Local and Other Matters.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, JUNE 10.

Old Folks' Excursion.—The Bishops of this city and county are respectfully reminded that tickets for the above excursion will be ready to-morrow. First come, first served. Hurry up the lists of the aged, of 70 years and upwards.

The Frisco Fire.—During the gale at Frisco, last Friday, a fire broke out in the wood and charcoal yard of Godbe & Co's. Smelter, and 3,000 bushels of coal, 300 cords of wood were consumed. Loss $3000. The property was fully covered by insurance.

Ladies' Conference.—The regular Quarterly Conference of the Relief Societies and Young Ladies Improvement Associations of this Stake, will be held in the 14th Ward Assembly Rooms, on Friday and Saturday, the 20th and 21st inst. Reports are wanted before the 15th if possible.

"Dispatch" Notes.—The Dispatch says: "O she's a daisy, she's a darling, is now a popular refrain with the boys."

Wish we had some of your boys down here; ours don't seem disposed to refrain at all.

From the same paper, we learn that James Clark, the light-fingered printer, arrested for burglary, who plead not guilty on Saturday, was up before Justice Middleton yesterday, reversed his plea and was fined $25, and costs; total $60, which he will work out.

District Court.—Yesterday the defendants in the case of Mary L. Cutler vs. the U. C. R. R., were given 15 days in which to file a statement on motion for a new trial.

The People, vs. Jacob Hoffman et al; request by the district attorney for a continuance of the case not granted, and the cases as to the defendant Hoffman dismissed.

Joseph G. Hussey et al, vs. Job Smith et al; case dismissed as to defendants Rosborough and Merritt. Case continued for further order of the court as to defendant Smith.

The Dudley case has been going on all this morning.

Fire at Smithfield.—Mr. Wm. Noble, of Smithfield, Cache County, writes that on the 6th inst. a destructive fire occurred one mile north of that place, resulting in the entire destruction of George Barber's property, consisting of houses, sheds, corrals, hay, all his bedding and household furniture, farming implements and about 400 or 500 cedar posts, besides a large amount of lumber. A heavy wind was blowing from the south, which took a spark from the stove pipe, and in a few moments the sheds and stables were in flames, and when the fire was under good headway, the wind suddenly changed and struck the house, situated some eight rods south of the sheds, and before sufficient assistance could be obtained all was a mass of ruins. The wind was stronger than ever known here before, and as the fire consumed, the ashes were blown away. A self-binder was also destroyed belonging to Bishop Reskelly.—Junction.

"Dispatch" Items.—We get the following from the Ogden Dispatch:

Work on our soap factory is progressing slowly but surely, and soon will add another to Ogden's industries.

One hundred and thirty-one emigrants arrived from the east to-day, 120 went west, 7 go north in the morning, and 4 remain in Ogden.

A Good Idea.—Mr. J. Williamson, who keeps the Seventh Ward meat market, has adopted a new and excellent plan for serving his customers, which cannot but meet the commendation of all.

He has a large wire screen around his stand, by which the meat is protected from flies, and serves his customers through a slide wire door similar to that of a restaurant, through which the cook passes the food to the waiter in the dining hall. The idea is a very novel one, and withal, very satisfactory.

City Council.—Proceedings at the City Council on Tuesday evening, Mayor Little presiding:

F. A. Pascoe petitioned the council for permission to amend his petition of May 27th, and set forth that if the land asked for was considered to be in too close proximity to the Warm Springs, he would curtail the amount of land for his dumping ground to ten or fifteen acres. As this land was indispensable to him, he hoped his prayer would be granted. Received and referred to the committee on public grounds.

Christopher Merkley petitioned for the use of one half of the street adjoining his land in the Pugsley and Needham entry, Nineteenth Ward Pasture. Received and referred to the committee on streets and alleys.

The Assessor and Collector presented a communication stating that he had been unable to complete the copying and footings of the assessment roll, and asked for one week's further extension of time to make the return. Granted.

The committee on waterworks reported on the petition of John Napper, of the 20th Ward, who asked the privilege of pumping water from the water ditch through pipes to his residence, and recommended that the prayer be granted during the pleasure of the Council. Report accepted and recommendation adopted.

The committee on public grounds reported on the petitions of F. A. Pascoe, R. B. Margetts, John Wm. Snell and Morris & Evans, and recommended that the land asked for by them be sold and conveyed to said parties at prices from $5 to 10 per acre, according to the location of the land. Report accepted and recommendation adopted.

The Mayor presented a report of the contingent fund placed in his hands, for the quarter ending May 31st, 1879, which showed a total expenditure of $251.94. Approved.

The auditor of public accounts submitted his report for the same quarter. It showed that $54,190.88 had been received on all accounts for the three months, and $54,729.93 expended. The balance in treasury at last report was $678.04. Balance in treasury June 1st, 1879, $138.99. Referred to the committee on finance.

The street supervisor made his quarterly report, which showed the amount expended during the quarter on street improvement, $5,912.16, besides 765 days of prisoners' labor at $1 per day, $765. Total $6,697.16. Referred to the committee on claims.

The superintendent of the water works also submitted his quarterly report, which showed a total expenditure of $2,006.48. The amount expended on service pipe to water takers for the quarter was $756.75. Referred to the committee on water works.

A motion was made and carried, to refer to the special committee on water supply the feasibility of constructing one or more reservoirs in City Creek Cañon, with the probable cost thereof, the committee to report at an early day.

Adjourned to Tuesday, May 27th, 1879, at 7 o'clock p. m.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, JUNE 12.

Immigrants Arrived.—The company of immigrants, under charge of Elder A. F. McDonald, reached Salt Lake last evening, as expected.

Thunderstorm.—This afternoon we have been favored with a genuine old-fashioned thunderstorm. Peals of heaven's artillery and vivid flashes of lightning were pleasingly interspersed with the most copious showers of rain, and umbrellas sped to and fro like an army of animated mushrooms. Happy the man who slept with one under his pillow, last night.

The First Trip.—The first regular trip over the entire length of the Utah Southern Railroad, will be made to-morrow. The train will start at 7 o'clock in the morning, and return at 6.30 in the evening, in accordance with the new time table. We acknowledge the courtesy of an invitation from the Superintendent of the road to go along with the party.

Send to the Secretaries.—The secretaries of the various branches of the relief societies and young ladies' associations of this stake, will please send in their reports before the 15th inst., if possible, the relief society reports for Mrs. Elizabeth Howard, care Exponent office, the others to Mrs. Augusta J. Crocheron, P. O. Box 419, stake secretary of the Y. L. M. I. A.

Returned Missionary.—We had a call this morning from Elder Joseph Bull, Jr., who returned from a mission to Europe with the emigrants that arrived last evening. He has been absent for over two years, laboring principally in the Birmingham and Sheffield Conferences, England, and a short time assisting in the Liverpool office. He met with gratifying success, was received kindly by his relatives whom he visited, and returns in good health and spirits. Welcome home.

A Dangerous Nuisance.—A nuisance exists on the street east of the State Road, just below the city, in the shape of a number of dead carcasses, which people persist in dragging and leaving there to poison the atmosphere. The stench is sickening in the vicinity, and in these times of pestilential diseases, with hot weather approaching, the danger should not be permitted to exist, nor the persons go unnoticed who thus recklessly imperil the health of the community. Let those carcasses be removed and buried, and a repetition of similar exposures be met with the punishment of the offenders.

Tobacco Sheep-dip.—We had a call, to-day, from S. H. Kennedy, Esq., of Omaha, Nebraska, manufacturer of Kennedy's celebrated non-poisonous sheep dip (tobacco dip). He has just returned from an extended trip through Southern California, Oregon, and Washington Territory, introducing that useful article in all the noted sheep raising regions of the great west. He has disposed of 10,000 gallons on this trip, and has met with gratifying success everywhere he has traveled. An agency for the sale of the sheep dip has been established here, with Mr. H. B. Clawson, manager. Sheep raisers will find it to their advantage to use this article in preference to all others of a similar character.

TO SABBATH SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENTS.

I wish to learn how many schools in Salt Lake County intend to unite with those of this City on the 24th of July, and how many have musical leaders to teach the children the following songs: "To-day," "When Jesus shall come in His Glory," and "Gather round the Standard Bearer." A prompt answer from every Superintendent outside of this city will much oblige,
GEORGE GODDARD,
County Supt.

THE DUDLEY CASE.

After recess yesterday,

MRS. WADMAN,

Mother of the deceased, was again put upon the stand and underwent further examination from the prosecution:—Between 4 and 5 o'clock on the Thursday evening before the murder, Dudley came to my house and asked if Henry was at home. He said he had seen Henry in Ogden. I told Henry Joe had been to see him. He said that was strange, as he had just left Raymond's and Joe had not got home. I said Joe had not been gone long enough to get home. Henry did not go out that night.

Prosecution rested. The defense wished to offer rebutting testimony.

ALBERT ELLSWORTH

Was put upon the stand: Saw Dudley the Thursday evening before the killing. I was going to my sister's. Uncle Joe came past in a wagon with Preston Blair, and I went along with them. When we got to Blair's, Dudley got out, and he and I went on to Raymond's. We had one horse and took turns riding and walking. We got to Raymond's about 5 o'clock. He was coming from Ogden. We passed Wadman's when Joe was riding. Did not stop. No conversation was had with Mrs. Wadman. Joe went across the road to Mrs. Raymond's for a time. I don't remember seeing Wadman at Spencer Raymond's that evening. I went across to old man Raymond's. Mr. and Mrs. R. and Miss R. and my uncle were there, I think. I think it was that evening that Mr. Wadman came there.

PRESTON BLAIR

Recalled—Albert Ellsworth left my house with Dudley on Thursday evening, Albert on the horse with Dudley walking a little ahead.

Both sides rested. The argument for the prosecution was then commenced by Assistant District Attorney Beatty, at the close of which the Court adjourned until this morning.

This morning, Judge Tilford opened the defense and continued all the forenoon. He was followed, after recess, by Judge Williams, for the defense, who at last accounts, was still speaking and will probably occupy the remainder of the day. Judge Van Zile will probably begin his address in the morning, and the Judge's charge being given, the case will go to the jury.

The Monarch of the Fashion Magazine,

Well in advance of the heated term, while yet the Spring time lingers with us, EHRICH'S FASHION QUARTERLY for Summer comes to tell us what to wear, what to eat, what to play at, what to read, and how to behave ourselves generally, during the sultry Summer days.

Such a mass of information was surely never offered before for the same money. The cost by the year is but twelve and a half cents a number; and an enumeration of the contents of the Summer issue will show how full and varied is the entertainment provided by the publishers for this small price. The Magazine is divided into two departments, one devoted to literature, and the other to descriptions and illustrations of the coming fashions. The former portion opens with a reprint of Mary Howitt's charming poem, "Birds in Summer," whose breezy melody well entitles it to the resurrection Messrs. Ehrichs have accorded it. Next comes the conclusion of a well written novelle commenced in the Spring number. Then follow poems by Josephine Pollard and K. T. W., intermingled with stories and sketches by Kate True, Daisy Everbright, Kate Tannatt Woods, Regia Embury, etc., all interesting and readable. Mrs. Kate Hunnibee discourses from her "Easy Chair" with all the grace and sparkle that erstwhile characterized her utterances in "Heath and Home;" while Miss Juliet Corson contributes "Our Household Council," and a seasonable chapter on "Table Talk and Social Etiquette."

In the Fashion Department are to be found a bewildering array of costumes for Summer use, embracing suits of every description, from the richest silk to the plainest calico wrapper. Following these are a complete Line of Tourist's Articles, embracing everything needed by the most exacting traveler, and a well illustrated descriptive list of materials for Summer sports and pastimes.

The Spring and Summer numbers, strictly speaking, are but two parts of a single book, each essential to the other. The former contains much information adapted for both seasons, while the latter is too full of its own reasonable utterances to allow room for repetitions from its elder brother. Both therefore, should be consulted together, a fact which new subscribers are requested to note.

Altogether, Ehrich's Fashion Quarterly is a credit to its publishers, and will prove a boon to its subscribers.

Published by Ehrich & Co., 287 and 295 Eighth Avenue, New York, at 50 cents a year, or 15 cents a single copy.
