The Telegraph Cempanies,

New York, 21.—Mr. Orton, in speaking of the pooling arrangement between the telegraph companies, said: The written contract agreed upon will not be given to the public, because it contains many details which do not concern the public. The Western Union and Atlantic and Pacific companies are now practically one cempany. They will still be run as two companies, each retaining its old officers and general organization, but all the profits resulting from their telegraphing will be "pooled." This arrangement will last for twenty years, and this is the whole arrangement, the private details excepted. Of course it follows that the rates will be advanced, but they will be advanced only so far as shall secure a fair profit to the companies. ; We have bought a majority of the Atlantic & Pacific stock, nearly 72,000 shares.

Mr. Orton did not say what price was paid, but believed that for nearly 72,000 shares at 25 there were paid about 22,000 shares of Western Union at 75. The Atlantic & Pacific company is therefore now fully under the control of the Western Union company. Great satisfaction is feit and expressed by the latter company. A prominent Western Union director believed that rates would be only slightly advanced. The company desire to act equitably and moderately.
