DESERET EVENING NEWS: TUESDAY, JULY 19, 1904.

Steve Zackland, the Austrian who was arrested Saturday night on the charge of carrying concealed weapons, was fined $10. While his friends were out getting the money with which to pay his fine one of his fellow countrymen called at the police station and reported having been robbed of $60 by a big man. He was taken in the jail where Zackland was and there identified him positively as the man who robbed him of his money. County Attorney Hulaniski was consulted on the matter and issued the complaint charging Zachland with the crime. In the meantime some of Zackland's friends hunted up the man who was robbed, and inup the man who was robbed, and in-duced him to withdraw the complaint, if Zackland would turn over the $60 he had in his possession. This the robbed man agreed to do and he went to the county attorney and asked to with-draw the complaint, stating that he could not get the witnesses who saw the robbery. Zackland turned over the $60 to the man and the action was dis-missed. missed

ACRICULTURE AND MANUAL TRAINING IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The following resolutions respecting the introduction of instruction in farming and manual training were unanimously adopted at the twenty-second annual convention of the American Seed Trade association at St. Louis, Mo. June 23, 1904, as reported by Mr. J. E. Northrup, chairman of the committee. Whereas, hi is essential to the maintenance of stable social conditions and the permanence of our national prosperity, that the drift of population to the cities should be checked and that the majority of the population of this country should be independent and selfsustaining homeowners, tilling their own acres for a livelihood; and, Whereas, This can only be accomp.

lished through the establishment of a national system of education in which both farm and manual training will be taught and every child learn to love nature and the country and be trained toward the land as a means of livellhood rather than away from it; and,

Whereas, The public domain is the heritage of the whole people of the nation and will, if reserved for homebuilders, afford an outlet for our surplus population and an opportunity for multitudes of our people to get homes on the land through the extension of the beneficent provisions of the national irrigation act; and,

Whereas, The problem of the unemployed in our cities can best be solved by teaching those who are out of work to farm for a flying, and creating the opportunity for each man or family to get a piece of ground large enough to yield a livelihood for a family when tilled by intensive methods of cultiva-tion and irrigation; now, therefore, be it Resolved, That the public school sys-
