

RUNNING MATE FOR M'KINLEY.

The Question One that is Yet Far from Settlement.

MUST BE A CAREFUL CHOICE

Possibility that McKinley's Health
Will Fall, and the Vice President Become President.

[Early Dispatches.]

New York, May 21.—The Herald says: Republican members of Congress who are in the city last night said the question of a candidate for Vice President to run with President McKinley was as perplexing a problem as ever, and that the matter had taken on a new phase. This is caused by the state of the President's health.

The information that comes from Washington is that while the President's condition is not alarming, it is of a character to cause uneasiness among his intimate friends to whom the facts are known. They will not even breathe a word that the President is ill to serve four years more, and they are satisfied that more than usual care must be taken in providing for the presidential succession.

Really the vice presidency has been given as a sop to the defeated faction. The President, it is said, will be nominated with equal reference to his fitness for the presidency from the Ohio and his ability to accept the nomination of the Senate and his strength and popularity with the voters.

Reports that the President's health was on the point of a serious breakdown were spread months ago, and they were denied from Washington with great emphasis, and the President made it a point to show himself in public frequently. He was seen to possess great physical vigor, but his appearance was that of a man who had been under a great mental strain.

At recent conferences in Washington it has been assumed that Governor Roosevelt was entirely out of consideration, and his name was not pressed. It is said that it may be said that there are a very large number of Republicans in and out of the State who believe that the governor will be "killed" at Philadelphia. Still, at the meeting in Washington, his name was considered, among them being those of Cornelius N. Bliss, Secretary of the Navy, Senator Lodge, Governor Shaw, of Iowa; Senator Culham, of Illinois; Senator Volcott, of Colorado; and General E. S. Otis, of Rochester, N. Y.

When all was said and done it was agreed that the candidate for Vice President, who met all political and party agencies, had not been discussed.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY Heretofore to be Given to U. S. Navy Officers This Summer.

New York, May 21.—Instruction in operation of wireless telegraph instruments will be given to one class of officers which will be formed in Newport, R. I., during the coming summer. Two sets of instruments have been purchased and are now being taken to Newport.

Orders will be issued from Washington today detaching twelve cadets from the New York and Texas and assigning them to duty at the torpedo station in Newport. Ten older officers will also be attached to the station. These officers will receive the wireless telegraph instruction. These officers will witness the experiments with the Blunt submarine torpedo boat. The officers will not order any officers to duty on the boat, but will all be volunteers.

Secretary Long has given instructions that the repairs to the New York of the Texas shall be completed in ten days, so that they can be sent to the Boston to Grant's tour of Decoration day, and the usual salute.

The Alliance will be repaired at the New York navy yard and will be fitted with the old boilers of the Arizona. It is expected that the crew will be transferred to the Toledo, which will be made a training ship.

Secretary Long has received from the governor of Hongkong $1,000, Mexican currency, of that port for distribution among the families of the two enlisted men of the gunboat Wheeling who were killed in an explosion of a box of cartridges last January in honor of the anniversary of the German emperor's birth.

The Big Strike in Berlin.

Berlin, May 21.—The strike disturbances yesterday were mostly confined to the Rosenheller district. Elsewhere they were unimportant, order being restored at midnight.

Police officers were severely injured and two workmen were killed from wounds inflicted with sabres. Fifty others were injured, and 103 arrests were made.

The motorcars and conductors on the Karlsruhe electric tramways struck today for higher wages and shorter hours. Traffic is partially suspended.

SILVER REPUBLICANS ALERT.

Arranging to Have Towne as Running Mate for Bryan.

Kansas City, Mo., May 21.—Dr. A. B. Lawrence, of Eldorado, Kansas, is here in the request of Chas. A. Towne, the Republican candidate for Vice President, for the purpose of completing arrangements for holding the national convention of the Silver Republicans in this city.

Mr. Lawrence is the national committee man from Kansas, and will act in conjunction with Mr. Corser of Minnesota who is the treasurer of the national committee.

Dr. Lawrence said: "Bryan will go through with a shout. There is not the slightest doubt that he will be elected. But it is his running mate is something that is too far ahead for me to say positively. But that the Silver Republicans will try to force him to take the nomination is something that is not so sure. They shall not threaten, or in any other way force him to take the nomination. But it is my impression that they are no better man to run with Bryan and Towne.

Republicans will hold the state convention in Topeka, July 2. Mr. Towne has said that he will be there, and will, of course, be the center of attraction. They will finish the business at Topeka in time for the entire convention to take place directly here and participate in the business of the national convention."

HIS IDEAS ARE MIXED.
Dr. McGiffert Tries to Tell People

rather than submit to a heresy trial, with himself as defendant, preached his first sermon last night from the Plymouth church pulpit of Beecher, Abbott and Hills.

Dr. Hills, in introducing Dr. McGiffert, said that Dr. Briggs was expelled from a church for believing that there were two Isaiahs. "Imagine several hundred men," said Dr. Hills, "none of them knowing a word of Hebrew, deciding by vote whether there was one or two Isaiahs."

Dr. McGiffert took for his text: Paul's words, "I would that ye all spoke with many tongues, but rather that ye prophesied," and spoke of prophecies. He said that for a century and a half the Church communed with God, and that not until the Church became gradually secularized in the latter half of the second century did it commence to look to the past for guidance.

"Paul," he said, "did not mean 'foretell,' but the telling of something learned of God by the term of prophecy." In this scientific age, when thinking man esteems only first-hand knowledge as of any worth and demands the permanency and uniformity of law, it is hard to convince men that God was once present on earth, and His not being here now leads men to deny that He ever was here.

"There seems to be," added Dr. McGiffert, "a widespread notion that God exposed Himself to man in a way in which He is no longer seen, and the scientific man wants to make itself never revealed Himself to man. But does it not mean that God is revealing Himself to us now? This demand for first-hand knowledge is bringing us to a condition enjoyed by the Church before it became secularized, and as our vision of God grows larger, and we learn to appreciate the larger and clearer visions, not because they tell us they are true, but because we, too, have seen Him."

"Christianity stands for the actual presence of God in this age. The demand of this scientific age for first-hand evidence has created a habit of direct vision which is making itself felt within the religious sphere. This habit of mind is laying a greater responsibility upon us Christians. Men will not accept opinions framed by us from what others have said. It is our own visions they will receive, because we cause us to seek God for ourselves and we find Him.

"It seems to me we may soon not ask converts, 'Do you believe in God?' but may substitute, 'Have you seen God?'"

This suggestion seemed to excite the congregation, and Dr. McGiffert added, "It may startle you, but what a grand thing it would be if in all our churches each Christian might be able to say, 'I have seen God.' Our crowds have not been altogether blessings to us. The transcendent God we have worshipped for ages is giving way to the immanent God. The world needs not a hand reached out from another sphere, but a heart and life throbbing here among us."

BELIEVED EACH OTHER DEAD.

Two Brothers Meet at a Railway Station. After 26 Years.

Chicago, May 21.—Believing each other dead, Cornelius Garson of San Francisco, Cal., and Isaac L. Garson of Chicago met by chance at the Northwestern station Sunday.

Twenty-six years ago Cornelius Garson left Chicago for the West and went to Honolulu, where he found his knowledge of building and contracting in great demand. After several years he returned to San Francisco and engaged in business. In the meantime he had heard nothing from his brother Isaac, and believed him dead.

Mr. and Mrs. Garson arrived in Chicago Sunday, en route to Paris. They were walking on the platform at the station, when the appearance of a man standing beside the gate attracted the attention of Mr. Garson. He walked over to the man and asked, "Is your name Garson?"

The man replied that it was.

"Don't you know me?" asked the first speaker. "I'm Cornelius, your brother."

The recognition was complete, and the men threw their arms around each other and wept for joy.

Isaac Garson had planned to go to a suburb, but the visit was postponed, and the long separated brothers and Mrs. Garson went at once to the hotel of the Chicago man, where an impromptu family reunion was at once organized.

Passion Play.

Oberammergau, May 20.—Dress rehearsal of the Passion play was attended by 4,000 people today, many Americans being present. The tragedy of the crucifixion was never before so marvelously presented. It was an all-day performance, with Biblical tableaux of the scenes preceding the crucifixion intervening. Herr Anton Lang, the Christus of this year's production, is a man of fine presence, chastened beauty and devout, though pitiful demeanor.

PROTESTANTISM IS NOT CHRISTIAN

Dr. Heber Newton Calls It Blind
Leader of the Blind.

IS NOT FOLLOWING CHRIST

Dr. Bliss Says the Same, and that Religious People Leave the Denominational Churches.

[Early Dispatches.]

New York, May 21.—The Christian Citizenship League recently sent to a number of representative men and women of advanced thought the questions: "Is the church Christian? Does she stand for the things for which Jesus stood and teach the truths He taught?" Among the replies received was one from Dr. Heber Newton, of All Souls Church. "In answer to your question," he said, "I can only at present give a word. If, by this question, however, I mean, 'Is the church as an organization, Christ, possessed of the spirit of Christ and following the teachings of Christ, and organized upon the principles of Christ?' then I am afraid the answer must be 'No.'"

"The teachings of the church, for the most part, are far from following the teachings of Jesus. Nay, they are far from recognizing what those teachings are. The organization of the church is planned and patterned upon a policy which is the very antithesis of a true society of Jesus."

"Commercialism dominates the organization and conventionalized tyrannizes the pulpit. The law of the market, rather than the law of the Mount, is accepted by the church at large.

"Our Protestant churches are composed, for the most part, of a constituency drawn from the well-to-do classes, and they see nothing essentially unsound or unethical in the economic system of the day. The pulpit, therefore, is rarely free to deliver its soul, if it has one upon the burning questions of our generation.

"Blind leaders of the blind, both seem hastening to fall into the ditch which lies before our civilization. And yet within the Christian church is the very ideal that the world hunger for, the very law that it needs to apply to its economic problems, the very power to solve these problems. Infinitely pathetic the situation."

The Rev. W. D. P. Bliss, in a lecture at the Aurora Grand Cathedral, Brooklyn, yesterday, declared the church is not Christian and that the working people are leaving it because they are religious.

MORE TROUBLE IN SAMOA.

Revolt Against Germany Is Likely—Mataafa Dissatisfied.

New York, May 21.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: Unofficial advice, which have been received by the authorities here, indicate that Germany is likely to experience trouble in dealing with the natives of the islands of Upolu and Savaii, of the Samoan group.

Mataafa, one of the Samoan chiefs, expected to be rewarded with the kingship after German sovereignty had been extended over the islands, and is very much disgruntled over his failure to secure the prize he has been so earnestly seeking. German officials have been placed in charge of the islands and the natives will be required to bow to German laws and regulations. Mataafa and his people are making every effort to overthrow the policy their new government is pursuing, and in some quarters no surprise will be expressed if a revolt should occur.

Methodist Conference Prospects.

Chicago, May 21.—The present week is looked on as in many ways the most important of the Methodist general conference. During the next six days the bishops, the secretaries, the editors of the Advocates, and publishing agents are to be elected. Some of the great questions which are to be solved will come to the point where the secretaries must dispose of them—most immediate, the far reaching time limit question.

The standing committees have their reports ready and are only seeking opportunity to present them. These reports bring up the woman question, the amusement rule, the deacons question, and other important subjects. It is generally admitted that there will be a race between committees to get in their reports, as there will be numerous recommendations that cannot be acted on at all.

The committees have had their most important debates and their sessions from now on will diminish in interest. Several of the committees will adjourn at their first meeting this week to meet again upon call of the chairman.

Elections, when the two bishops have been chosen, will go more swiftly, as there are sure to be numerous re-elections among the editors and secretaries. Delegates are required to stay until the last day, so there will be little falling off in attendance. The date now fixed for adjournment is May 29.

A Professor Murdered.

Philadelphia, May 20.—Prof. Roy Wilson White, 23 years old, an instructor in the law department of the University of Pennsylvania, was struck down and brutally murdered late last night. He left the university at 10 o'clock last night to board a train for Germantown, a suburb. Shortly before 11 o'clock he was found in an unfrequented part of Thirty-second street. His skull had been crushed, evidently by an iron bar. He died in the hospital this morning without regaining consciousness.

It has not yet positively been established that the motive was robbery, as the only article missing was the professor's watch. Three men, two of them negroes, have been arrested on suspicion.

A Desperate Battle.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 20.—Advices from Colombia by the Royal Mail steamer "Trent," say the rebels are operating around Panama, which is full of troops, some of whom are quartered in the churches. An engagement took place May 16th north of Panama, the rebels being driven off.

Carthage is still in possession of the government. The "Trent" was to have conveyed a body of troops to Carthage, but the rebels destroyed the bridges on the night of May 13th, thus preventing the troops arriving for embarkation.

On the same night a desperate engagement took place outside of Carthage in which the government troops were victorious. As many as 500 rebels are said to have been killed in the fighting.

The country is in a frightful state, financially, paper dollars being only a few cents each.

HARMON PUZZLES THE SHORT LINES

Great Work of Pocatello's Pitcher
Saturday Afternoon.

HOME TEAM'S POOR PLAYING

Kidder's Work Was Fair, but His Support Miserable—Visitors Got in Thirteen Hits, Two to Second.

Saturday's game between the Pocatello and Short Lines resulted in defeat for the local team, and it makes the fifth game they have played and lost. The game was won and lost by the superb pitching of the visitors' man Harmon, and the horrible errors of the Short Lines.

It seemed almost impossible for the home lads to hold a ball, apparently Kidder was the only one who could. Kidder's pitching was not what was expected of him, but considering his miserable support it was good.

It was distinctly a pitcher's battle throughout and the twirler from Idaho had it all his own way. The Short Lines simply couldn't find him at all, securing only six hits, two of which were scratches. On the other hand the visitors got in on Kidder thirteen hits, two of them to second and one to third.

The Short Lines were in a dazed condition until nearly the close of the game when they woke up and did a little creditable work.

The game closed with a score of 9 to 3 in favor of the visitors. A new umpire was in the field, Sam Brown, and his decisions at all times were impartial, although some on strikes were criticised by those in the grand stand. There was a good sized crowd in attendance but little enthusiasm was manifested until the latter part of the contest.

IDAH0 TEAM DEFEATED.

The Rio Grandes Show Them How to Play Ball.

Yesterday afternoon at Walker's Park the Rio Grandes again demonstrated their right to first place in Utah-Idaho baseball, by defeating the Pocatello team by a score of 11 to 4.

Nothing especially new can be said of the home team's work, for as usual it was neat, clean and fast.

Pendergraff, the Rio's pitcher, treated the visitors as they did the Short Lines Saturday. Eubanks, Pocatello's pitcher was exceedingly raw when compared with Harmon's work the day previous.

The game was inspired by Charlie Griffin. Following is the score:

SCROFULA The Blighting Disease of Heredity.

In many respects Scrofula and Consumption are alike; they develop from the same general causes, both are hereditary and dependent upon an impure and impoverished blood supply. In consumption the disease fastens itself upon the lungs; in Scrofula the glands of the neck and throat swell and suppurate, causing ugly running sores; the eyes are inflamed and weak; there is an almost continual discharge from the ears, the limbs swell, bones ache, and white swelling is frequently a result, causing the diseased bones to work out through the skin, producing indescribable pain and suffering. Cutting away a sore or diseased gland does no good; the blood is poisoned. The old scrofulous taint which has probably come down through several generations has polluted every drop of blood.

Scrofula requires vigorous, persistent treatment. The blood must be brought back to a healthy condition before the terrible disease can be stopped in its work of destruction. Mercury, iodine and other poisonous minerals usually given in such cases do more harm than good; they ruin the digestion and leave the system in a worse condition than before.

S. S. S. is the only medicine that can reach deep-seated blood troubles like Scrofula. It goes down to the very roots of the disease and forces every vestige of poison out of the blood. S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known. The roots and herbs from which it is made contain wonderful blood purifying properties, which no poison, however powerful, can long resist. S. S. S. stimulates and purifies the blood, increases the appetite, aids the digestion and restores health and strength to the enfeebled body. If you have reason to think you have Scrofula, or your child has inherited any blood taint, don't wait for it to develop, but begin at once the use of S. S. S. It is a fine tonic and the best blood purifier and blood builder known, as it contains no poisonous minerals. S. S. S. is pre-eminently a remedy for children.

When my daughter was an infant she had a severe case of Scrofula, for which she was under the constant care of physicians for more than two years. She was worse at the end of that time, however, and we almost despaired of her life. A few bottles of Swift's Specific cured her completely, as it seemed to go direct to the cause of the trouble. I do not believe it has an equal for stubborn cases of blood diseases which are beyond the power of other so-called blood remedies. S. S. S. S. L. Broom, Monticello, Ill.

Our medical department is in charge of experienced physicians who have made Scrofula
