Alex Greggains Would Like to Match Butte Man Against Joe Millet.

A SAN FRANCISCO FICHTER.

If the Miner Can Polish Him Off He May Get a Chance at Jeffries for Championship.

Since Jack Munroe, the Butte miner, Since Jack Munroe, the Butte miner, passed up the chance Jeffries gave him a few weeks ago to fight for the world's championship, he is farther away from a match with the boiler maker than ever. If he ever faces Jeffries in the squared circle, it will be after he had defeated some fairly good man. Matchmakers are now look-ing about them for some one to match with Munroe. Alex Greggains, of the San Francisco Athletic club is one who is trying to remembered by Salt Lake fight fans as the man who looked after George Gardner when the latter defeated Jack Roet at the Salt Palace. Greggains will be agther when the latter defeated Jack Roet at the Salt Palace. Greggains will be able to make the Montana fighter go some. He is Joe Millet, Greggains is willing to give the pair a purse to fight for in January. It is likely that Munroe will accept the offer and start for ite coast within a few weeks. Millet? Who is he? Well, he is the lafest San Franciscan to be passed up to the public gaze to see whether passed up the chance Jeffries gave latest San Franciscan to be passed up to the public gaze to see whether he has the proper stuff in him or not. he has the proper stuff in him of not. He was matched to fight Gus Ruhlin this month, but the man in the east called everything off. It may be that Joe is there and will have a chance. Who can tell? He is just 23 years of age and when in the ring tips the beam at 184 pounds. He is growing all the time and will be a 200-pounder in a few more years. Just about a year ago Millet tired of the amateur game in San Francisco of the amateur game in San Flanckoo and sailed away to Honolulu to try his hand at the professional game in the islands. It wasn't long before Joe was matched, and James Douglass hap-pened to be the 'fall guy.' He got me round.

it in one round. Douglass was champion heavy-weight of the English navy and was looked upon as a hard customer. His defeat boosted Millet's name and he was given another match. This time Tem Mattox, who has won some fights there, was his opponent. This "go" also went one round. The body punent was too much for Mattox and te blew up.

ally Woods, who trained Jim Corbett at Carson for the "go" with Fitz, was then proucred and put in the ring with Millet. Woods went out in the fourth round after an awful gruelling.

fourth round after an awful grueiling. Millet tried to get on as Jim Cor-bett's sparring partner while the latter was working for "Jeff." Jim had all he wanted and Millet went home and waited for time to pass away. Millet has lost but one fight and that was four years ago to John J. Roden-bach of New York, the amateur cham-pion middle-weight of the United States. This "go" was held during a tournament at the Olympic club in Frisco. Millet and Rodenbach fought through tourney to the finals, and after through tourney to the finals, and after a hard fight Millet lost the decision in a four round "go" with the champion, weight championship of the coast at a tournament held in the same club. He defeated three men in that tourney-Gus McIntyre, Fritz Wagner and Fred Dender Bayley. His last appearance in Frisco was with Louis Balletro at an amateur show. Balletro went out in the sec-ond round after hitting the carpet six Millet is one of the many finds Alec Greggains had dug up in his time. He first appeared in Greggain's amateur club, and ever since that time Alec has taken a liking to him. When George Gardner trained in the west for his fights Millet was always his sparring partner, and, although his sparring partner, and, although nothing but a novice at the time, gave George some choice rubs in the game of 'mix." It was Gardner who put Millet next to some of the fancy points of the same of the game.

BENNY YANGER'S EXCUSE.

Says Hanlon's Blows Did Not Hurt Him Was Something Else.

When Benny Yanger returned to Chl-cago after his defeat at the hands of Ed-die Hanlon, he explained to his friends that it was not Hanlon's punch that dazed him, but it was when his chin hit the carpet that he went in for astronomy. Concerning such "accidents" Lou House-man says:

the shortest battle on record-about three seconds. Harking back 40 years and more, it will be remembered that John C. Heenan, when fighting John Morrissey, had all the better of the fray until, alming a hard punch at the other fellow, he hit a post full tilt and crushed his knuckles, thus spolling his, right hand and ultimately losing the verdict. These are only a few instances which show how large a part pure accident and the interference of inanimate objects have often played in combats of the ring. They go to prove that mere strength or

They go to prove that mere strength or splendid skill, or even the two combined, may not always win, and that even bull-head luck is not always proof against a sudden influence exerted by the adjoining scenery.

Friends Work for Green. The announcement made in these col-umns several months ago to the effect that friends of Phil Green, the young pu-glist who engaged in several ring battles in this city, intended to work for a par-don for him, is now beginning to take define shape. Green got in trouble in Montana with Abe Breslin and the two were sent to the Montana state prison for seven years an i a half for attempted highway robbery. It has always been claimed by Green and his friends that Breslin was alone in the rob-bery and the only thing against Green was that he was in company with Abe shortly after the trouble. His Salt Lake and Montana friends are circulating a pe-tition for his parlon.

TWENTY-ROUND DRAW.

Neil and Regan Engaged in Vicious Fight For Bantamweight Championship.

Ing time and again to land his left ripping upper-cut, but only once did it land fair and flush. It put Regan down and he took the count to get the rest. He got up immediately and put Neil down with a terrific left on the jaw. Regan's best blow was a right upper-rut, and he repeatedly landed it on Neil's face and body. Neil started every round with a rush, and several times carried Regan through the ropes. But each time he good naturedly assisted the Brooklyn lad to his feet. After the fourteenth round Neil fought desperately, and at times wildly, in his efforts to get in a knockout punch, but Regan was too clever to be caught napping. Regan did to some tight corners by his fast foot-work. Neil showed up better at close range milling. After the decision hundreds crowded was the favorite in the betting at 10 to 6, but Regan did not lack for supporters, and a large amount of money was was ered on the outcome. ship at 126 Pounds. New York, Oct. 18.—Champion Young Corbett and Ben Jordan, the English fea-therweight champion, have been matched to meet for the world's featherweight championship. The match has been hang-ing fire for several months, but the fight-ers' representatives were unable to come to terms until today, when articles of agreement were signed. The fight will take place before the Hayes Valley Athletic club of San Fran-cisco about the middle of December and will be limited to 20 rounds. The fighters have agreed to post a forfeit of $2,500 each with Harry Corbeti fust as soon as Jordan reaches this country. The English-man will leave for America on next Wednesday. The weight agreed upon by the fighters is 125 pounds on the day of the contest.

MATCH BOWLING GAMES.

At' Harmonie and Collender Alleys Picked Teams Played Two Games.

The Harmonie and Collender bowing alleys presented a lively appearance last night on the occasion of two contests ar-ranged between picked teams. At the first named place the Strevell-Patterson team defeated the King Hardware bowlers by a score of 2,017 to 1,579. Teams organized from bowlers who participated in last year's games in the city league, played a series of three games. The results fol-low:

ON THE RACE TRACK.

Wonderful Dan Patch Paces a Mile in 1:59 1.4 at Lexington.

1:59 1-4 at Lexington. Lexington, Ky, Oct. 16.—Dan Patch, 1:59, broke the world's pacing record to a wagon in an exhibition mile here today and came within one-quarter second of equaling his own suiky record. The pre-vious pacing record to a wagon was 2:012, made by Little Boy on the accuphts track. Dan Patch clipped two and one-quarter seconds off this record, and went the mile in 1:504.

Dan Fatch chipped two and one-quarter seconds off this record, and went the mire in 1:694.
The champion stallion, king of pacers, was accompanied in his round of the track by two runners, driven by Hudson and Maguire. His time by quarters was: 304, 594, 1:29, 1:594. His third quarter was made in 2942 seconds. Track and weather conditions today were perfect. Four thousand people saw the record broken and cheered Driver McHenry lustily as he went under the wire. Dan Patch is owned by M. W. Savage of Mianeapolis. The thrty-first Trotung Horse Breeders' association came to a close today, summary:

Symptoms of Diseases of the Nerves.

The disease known as Contagious Blood Poison has become the curse of all mankind. It is universal and world-wide, and existed centuries ago and is older even than the Pyramids.

Upon the bodies of the ancient Egyptian mummies nodes and knots and other unmistakable symptoms of this horrible blood taint have been discovered. Traces of mercurial poisoning have also been found in the bones and joints, showing this mineral was used in the treatment of Blood Poison in those early times. In all uncivilized, as well as enlightened nations, this vile disease is found to-day in all its loathsomeness, entailing untold suffering not only upon the one who contracts it, but saddest of all is the humiliation and shame that is brought into the lives of the innocent by this degrading malady. So contagious is it that one can become inoculated by drinking from the same vessel, shaking hands with or handling the clothing of one infected with this disease. It is often transmitted from parents to children, and sores, scrofulous swellings, severe skin eruptions, sore eyes and catarrhal troubles are some of the effects.

The first outward sign of Contagious Blood Poison is a small sore or blister. As the poisonous virus done me in a case of Contagious Blood done me in a case of Contagious Blood spreads through the system the glands of the groins swell, a red eruption appears upon the body, and ulcers and sores break out in the mouth and throat, the hair and eye-brows drop out and the body is covered with copper-colored splotches and sores, and the poison even works its way into the bones and joints and attacks the nerves.

The big gridiron battle between the University of Utah and the Agricultural college teams is on this afternoon at Lo-gan. The result will be awaited with interest by local footballists.

Old man Fitz must have caught a lar-tar in Joe Grim, the Philadeuphia fighting Italian, who managed to stay the six-round limit with Ruby Robert. True, Grim was on the floor most of the time listening to the musical voice of the ref-eree counting 10, but for all that he was on his feet when the bout ended.

Clif-ford yesterday sent a challenge to Fred-cricks for a return match for a side bet of $600 and the entire gate receipts. Clifford is confident that he can get the decision over Fredericks if given another oppor-tunity. The only conditions he exacts are that beth men shall weigh in at 135 pounds at the ringside.

The various bowling alleys in the city are now open for business and some live-ly contests may be looked for. Games were played last evening at the Collender and Harmonie alleys. Within a few days teams will be organized to represent the different alleys, and the probabilities are that, in a short time, another city lengue will be formed. There is plenty of good material in the city for five or six rat-ting good teams, and if the same is stari-ed off right it will be mighty popular this winter. ed off r winter.

DRS. SHORES & SHORES,

In anticipation of a match with Fitz-simmons, Corbett is taking good care of himself, and in a couple of weeks he will begin a course of training that will put him in shape for a match with his erst-while rival. Corbett says that the battle will not take place for several months, but at the same time he intends to util-ize all the time in building up his system. He was in excellent shape when he met Jeffries, and he is sure that if he had met Fitzsimmons that same night instead of the champion he would have been re-turned the winner. turned the winner.
