MILWAUKEE, August 6 .- By a peculiar accident at the launching of the steamer William H. Wolf, at Wolf & Davidson's ship yard this afternoon, three persons were several others fatally injured, about twenty hurt and a large number of others less seriously injured. About ,000 people had gathered to witness the launching. The docks were lined with vessels which were crowded, and every scow and lumber pile was blocked with spectators. Directly opposite the cradled vessel was a large coal dock, of the Northwestern Manufacturers of and Dealers in COTTON SAIL DUCK, "Woodberry," Druid Mills "PULLIFALES" and other favorite brands, at number Superscript, Medium and Soft. Fuel Company. It is roofed with huge derricks for unloading coal. Upon the roof of this coal shed a large number COTTON CANVASS of all numbers—14 to 13 makes wide for Deck, Car, Trunk and Wagon Coverings, Machine Aproas and for other purposes, constantly in store and of people had assembled. The view from this point was a fine one as the vessel moved directly toward the dock made to order.

Severe Fire.

LONDON, August 6 .- Whitely's ermous drapery and general store warehouge in Westbourne Grove and Queen's Road, Paddington, was partially destroyed by fire this evening. The occupiary damage is placed at $1,250,000. It is believed that there was no insurance on the property. Several of Whitely's employes and a score of firemen were crossing a frain bridge, which connected one building with another, when the structure colapsed, throwing its occupants down nto the street a distance of fifty feet. Toree employes and two firemen were killed outright. All the others received terrible injuries, some of which, it is thought, will prove fatal.

SECRETARY WHITNEY recently received the following report dated Halifax July 30th, from Admiral Luce, commanding the North Atlantic squadron:

"As there appeared to be a want of information on the part of our fisher-men operating in the Gulf of St. Lawrence in regard to the restrictions imosed upon foreign fishing vessels by the Canadian laws, a series of interro-gatories were submitted to Captain Scott, of the Canadian fishery service, covering the rights and the statutory restrictions, and I have the honer to enclose herewith the answers. A num-MINISTERS, VOCALISTS, PUBLIC Speakers and the professions gen-erally recommend SANTA ABLE as the best per of these circulars will be distributed among the fishing fleet for the information of those concerned."

The enclosure is a printed sheet headed Queries and contains a SERIES OF QUESTIONS submitted by Admiral Luce and re-plies thereto by Captala Scott. Secretary Whitney yesterday cabled

"To Admiral Luce, Halifax: I asume that your application to Captain Scott was not for the purpose of ob-taining from him an expression of the law, but to enable our fishermen to know the extent of the Canadian claim and thus avoid the difficulties if they should so choose. This is not quite clear from your report and it would be petter to issue no more circulars and to withdraw such as are within your reach. Captain Scott is not under stood to be the agent of his govern-ment for any such purpose as that for which you have employed him and it he were, the application might more properly be made to our own government in case a correct statement of the Canadian claims is desired.

to obtain the required rest and recreation in California and says he intends if nothing prevents, to return to the islands by the first steamer in October Despite the explanation made by the ex-premier as to the manner of his departure from Honolulu, the captain of the brig Spreckels says his departure was arranged by some of his friends who feared for his safety and that in fact he was smuggled out of the king-dom. When he appeared on board the ship the captain says he showed the effect of the excitement through which he had passed, but when the ship bore away from the city regained his composure. Among the comments of the Hawaiian newspapers received here to-day is the intimation that the new ministry will REPUDIATE THE LOAN recently effected in England. It is stated that the new premier, Green, claims that the bonds are worthless in that they were not issued in accordance with the legislative act which prescribed that they should be issued in denominations of American money, when in fact they are issued in English pounds. Another objection to the legality of the Issue is that one of the signatures required is printed and not written. Paul Kanoa, a Kanaka statesman, who cannot write his name, had to sign the bonds in some manner, and had his name printed. It is said that Green and his associates have already been warned by the British consul that their plans will meet with the disapproval of the British government, and will have to be altered to suit the wishes of those who have invested their capital in good faith.

Last year under the boodle gang it cost over $200,000 to run the asylum alone. The first crooked work Jones discovered, was that of Wm. Kalse, milk contractor, who the clerk discovered was delivering milk that showed sixty per cent of water. Jones refused to accept it, and it a few days the management of that business was taken out of his hands. Kalse thereafter delivered swill milk to the paupers and cream for the boodlers' table. Nothing of a startling nature has occurred since the signing of the constitution by King Kalakana and the departure of ex - Pre-mier Gibson for the United States. On the day that the King signed the constitution the marshal of the kingdom, accompanied by the police, blow-ing a horn, rode around the principal streets of the city and proclaimed the constitution; the next day it was proclaimed in the districts throughout the island and a few days later throughgroup. The The meeting was not entirely harmonious, and according to advices, adourned without formally nominating andidates. After stating the object of the meeting, the chairman cautioned the speakers not to use exciting language, then called on one S. Kaue. This speaker said: "A short time ago a new constitution was drawn up and signed by his majesty the King and his ministers; we have not yet signed it. don't hesitate to say that some of the articles in the new constitution are very good, others are not. For the first time in the history of this kingdom, we have power to vote for nobles, that is providing we take an oath under the new constitution; if we do not take the oath, of course we cannot ote. But in this PERILOUS TIME we are under obligation to take the oath under it, no matter whether we agree with it or not. We shall have the majority on our side and then will be able to charge it."

The next speaker was one Kaloukor, who said as no candidates had yet been numbrated, he would propose his own name for the district of Honoguen. He approved of the new constitution. The liberty of voting had never before been accorded to the people and no one had been oppressed by the new constitution." Some of the remarks of the speaker seemed not to meet the approval of the audience. J. M. POBPOR, addressing the audience, said: "The country which heretofore had been jubilant was now in mourning. The previous speaker had said that they were not expressed by this new con-stitution; he is an angel of death. (Ap-plause.) There is little goodness in the new constitution, but there is much to condemn. In the next legismuch to condemn. In the next legislature the new constitution will be

are doing it little by little, and it will
