

— Cairo, Ill., is to be amused with a religious discussion three weeks long.

— It is the "War Cloud" that certain papers now display in big type. The "Fire Flood" and "Financial Panic" have been put in their cases.

— The best family hams can be bought at St. Louis at 1 pound in order lots.

— It is said that notwithstanding his industry and the apparent popularity of his works, Ruskin has never made money by their publication.

— "George Eliot" toils tremendously on her manuscript, working, on an average, six hours a day, and rarely accomplishing in that time more than three or four hundred words.

— An exchange says that Adam was the first man who received a land grant. He was also the first man who was served with a writ of ejectment.

— Medical man (gingerily)—"I think—perhaps—you might—drop a line, and have your wife up." Patient—"O, doctor, you're always for such extreme measures."—Punch.

— The train from Lisbon to Madrid was recently stopped by brigands and the passengers plundered with a little chance of redress as if they had been riding in a Bowery car.—N. Y. World.

— The Boise Statesman says—"Mr. Yearyan, who owns a ranch about twelve miles below town, says he has killed this season on his property 1,500 rabbits, and if what are left would bring ten cents a hundred, he could supply at least five hundred dollars worth before winter sets in."

— A writer says, in reference to Mill's "Autobiography," that his opinion of his wife's surpassing abilities was simply an infatuation. "He was wont to pour things into her mind, which she gave back, and which he seemed to think were her own." Her action in leaving her husband is subjected to some criticism, and it is stated that Carlyle, Grote, Roebuck, and other friends of Mill, always took this view of the matter.

— A wonderful merchant has just died in Liverpool, England. His name was Mr. Edward Garston. In youth he was a great traveler, and became an accomplished linguist, so that he acted as interpreter at Queen Caroline's trial. He engaged in the Greek revolution and showed great bravery. Afterwards he kept the duellists of Naples in terror with his reputation. Returning to England he settled down as a merchant in Liverpool. He was in addition to his other professions, an author.

— The Sin of the Times.—A public officer thinks it no shame to complain in public documents of his salary, and ask for more. A President, if he don't ask more, takes it when it is offered, and lends, consciously or not, the influence of his acquiescence to increase the disposition to make office the means, not of exhibiting the self-sacrifice and the virtues a nation delights to honor, but of getting more money. Office has come to mean money, and little else. And this degradation of it, this prostitution of its opportunities, this contempt for its honor and adoration of its emoluments, is the sin of the times. It is not a party sin. It is national. It taints every State and community alike. The elections are a protest against its perpetuation.—Indiana-polis Journal.

CONFERENCES, BAPTISMS, &c.

LAIE, OAHU,
Hawaiian Islands,
November 6, 1873.

Hon. Geo. A. Smith,
Salt Lake City, Utah.

Dear Brother—My time has been mostly spent on the Laie Plantation.

The spiritual part of the labor on these islands is favorable, our numbers keep steadily on the increase, and I believe truly that the faith of the brethren and sisters is also on the increase.

The total number of members reported at our October conference just past was 4,467. I have attended three conferences since my arrival on these islands. The number reported baptized at each conference was as follows:

October, 1872	-	586
April 1873	-	567
October, 1873	-	563

making a total increase of 1,716 in eighteen months. There have been as high as 161 children blessed in six months.

At our conference just past we preached the Word of Wisdom and the law of Tithing. Many of our brethren and sisters have agreed to relinquish their tobacco, awa, beer, etc. I am satisfied that the most of them have kept their vows thus far. The law of tithing never has been taught practically among this people before. Many of the old members were waiting with anxious hearts for it to be introduced. Some of them paid in money that they had been saving up for their tithing for a long time. Bro. Leula paid in $10 which he had been saving in this way. This is a big amount for a native to pay.

JOHN A. WEST.
