

LABOR MEETING IS CONCLUDED

First District Convention of International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Finished.

WAGE INCREASE SANCTIONED.

Utah Linemen to Get Substantial Raise Over Present Salaries—Council Assumes State Authority.

A meeting of the intermountain council of electrical workers has just adjourned in this city. Much important business was transacted. Wage affairs were gone over carefully by delegates representing four states, namely, Montana, Idaho, Utah and Wyoming. A general raise in the wages of linemen has been sanctioned. Electrical workers in the employ of the Utah Light & Railway company are getting $1.75 a day and those in the employ of the Bell telephone company, $3.25 per day, but new wages are to be $4.00. These are to be universal. The meeting just concluded was the first district convention of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. Idaho was represented by Curry and Cole of Boise, and Glasgow of Pocatello. Wyoming was represented by proxy. These district meetings are supposed to be held once a year, but as important matters are now under consideration, another meeting is to be held in October.

IMPORTANT CHANGE.

The jurisdiction of state affairs has been placed in the hands of the council. State matters will hereafter be settled by the council and not left to "locals." This will mean the death of the "agitator" and all the evils which follow in his wake. Strike breeders have been able in the past to get a majority of the workers in any town, leaving them completely at their mercy and making a meeting would pass resolutions promiscuously and without a thought of their effect. The labor situation was kept in jeopardy by these agitators. Contractors never knew at what minute a strike or walk-out was to be called. By putting all labor and wage matters into the hands of a council with authority over a number of states, same, safe consideration will be paid all questions. The workers themselves will be bettered by this movement also, as when they are right, they will have all locals together and in "union there is strength." The delegates have returned to their various homes.

WILL INVEST $1,500,000.

Dayton, Ohio, Capitalists Think Salt Lake Has a Future.

The visiting Dayton, Ohio, capitalists interested in the public service company, were entertained at lunch at the Alta club Saturday afternoon, as the guests of Assistant Cashier E. C. Howard of the Walker Bros. bank. The remarks of the visitors indicated their belief that there is no more desirable place for investment than Salt Lake City. It was announced that building the conduits will begin as soon as the weather will permit, the big five feet main being laid on Second South street from Third South to the city hall. Big Cottonwood canyon capable of generating 7,000 horse power. The company will invest $1,500,000 in this city, its total plant with future extensions being valued at $4,000,000.

HAS "LIGHT" THEME.

A. J. Marshall Will Show Its Difference From Illumination Tonight.

"Proper Use of Artificial Light or the Fundamental Principles of Illuminating Engineering Advanced in a simple style," is the theme upon which Albert J. Marshall will talk in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium this evening. Mr. Marshall is an expert of a New York company. He is making a trip to the coast and is stopping over in Salt Lake this evening. He will discuss all phases of illumination in such a manner as to make this subject of interest to the layman. "My talk tonight will really show the difference between light and illumination," he said this morning. In traveling about the country I have heard of the movement on here towards a greater Salt Lake. I will discuss tonight a lighting scheme. This city could be illuminated at night in a manner that no person would talk of Salt Lake. "The city of lights" is this clean advertising and it can be carried out economically. As Mr. Marshall leaves for Los Angeles shortly before midnight tonight his lecture will begin at 8 o'clock. He will meet with representatives of the Commercial club and live business men during the day to discuss methods of lighting Salt Lake properly.

VICTIM OF DREAD DISEASE.

T. F. Farrell Loses a Daughter—Spinal Meningitis Spreading.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Farrell, 37 C street, this city, will be shocked to hear of the sad and sudden death of their beautiful little daughter, Eunice Claire Farrell, who died yesterday at 3:15 p. m. due to cerebral meningitis. Little Eunice Claire Farrell was born Feb. 13, 1895, at Memphis, Tenn., and would have been nine years old had she lived until the end of this month. She was attending the Lowell school, and was a general favorite in the fourth grade. She was perfectly well at bedtime Friday night, Saturday morning about 8:30 she complained, saying: "Mamma, there's not a bone in my body that don't ache." Whereupon one of the other children said: "She jumped the rope a good deal yesterday." Her mother immediately had her go back to bed, and applied the usual home remedies for a supposedly bad cold, and at 9 o'clock she seemed well.

About 1:30 Sunday morning she became very much worse again, and a physician was summoned who pronounced the disease cerebral meningitis. He called again at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and was apparently quite well pleased at her condition, at 3:15 she passed peacefully and unexpectedly away. From this it will be seen that she was sick only about 19 hours. Mr. Farrell represents a St. Louis firm, and has been notified and will reach here today, when the time of the funeral will be announced. Little Eunice or "Nooney" Farrell, as she nick-named herself, was an exceptionally bright and lovable child, and the sympathy of their many acquaintances is extended to the bereaved family. The occasion of a lady neighbor's birthday anniversary last month "Nooney" called and said: "I didn't have any birthday present to give you, but I've brought you a nice kiss."

This is the fifteenth death from the same cause within a period of two months in this city, and during the month of January there were 17 cases. The situation is decidedly alarming, so much so that the board of health is thoroughly aroused, and will make every effort to check the further spread of the deadly disease.

Salt Lake is not the only Utah city that has been visited by spinal meningitis, cases having been reported from other towns and cities. One of the latest victims, outside of Salt Lake, was Lynn Siler, the 11-year-old son of Hyrum H. Siler of Spanish Fork, who died yesterday, after an illness of three days.

OUT FOR A TIME.

Martin Vacey of Ely, Claiming to be a Priest, Arrested.

Martin Vacey, aged 31 years, who says he is Dutch, and who declares that he is a Catholic priest, at Ely, Nev., was arrested at 9:15 last night by Officer Pierce for drunkenness. The man had with him the sum of $23.05, but declined to leave $5 as bail for his appearance in court. At noon today he was still in jail.

Make a note now to get Ely's Cream Balm if you are troubled with nasal catarrh, hay fever or cold in the head. It is purifying and soothing to the sensitive membranes that line the air passages. It is made to cure the disease, not to fool the patient for a short, deceptive relief. There is no cocaine nor mercury in it. Do not be talked into taking a substitute for Ely's Cream Balm. All druggists sell it. Price 50c. Mailed by Ely Bros. 55 Warren Street, New York.

TROUBLE BEGINS ON THE CONDUIT

Injunction Suit is Filed in the Third District Court Today.

WATER GOES BACK TO CREEK.

Temporary Restraining Order Issued On Behalf of the Progress Company Against Salt Lake.

The city is to have considerable trouble evidently over rights to water from Big Cottonwood, now flowing through the conduit into its reservoirs. An injunction was filed in the district court this afternoon by the Progress company against Salt Lake City to restrain the city from using Big Cottonwood water. Judge Morse issued a temporary restraining order this afternoon. This means the water will have to be turned out of the conduit and back into the creek from which it is taken, pending a final hearing on the case. The plaintiff company owns certain rights in the creek for power purposes and its plant is now furnishing electric light and power to the city of Murray. Plaintiff claims that its predecessors in the interests appropriated the water from the creek in the year 1856 and that it is entitled to use of the water from about October 1 to April 1 of each year. Judge Morse issued the order upon the execution of a bond by plaintiff in the sum of $2,500.

INSANE FROM ACCIDENT.

Isiah Jones Sent to Provo Following Streetcar Collision.

That Isiah Jones received injuries at the hands of defendant which resulted in him losing his mind and resulting in him being committed to the mental hospital at Provo, is the allegation made in complaint filed in the district court today against the Utah Light & Railway company. The action is brought by Edward F. Ashton as guardian ad litem of Mr. Jones. The complaint alleges that Jones was driving along West Temple street near First South on May 21, 1906, when a car came along and frightened the horse he was driving so that it threw Jones out and against the car and his injury Jones went insane and was committed to the mental hospital, where he is confined for treatment. It is alleged that Jones and his companion signalled to the motorman on the car to stop until they could get their horse under control, but he refused to do so, and when the car came within five feet of it the animal gave a lunge which threw Jones against the car. On account of injuries received in the accident, judgment is asked against defendant for $30,000.

A. Ireland Seeks to Recover Damages In Sum of $15,000.

Richard A. Ireland filed suit in the district court today against the Garfield Smelting company to recover damages in the sum of $15,000 for the death of his son, Arthur A. Ireland, who was killed while employed in construction work on the new Garfield smelter on Nov. 11, 1906. The young man was 18 years of age and was employed as a machinist. While working on the steel frame work at the smelter he stepped on a plank which gave way and he fell to the ground below, a distance of 18 feet. The fall dislocated his spinal column and otherwise injured him internally, resulting in his death a few hours after the accident.

The further trial of the case of the Utah Light & Railway company against the Richards Irrigation and others, was today continued by Judge Morse until May 21 for the purpose of taking measurements of Little Cottonwood creek and the various irrigation canals involved in the action. The case has been on trial for several weeks past and when taken up again will consume several weeks longer.

HOT SHOT FROM BRAY.

Writes Open Letter to Council on Ninth East Proposition.

That William E. Bray is up in arms against the city council because it has decided to macadamize Ninth East street after, according to his claim, the improvement has twice been defeated by the property owners on the street, is very evident from an open letter to the council under his signature. The letter follows:

"Gentlemen—Of all the outrages practiced upon the people of this city, in my opinion personally, Mr. City Councilman, I regard the proposition for resolution of last Monday night in favor of macadamizing Ninth East street the climax of them all. This resolution was once defeated by the property owners on this street. I take the liberty as a citizen to strongly protest against this style of doing business. We all favored improvements upon that street and hoped they would be made in due course of time. But we didn't want sewers, sidewalks and pavements all in one year. It seems to me that a city council composed of a lot of such ignorant and business matters as this body is, needs money to give them a good poke in the eye, at any rate this should be a warning to the voters to endorse the Galveston idea, and put this city in the hands of men with some business ability. I have got the money to make these improvements, but there are no men to do the work. I am a citizen of this city and I have spent years struggling for their homes and have not the money.

Take a tumble now and wake up. Pave some of these muddy alleys down town and let streets two miles from town alone until such time as conditions justify their improvement. It's not for one of you fellows with only a shoestring to sit down there in your leather chairs and tell the property owners what to do. Now take a tumble.

"WILLIAM E. BRAY,"

ONE FROM ST. GEORGE.

Residents Send to the Senate a Request for a Railroad.

A petition, signed by over 100 residents of St. George, was received by the senate today. The communication was written on a blank supplied by the Manufacturers and Merchants' association, for the purpose of securing signatures for a railroad commission. The printed matter, however, had been erased and the following typewritten communication substituted:

We in Dixie are 60 miles from a railroad. A railroad to St. George would do us more good in one year than a railroad commission in 100 years. Give us a railroad and we will take our chances for the rest.

CARD OF THANKS.

To all who in any way assisted by word or presence, to those who sent flowers, to the members of the Streetcar union, the Odd Fellows, the Streetcar company and all others whose kindness were extended at the funeral of the late James Iredale, I desire to express my sincere gratitude and thanks.

The National Congress of State Highway Commissioners will be held in Pittsburgh at the same time as the other convention.

Motion Pictures at Rink—The feature of attractions at the Auditorium roller rink this week, beginning this evening, is the motion pictures exhibited by Prof. Randolph. He has with him 15,000 feet of films and gives a most interesting and varied program. In addition to the pictures there is a musical program and a number of illustrated songs. The program lasts about 30 minutes and will undoubtedly prove a good attraction at the Richards street resort.

Return From Toledo—Willard Andell and Arvilla Clark, the well known singers, who appeared at the Tabernacle on Thursday last under adverse conditions, returned from Toledo county last night, where they gave concerts on Friday and Saturday evenings to large and appreciative audiences. Miss Clark has recovered from her indisposition, and Mr. Andell's voice is again clear and strong. He will sing at the Republican banquet in this city tomorrow night, and with Miss Clark will appear at Brigham City on Wednesday evening.

J. F. Odell Watched—J. Fred Odell, retiring sales manager of the Consolidated Wagon and Machine company, was presented Saturday night, with a handsome gold watch, chain and locket, by a number of employees of the concern as a token of esteem and respect. Seymour B. Young, Jr., made the presentation with a neat speech. Mr. Odell made a happy reply, though much embarrassed, remarking:

"I have a tumble now and wake up. Pave some of these muddy alleys down town and let streets two miles from town alone until such time as conditions justify their improvement. It's not for one of you fellows with only a shoestring to sit down there in your leather chairs and tell the property owners what to do. Now take a tumble."

that during the 10 years he had been associated with the Wagon company his experience had been of the most gratifying character, and his associations there would be remembered with great pleasure. Mr. Odell has been appointed manager of a 1,200 acre ranch in Davis county, and in consequence has severed his connection with the Wagon company. His successor is Mr. Seymour B. Young, Jr.

James Iredale Laid to Rest—Headed by the Street Railway Men's band, an imposing cortege yesterday afternoon followed the remains of the late James Iredale to their last resting place in the city cemetery. Iredale was accidentally killed by coming in contact with a live wire while in the employ of the Utah Light and Railway company. The funeral service over the remains was conducted by the Rev. Peter A. Simpkin, at Odd Fellows hall on Market street. The procession included about 250 Odd Fellows, and nearly as many of the deceased's fellow workers on the street railway, besides carriages containing relatives of the dead man, and a specially draped street car carrying other friends. The interment service was conducted according to the Odd Fellows ritual.

The very name suggests desire because the Dutch were associated with the early manufacturers of them.

The creation of this particular tempting confection is the result of an old Dutch recipe, improved in the McDonald way.

While it is a bon-bon of high excellence it is within popular reach—and 60-cent boxes.

Suppose you take her a box—or box home with you.
