides are six inches high. The bottom of the tie is the bottom of the mortar box, which is provided with flanges to prevent slipping. Slots are cut in the sides of the tie, into which the appliances fit which hold the rails in place. To meet the one objection which has prevailed in regard to the steel tie, the lack of resonance, a wooden block is placed under the rail and held in place by the sides of the tie and a bolt. This block rests on the bottom of the tie and supports the weight of the rail. The inventive genius which was responsible for the recourse to this simple device with one stroke made the steel tie perfect. The clamps which hold the rails in place take the place of spikes and the clamps of special design take the place of fishplates. The fastening by means of clamps not only secures greater safety than can be had with the wood tie and spike, but it provides, too, for the traveling of the rails, which, with the wood tie, remained an unsolved problem.

GREAT MONEY SAVER.

The advantages of the steel tie may be summed up as follows: Saving of money in construction and maintenance; elimination of spikes, fishplates, chair-braces, the plates, etc.; cheaper in the long run than wooden ties; removal of most of the causes of railroad accidents—spreading or overturning of rails, low joints, etc.; prevention of fire, especially on bridges, smooth roadbeds, simplicity in construction and long life of tie; rails cannot get "out of line"; reduction of section work to a minimum; absolute impossibility of the becoming "center bound," solves the problem of lack of material for ties, the greatest problem of the railroad world today.

That the tie is a success in the opinion of experts is proved beyond a doubt by their expressed views. On it, L. C. Winslow, with the D. & R. G. at Grand Junction says: "It is the most complete steel tie I have ever seen and I am satisfied that it will be placed on all railroads in preference to wood."

M. H. Kriebel, for many years with the construction department of the Pennsylvania railroad, says: "After a most careful study of your model, I am assured that you have discovered the right principle of, and have a thoroughly satisfactory and utilitarian steel tie." M. J. Neilligan, general roadmaster of the D. & R. G., with headquarters in this city, says: "It is the best and most complete tie of any I have seen and one you will have no trouble in placing on the market. I am positive it will be readily adopted."

John Hickey, former master mechanic for the Rio Grande Western, declares: "Your tie possesses features of endurance and elasticity that must appeal favorably to the track departments of railroads."

RAILROAD NEWS

Col. L. A. Benton of the Rio Grande has gone on a much needed vacation to Los Angeles. He is today enjoying a ride in the glass bottomed boats at Catalina Island.

Kenneth Kerr, district passenger agent of the Salt Lake route, left this morning from a business trip to Beaver county where he found considerable snow and cold weather.

General Manager C. M. Seerist of the Pacific Express company of the Harbison system, is in the city, en route to his headquarters in Chicago.

Mr. Seerist says there is going to be a big crop of oranges, considerably larger than last year. Last year the company moved 42,000 cars of fruit from California, and half as many more from local and other points on the Harbison line, including 2,000 cars of apples, 500 cars of potatoes from Utah and Idaho, and other shipments—all in 6,700 refrigerator cars.

The Oregon Short Line more than made good its declaration of Tuesday, that it would haul the Jap commission from Ogden to Sparks, Nev., in 14 hours. The actual running time was 13 hours and 50 minutes.

Railroad men who have every opportunity to be posted on Western Pacific movements express a belief that Mr. Schumacher is by no means sent out to San Francisco as vice president and traffic director with jurisdiction covering all the Western Pacific lines. He will have the official say over the Rio Grande system in all matters involving Western Pacific matters, and very likely with authority extending to St. Louis. The three Rio Grande freight officials now in San Francisco are completing the local tariff sheet.

FOUNDERS' WEEK CELEBRATION AT MANTI

Elaborate Preparations for Entertainment of Pioneers in Honor of Sixtieth Anniversary.

(Special Correspondence.)

MANTI, Nov. 15.—Preparations are about completed for the celebration of "founders' week," which commences here on Monday, Nov. 22. The week will be given over to general festivity to commemorate the founding of the city of Manti just 60 years ago, when a party of about 50 families took up their winter quarters on the south side of the hill where the beautiful Manti temple now stands.

For weeks the various committees which have had the details in charge as to make every feature of the celebration a grand success. No effort has been spared to make this the grand home-coming week for every one who has ever lived in Manti. The invitation extended to old timers to again visit Manti has met with a very general response of acceptance, and it is expected that the city will be crowded with pioneers and their descendants on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 21, 22 and 23, good to return until Saturday, Nov. 27. A reception committee, consisting of the mayor, city council and other prominent citizens, will meet all trains.

The pioneers, upon arriving, will be escorted to the domestic science rooms in the high school building, where they will be served with refreshments. A banquet will be taken to the county hall house, where they will register and be assigned their place to stop while in the city. Every pioneer will be given a badge, which will entitle him to free admission to all attractions and festivities.

The three-days' celebration will be divided as follows:

Monday, November 22.—Home-coming day, assignments, renewing old acquaintances, winding up with a grand concert at night.

Tuesday, November 23.—Pioneer day; this day will be given over to a series of entertainments and public instruction, will also speak at this time. A dramatization of the early history of Manti will be given at the opera house in the afternoon. A dancing party concludes the day.

Wednesday, November 24.—Governor's day, the governor and party will be escorted to the city hall, where they will be met by the city council, the principal of the Salt Lake City schools, and A. C. Nelson, state superintendent of public instruction, will also speak at this time. A dramatization of the early history of Manti will be given at the opera house in the afternoon. A dancing party concludes the day.

Thursday, November 25.—Governor's day, the governor and party will be escorted to the city hall, where they will be met by the city council, the principal of the Salt Lake City schools, and A. C.
