

ORDERS FOR SEIZURE OF LI HUNG CHANG.

To be Held as a Hostage—May be Deported to India—Is in Sympathy and League With Tuan.

New York, July 17.—A dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser from London, says: In the lobby of the house of commons last night it was declared that the government had issued orders for the seizure of Li Hung Chang and for his imprisonment at Hongkong pending his deportation to some place in India, in the event of his carrying out his project of proceeding northward by sea, in compliance with the summons which he has received from Peking.

Britain, assigning to each a distinct sphere. "Although England," said the official, "has several times complained since the agreement was made, Russia apparently has not felt it letty bound by it. Germany, for her part, as Russia knows, will not object if Russia monopolizes Manchuria."

The Chinese expeditionary corps will not leave until Emperor William returns from Norway, as he intends to inspect the corps personally and to bid the men farewell.

A contributor to the Berliner Tageblatt says the Chinese forces, who are well drilled and armed with Mausers, number 80,000.

New York, July 17.—While hope for the missionaries in Peking was practically abandoned several days ago, there still remained a gleam of hope that the little band reported on July 4th at Pao Ting Fu might have escaped the fate of their colleagues in the capital and that some who were reported to have gone to Peking were detained and are still at their stations.

NATIONS UNITED IN CHRISTIAN WAR

The Pope Says it is the First Time Since the Crusades.

COLORED RACES AWAKENING

W. T. Stead on the Situation—Lord Wolsey Says Chinese Best Fighting Material in the World.

New York, July 17.—W. T. Stead cables from London to the Journal and Advertiser:

The pope is said to have remarked as he saw the Italian troops departing for the far east that this was the first war since the crusades in which all nations had united to make war for the Christian cause.

The illustration is more apt than felicitous for the struggle between the east and west, which began when steel-edged Europe hurled itself upon the pagan hordes which defied the holy sepulchre, lasted for over 400 years, and at the end of that prolonged death-grapple of continents the combatants were left face to face, very much as they were at the beginning.

It is to be hoped that we are not on the verge of another 900 years war at the other end of the Asiatic continent. The gravity of the crisis in China hitherto has never been realized, even faintly, in Europe. Otherwise England would have sent a fleet to the coast of a kind of a truce in South Africa which would have enabled her to have used her army for the defense of the threatened outposts of western civilization.

The fact is that the white world is face to face with a determined effort, by no means confined to China, on the part of the colored races, to assert their rights to live their own lives in their own ways, without the perpetual bullying of pale faces.

The colored races have awakened to the fact that the supremacy of the white man is due to no inherent superiority, but solely to the fact that he has superior weapons. Hence the Chinese have provided themselves with the best artillery and magazine rifles, and have employed expert instructors.

Lord Wolsey told me long ago he considered the Chinese the very best fighting material in the world.

They were better even than the Russians, because the Russian soldier drinks whereas the Chinese are the most abstemious of men, and that makes the destruction of the legations, however terrible it may seem to us, be nevertheless natural.

It was the result and inevitable corollary of the seizure of the Taku forts and the massacre of their garrison. Human nature is much the same all the world over, and if we had been in a similar position the white men would have got every inch the same as their yellow-skinned brothers.

Christianity may be stamped out of China as completely as 200 years ago it was stamped out of Japan.

It will be well if this is all that we have to face as the result of forgetting the golden rule in our relations to the Chinese.

One of the awful possibilities of the near future is that the allies will quarrel and his killing and that we may have a world-wide war, which may lead civilization backward.

Captured Eight Chinese Guns.

Tien Tsin, Friday, July 13.—Copyrighted, 1900, by the Associated Press.—In today's combined attack upon the native city over forty guns bombarded the Chinese positions.

The fighting was most determined and the allies' losses were heavy. Eight Chinese guns were captured and the Chinese were driven out of the west arsenal after a fierce struggle.

A strong mixed force is now close to the walls, and it is expected that an assault will be made tomorrow.

FROM MANILA TO CHINA.

Fourteenth Infantry and Part of the Ninth Sail.

Washington, D. C., July 16.—The following cablegram was received at the war department today from Gen. MacArthur:

"Manila, July 16, 1900.—Adjutant-General, Washington.—Transport India sailed yesterday for China with twenty-one officers, including two medical, 84 men, fourteenth regiment, United States Infantry, one officer, thirty men, Ninth United States Infantry, William Croser, ordnance officer, one ordnance sergeant, one chaplain, sixteen hospital corps men; Flintshire with seven officers, 21 men; Helly's battery, two medical officers, five hospital corps men fully equipped.

Another cablegram from Gen. MacArthur announced the sailing for the United States from Manila of transport Sherman with a capacity of 2,000 troops.

CHINESE MISSIONARY TALKS.

Rev. S. I. Woodbridge, Presbyterian Was Fifteen Years in China.

San Francisco, July 17.—Rev. S. I. Woodbridge, a Presbyterian missionary who has been at Chin Kang on the Yang-Tse river, for the past fifteen years, arrived on the Coptic from Shanghai with his wife and six children on a furlough. He expects to return to China when the present troubles are over.

The whole city, as well as all other cities and towns along the Yang-Tse, was greatly excited and on the verge of an uprising when Woodbridge left Chin Kang on June 29th. In fact, a day had been fixed for the destruction of all property owned by the foreigners and the murder of the foreigners themselves and Woodbridge believes that by this time a terrible fate has met those foreigners who failed to heed his warnings and fly from the impending massacres.

THE WOMEN OF THE AMERICAN LEGATION IN PEKING.

When the rule of anarchy began in Peking, the American minister, Mr. Edwin H. Conger, had with him his wife, his daughter, Miss Laura Conger, Miss Mary Conger Pierce, Mrs. Morgan S. Woodward and her daughter Ione of Des Moines and Miss Cecile Payne of Chicago. Mrs. Conger was born in Illinois and was Miss Sara J. Pike.

matter what flag it flies, having the viceroy on board, and to secure his person. It is resolved to hold Li Hung Chang as a species of hostage and, moreover, it appears that Sir Henry Blake, the governor of Hongkong, has obtained strong proof that the old viceroy of Canton, in spite of his professions of friendship for the foreigners, is in thorough sympathy and league with his old friend and compatriot, Prince Tuan.

The British roll call at Peking includes the names of about seventy women and many children. There were many missionaries with their families in the doomed inclosure. Friends of the British minister remember sadly his satisfaction when he received his appointment and his telling to them that he was at last in great luck in receiving his promotion. Lady Hart is completely prostrated at her London home by the tragic death of her husband, for which his own dispatch prepared her.

The only journalist at Peking was Dr. Morrison, whose dispatches published in the Times, have been marveled of enterprise and Oriental cunning. He was an Australian, who had traveled far and wide in China, and perfectly understood the native character.

Dr. G. Yardley Taylor was born in Taylorsville, Pa., on May 18, 1862, and went to China from Burlington, N. J., in 1886. His brother, B. F. Taylor, lives in Washington. He was graduated in medicine from the University of Pennsylvania, passing his examinations with high honors.

Dr. C. Van Rensselaer Hodge, son of Rev. Dr. Hodge, secretary of the Presbyterian board of education in Philadelphia and nephew of Alexander Van Rensselaer, went to China within the last year. He is accompanied by his wife, formerly Miss Esie Campbell Sinclair. He was born in Burlington, N. J., and she in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Dr. Dodge is a graduate of Princeton university and was president of the Presbyterian hospital in Philadelphia for several years before sailing. They were married after they had agreed to devote their lives to missionary work in China.

Miss Maud A. Mackay, who is an orphan, has been in China only a little more than a year. She was born in Exumston, Ill., on January 10, 1872. Her two brothers and sister live at Los Angeles, California.

Enrolling the Five Nations. Chicago, July 17.—A special to the Record from Westville, I. T., says: The United States commissioner to the Five Civilized tribes enrolled 200 Cherokee Indians here today. The roll book Indians refused to be enrolled upon the final rolls and tribal is expected. The leaders are preparing to hold a green corn dance in order to keep the Indians away and prevent enrollment.

With reference to the contradictory statements as to alleged agreements between various powers concerning the future of China, a foreign office official said today that nothing like a definite agreement, either verbal or written, has been made between Germany and Russia, but that there are agreements exist between Russia and Great Britain, assigning to each a distinct sphere. "Although England," said the official, "has several times complained since the agreement was made, Russia apparently has not felt it letty bound by it. Germany, for her part, as Russia knows, will not object if Russia monopolizes Manchuria."

The Chinese expeditionary corps will not leave until Emperor William returns from Norway, as he intends to inspect the corps personally and to bid the men farewell.

pend this part of the year to escape the heat, but nobody had any intention of going there when I left. Dr. Worth, a graduate of Yale, of North Carolina, has a house and hospital at Kiang-Yin, and was ordered by the natives to leave, as his property was to be consigned to the flames. If he remained, he was to be murdered. All through the Yang-Tse valley, from Shanghai up to and beyond Chin Kang, these orders had been given to foreigners, and a day had been fixed for carrying out the threat. I do not know what the date was, but there is not the slightest doubt but that the Chinese would do as they threaten in these things.

American Consul Martin telegraphed for a gunboat just before I left Chin Kang, but it is not likely that one could be sent to him as all three vessels had gone on to Taku. This leaves the situation very bad at Chin Kang. It is a very important place—a great central point—where 50,000,000 people pass every year.

TROOPS FOR CHINA CAMPAIGN. United States Will Furnish About Twelve Thousand.

Washington, July 16.—Sixty thousand men for the march to Peking and 20,000 more to defend the bases of operation at Tien Tsin and Taku is the estimate of the number of troops that will be required for the Chinese campaign.

Upon the basis of these figures, which it is said are those furnished by the commanders of the allied forces in China, this government will furnish between 10,000 and 12,000 soldiers.

Today's orders also contemplate the sending of a siege battery of artillery now at Fort Riley, Kan., for the Chinese service.

Secretary Root said at a late hour tonight that he had not received any word from the military officials in China regarding the reported disaster to the Ninth regiment. Admiral Hensley's dispatch covers a report of the disaster, about the only word that came to the navy department up to a late hour.

NO NEED FOR EXTRA SESSION.

Congressman Grosvenor Sees No Necessity for One.

New York, July 17.—Congressman Charles H. Grosvenor of Ohio, said last night that he knew of no particular necessity for President McKinley's return to Washington.

"Do you think there will be an extra session of Congress?" Gen. Grosvenor was asked.

"No," he answered. "I see no reason for haste. Seneca E. Payne, chairman of the committee on ways and means; John Dalzell of the committee on rules, and about thirty other members are in Europe. Then we need more light on the condition of affairs. This is bound to come soon. I guess everybody is reasonably sure that every foreigner in Peking was killed, so nothing is to be gained by marching on that city now, because there is nothing there to save."

"The Chinese seem to fight desperately," the reporter suggested.

"Yes," Gen. Grosvenor answered. "For some inscrutable reason the Germans have fact quite been driving the Chinese and furnishing them with arms and ammunition. The war department has long been aware that China is well equipped with modern armament and ammunition. Now she is using them against Germany. It is too bad that the navies of the world cannot be utilized in the present trouble. While I believe the government will act promptly and efficiently, I do not see how matters can be improved by undue haste. Better know all the facts; then we can proceed advisedly."

HULL WANTS EXTRA SESSION.

Chairman of House Committee on Military Affairs Favours One.

Chicago, July 17.—Congressman J. A. T. Hull, of Iowa, chairman of the House committee on military affairs, and author of the Hull military bill, is at the Auditorium for the summer, as a member of the Republican national congressional committee. Of the Chinese crisis he said:

"I believe there should be an extra session of Congress. I believe the American people do not think their duty. They are strong and they are not cowardly. They will not permit Russia, Germany, England and France to bear the brunt of the battle, and themselves to come in after all is over to claim a voice in the settlement. America has its own citizens to protect; its own minister has been murdered; its own commercial interests in China are at stake. Perhaps as an Iowa, a citizen of the State in which Conger was loved and honored, I feel more intensely than do Americans in general; but I do not believe it.

"The adjutant general of Iowa tells me Iowa can raise two regiments or twenty-four in twenty-four hours. Gen. Wheeler tells me the whole South is aflame and that they cry out to be allowed to go to China.

"An extra session of Congress may be needed to give the nation the power to exert its force in China. Under the present law unless there is a declaration of war by Congress the President has not the power to raise volunteers. I believe China has deliberately planned the whole movement. I think she has been arming herself against the world ever since the Japanese war. We know she bought 400,000 German Mausers, and it appears she has also Krupps and Chas. Schmidt guns. She has been secretly shipping into the Philippines I feel certain were destined for China herself."
