

CANDID CRITICISM.

What a Prominent Citizen Has to Say Regarding Streets.

J. E. Ogleby, general agent of the Chicago & Rock Island, is nothing if he is not a philosopher. His observations during hours when business is slack embrace every topic from politics to the hereafter and brachycephalic diplocephalic arthropods to baseball as it is played in Utah. This morning he turned to the forthcoming Elk's street fair.

"I see," said the railroad man as he gazed reflectively out of the plate glass windows that flank Second South street, "that the city is making great preparations to entertain the visitors who are coming to town. Did you ever see anything prettier than that?" he said as he pointed to the base of the telephone poles opposite the post office. "It is thoughtful of the city fathers to cultivate little lawns and banks of green foliage for the tired eyes of the visitors to rest upon without being run over. It is the same all the way down to the depot. But this is the first time that I ever saw weeds growing upon a paved street in a live town before. The visitors will be charmed, but they will have to be careful not to fall over those paving blocks that are laid in the center of the street for works past while they are taking in the horticultural beauties of the city."

Then Mr. Ogleby made a few more remarks regarding the attractions of Salt Lake. He said that he had been completely turned over in three trips," soliloquized the railroad man as he alighted for the cuspidor.

LAKE BREEZE EXTENSION.

Street Car Company Does Not Contemplate Building Line.

Superintendent Read of the consolidated street car lines this morning stated that the company had no idea of extending the line over Jordan to Lake Breeze in the immediate future or at any later period. This statement was the result of the publication in the "News" last night of an item to the effect that the Lake Breeze line was to be extended.

The gentleman who turned in the item is a prominent resident of the suburb named and he claimed to have been assured by Superintendent Read that the line was to be built at an early date.

This is emphatically denied by the official who this morning said: "I have received several letters to communications from the gentleman upon the matter and I have distinctly told him that we do not contemplate extending the line. This should be known by the general public so that none of them will be gulled into buying real estate in that section under the delusion that there will be a street car service inaugurated in the near future."

Assurance Given That All Halls New College Building Will Be Erected.

Father Rosier of All Hallows college has returned from his trip to France, which was made for the purpose of conferring with the Marist order regarding the $250,000 college building which is to go up on the east bench. The assurance was given Father Rosier by General Superior Martin, head of the order, that the plans which have been drawn by Architect Neuhausen are satisfactory in every way. The unsettled questions in France, however, make it impracticable to build at once, as there is a movement on foot there to seize all of the Marist property. Father Rosier was assured, just the same, that the college would be built within the next year or two at the farthest.

ENCAMPMENT ECHOES.

Concluding Exercises of an Interesting Gathering of Veterans.

Special Correspondence.

American Fork, Aug. 29.—The afternoon amusements of yesterday went off in good style and the ball in the pavilion was a grand affair. This morning at nine o'clock Major Ben W. Briggs of Pleasant Grove, Sandy, veterans in line, and put them through a drill. The marching and counter-marching were performed with tolerably good military precision, but when the major—armed with a buggy whip—ordered the "double quick" the older veterans showed a lack of the force of former years. Something near seventy of them were in line.

At the roll of the drum, the veterans with families and friends again assembled at the bower, where Comrade John H. Tanner presided as officer of the day, with Peter Oldroyd as chaplain, the latter about 79 years of age.

After the opening exercises, Hon. Abel John Evans of Lehi made the address of the morning session.

George Daybell of Charleston and Sarah Giles of Heber rendered a comic duet in good style.

Miss Strong, the daughter of Wm. Strong, the deceased and lamented peace officer of Provo City, then gave a recitation, which elicited the applause of the company.

Miss Gertrude Hanson again favored the audience with a song, followed with a speech by Comrade Alma Pratt.

A song by Alonzo Ray followed. T. B. Clark of Davis county, who responded to the roll call with a speech.

Miss Dacie Baker's recitation of "The Wife's Dream" was well given, followed by Miss Annie Nebeker, who read her essay on "Pioneer Life," which is worthy of publication in full.

The name of Samuel Gudmundson of Springfield was added to the resolutions of respect in memory of the comrades who had died since the last camp fire.

A communication from General R. T. Burton, in which he expressed his disappointment in not being able to attend the camp fire of the veterans, was read by Commander J. M. Westwood.

After an expression of thanks to the executive committee of the past year, the assembly was dismissed with prayer by Chaplain Peter Oldroyd.

Dinner disposed of, the tents were struck, equipments of the camp loaded into the wagons of the now well-to-do farmers, who wended their way homeward, the hampers for having met the comrades of their youth and the recreation of the few days of camp life.

WITH THE JUSTICES.

A suit to recover 25 cents has been filed in Justice Kroeger's court and it is likely to result in some very lively proceedings. The plaintiff is George W. Ebert, the wall paper man, and the defendant is C. J. Whitely, R. seeder. What Ebert papered some rooms for Whitely the bill amounting to $40, all of which was paid except 25¢. Recently a collector called on Whitely for the balance, and having but 2¢ with him, the time, Whitely asked the collector to receipt the bill in full and let the 25 cents go. The collector refused and Whitely declined to pay the balance. It is said he told Ebert to make a claim. The day following Ebert filed a suit asking for 25 cents. The costs have amounted to 11¢ up to date. Whitely has ten days to answer the suit and he has not decided just what course to pursue in the matter.

James Robinson, a colored man who was released from the isolation hospital a few days ago, and who gorged himself with farmers' chickens at the home of Parley Whitely, was taken before Justice Dana T. Smith yesterday afternoon on the charge of disturbing the peace. He was convicted and fined $10.

At Murray yesterday afternoon, before Justice McMillan, John Dayton, a farmer, was tried on the charge of assaulting a man named John Barratt. Both men work at the smelters, and some time ago engaged in a row and Dayton assaulted Barratt. It was a very trial and the defendant was convicted. He will be sentenced this afternoon.

AMUSEMENTS.

The recital given in the First Congregational church last evening by Mrs. Percy Somers-Cocks, assisted by Mrs. William Iglehart and Mr. Thomas Radcliffe, was very much of a triumph. It was manifest that a widespread interest in the musical and literary life of the city, for they continued to file through the entrance of the church until every seat was exhausted, and many were willing to remain standing, such was the excellence of the singing. Mrs. Cocks has not been neglecting her talents or hiding them under a bushel. By her industry and intelligence, leagued with a good voice to begin with, she has lifted herself to where she commands recognition. The program began with an organ solo, "Air du Dauphin" by Rodeck, followed by Mrs. Cocks, whose radiant appearance shined forth as brightly as her voice exhibited marked improvement. Her voice was heard here last, a year ago. One of the most admirable features of her singing is her marvellously clear enunciation. Her tones are sweet, mellow and clear, rendering her singing always pleasing to listen to. The pieces that she sang were well chosen.

The officers, teachers and members of the theological class of the Ninth ward are at Saltair today with the Tabernacle choir.

ELKS CARNAVAL NOTES.

The Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone Co. subscribed for a booth space today and will have public telephone stations within the carnival enclosure.

The executive committee has authorized the directors of the society to have been decided on during carnival week and without any change: Kangaroo court, established especially for Elks; German village, Indian village, comprising the streets of San Carlos, Streets of all Nations, Mexican the-displaying all of the charming qualities of her voice. They were: "A Barque at Midnight," "Love the Fairer," "Elizabeth's Prayer from 'Tannhauser,'" "Merry, Merry Lark," "Chanson Espagnole," "Good-Bye," and for an encore to the Chanson number, "Daddy and Joan." Her finale to "Good-Bye" was brilliant and dramatic, disclosing a power in her voice far surpassing what was looked for. Mrs. Iglehart furnished not a small share of the real enjoyment of the evening. Her readings were done with such sympathy with the quaint humor, and the pathos in her stories that she was listened to with delight. Her readings were: "Cupid Swallowed," by Leigh Hunt; "What My Love Said," by Paul Dunbar; "A Negro Love Song," Paul Dunbar; "Bey," by Rabbits; "His Neighbors," Joel Chandler Harris; and "An Apache Story," by Owen Wister.

At the meeting of the Salt Lake Amusement company yesterday afternoon, the following officers were elected for the coming year: M. E. Mulvey, president and manager, Frank D. Higginbotham, vice president, E. F. Carruthers, treasurer, J. Rogers, secretary.

The Empire Theatre company of New York, which renders Mrs. Dana's lectures, arrived from the coast this morning and are quartered at the various hotels. Mr. Richmond and Mr. Crompton, two old timers in Salt Lake, have done little else during the day, except to exchange greetings with old friends. The advance sale has been strong, theatergoers realizing that the opportunity to see a company like this occurs but once in a long time.

AT THE RESORTS.

The Tabernacle choir is at Saltair today with its friends.

The Oregon Short Line brought in 600 people from Lehi and American Fork this morning. The major portion of this excursion went out to attend the business men's outing at Lagoon.

The resort season is drawing to a close. While no definite dates have been fixed as yet, inquiry at the offices of Lagoon and Saltair this morning elicited the information that a right regal time would be the closing down for the season. After Labor day the winter train schedule will be put into effect on the Salt Lake & Ogden. Saltair will be probably closed about September 10.

An oration by Governor Heber M. Wells will be one of the features at Lagoon on Labor day.

It was commercial traveler's day at Saltair yesterday and it drew a crowd of close on 3,500 people. The knights of the grip were out in force and they managed to secure a right regal time to the strains of the orchestra and the accompaniment of the good cheer which was in evidence. There was no program, no set speeches and no boxing match. The latter event had been abandoned owing to the fact that the principals had jumped their contract. An effort was made to bring about a meeting between J. C. Gleason, the catch-as-catch-can exponent, and William McMillan, who was to have fought, but although great pressure was brought to bear, both respectfully declined. The major portion of the crowd went out early. On the 2:30 train were J. C. Gleason, senior counselor of the Salt Lake Lodge, United Commercial Travelers; William McMillan, junior counselor; Samuel Barlow, past senior counselor; J. Wash Young, conductor, and Harry Evans, page. These gentlemen wanted to see the results of the assembled multitude and saw that none were suffering from ennui. All sorts and conditions of men were present including the two well known travelers Bishop Leonard and Bishop Talbot, of the Presbyterian church, who are constantly enjoyed themselves as much as the bonafide drummers who were departing their classic frames in the waters of the Great Salt Lake. Just before the parade pulled out for the city, the city of Lehi, which is superintending the drawing of the prizes. A complete list of the lucky numbers is given below and the holders of the coupons may secure their prizes today by calling at the store of the United Commercial Travelers. The successful numbers are:

48,657, 7,212, 5,331, 4,974, 5,058, 5,441, 7,178, 5,105, 7,745, 5,081, 5,573, 5,117, 48,707, 61,750, 7,346, 7,136, 61,030, 5,431, 61,064, 6,554, 4,902, 5,106, 7,476, 7,773, 61,143, 6,556, 7,047, 5,835, 7,456, 5,086, 7,323, 61,143, 7,575, 7,506, 4,994, 61,117, 6,444, 48,726, 5,119, 4,835, 7,992, 5,165, 5,533, 7,369, 4,822, 5,158, 61,123, 6,525, 60,996, 4,428, 7,208, 7,774, 7,264, 60,985, 7,397, 9,694, 4,944, 48,732, 5,325, 4,932, 6,283, 4,963, 5,121, 5,231, 48,743, 4,843, 7,719, 6,845, 7,128, 5,198, 5,572, 5,516, 4,903, 7,195, 4,885, 7,124, 61,138, 61,080, 7,536, 7,073, 6,551, 18,574, 6,132, 5,469, 3,471, 5,571, 4,959, 5,477, 48,740, 7,385, 61,029, 5,295, 7,266, 4,970, 5,043, 61,133, 60,993, 35,656.

The Germans of Salt Lake City were the predominating feature at the Saltair last night. Early in the evening they flocked to that resort and from there they went to the streets, where they were in sight. When the curtain went up in the Bijou theater the auditorium was crowded with Teutons and their friends to an extent that the actors looked on a sea of faces. It was an enthusiastic crowd too, and one that cheered the various turns presented to the eye. The climax was reached when the Messrs. Schaefer, Schwartz, Raach and Motzkus, with "Harmonie" and the opera company united in chorus in the last number as the curtain at the back of the singers was drawn back revealing the Goddess of Liberty on a pedestal, the chorus girls grouped at her feet and the Star Spangled Banner and the flag of the German singing society waving in the foreground. In addition to the choruses there were several numbers rendered by the society of which the girls were enthusiastically received. The principals among the professionals also received their share of the generous applause. After the conclusion of the entertainment all concerned adjourned to the grounds where Manager Mulvey instituted a pyrotechnical display with dazzling effect. German night at the Saltair last evening was such an unqualified success that it is on the cards that other societies may institute similar outings.

The Norden Literary society has arranged a good program for its outing at Lagoon, owned to the society. As the will be the last Scandinavian outing of the season a large crowd is expected to be in attendance.
