THOUSANDS SIGN PROHIBITION

Petition in Evidence at Religious Meetings Throughout The State.

TO BE SENT TO LEGISLATURE

Dean H. G. McNiece Emphatically in Favor of Closing Up the Grog Shops in Utah.

On Sunday and last night thousands of names were signed to petitions asking the legislature to pass prohibition laws directed against the beverage liquor traffic. At various religious gatherings in nearly every city and town in the state, the petitions were circulated and before the day was over, thousands of names had been attached thereto. Perhaps no sect or creed was excepted in the matter of voicing a sentiment favorable to the enactment of prohibitory statutes.

Old and young were anxious to place themselves in harmony with the aims and purposes of the Anti-Saloon League of America, acting through its local representatives. The petitions prepared by the league found their way into every ward meeting-house, chapel and church that could be reached in the limited time since the distribution of the temperance literature commenced, namely, the middle of last week. Ministers, bishops, Sunday school superintendents and other officials took up the matter in an enthusiastic manner, and the work will be continued until all who desire to petition the legislature shall have the privilege of attaching their signature to one or the other of the thousands of petitions extant.

DR. MCNIECE'S FORECAST.

Dean H. G. McNiece of Westminster college remarked yesterday, in conversing on the proposed temperance legislation. "The liquor men will make a big fight; will bring in here a large amount of money in hopes of defeating legislation against their business. But, if the Mormon Church authorities are united in favor of the state-wide prohibition, I don't doubt at all that we shall see Utah a prohibitory state. Yes, I'm in favor of prohibition."

EXPERIENCE OF SECY. COX.

Secy. Cox of the Y. M. C. A. has had valuable experience in prohibition politics. He relates of a former election in Roseburg, Or., where a straight-out prohibitionist was chosen mayor, as the result of a tie contest between the two regular parties. When a batch of liquor licenses, granted by the city council, was presented to the new mayor to sign, he positively refused to do so. A delegation of the principal business men of the city waited on him, urging him to sign those licenses, as to cut of the saloon industry would "kill the town," and "deprive it of a large and valuable source of revenue. Mr. Cox says the new mayor merely gave the "prohibitionist business men" the laugh, and told them he did not propose to sign those saloon licenses. They knew he was a prohibitionist, and as long as they had put him in the mayor's chair, he proposed to live up to his convictions, and they must make the best of it. The town did make the best of it—without the saloons, for the license didn't bring in the mayor's signature. There was a great ado; but it proved to be a "Much Ado About Nothing," for at the end of a year, the mayor was waited on by a number of the same men who had urged him to sign the licenses. These men stated then that under the no-saloon regime, notwithstanding the loss of the tribute to the city finances from the saloons, there had been no shortage in the revenue. The mayor, for the year, as far as they could see, while the absence of crime had been very marked, and many citizens who previously were perennially short, now had money in the bank. So prohibition worked in Roseburg, Or. Mr. Cox believes similar results will obtain here. As things are, in Salt Lake, the saloons more than offset all the good the churches and the Y. M. C. A. can accomplish. If the saloons were shut off, the work of the reformatory elements can be made ever so much more effectual.

A HORRIBLE HOLD-UP.

"About ten years ago my brother was 'held up' in his work, health and happiness by what was believed to be 'hopeless Consumption,' writes W. R. Lipscomb of Washington, N. C. "He took all kinds of remedies and treatments, but nothing did him any good. He told me he used Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by six bottles. He is a well man today." It's quick to relieve and will cure coughs and colds, Bronchitis, La Grippe, Asthma and all Bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by W. C. M. I. Drug Dept., 112-114 South Main street, Salt Lake City.
