District School Trustees. — We have received from County Supt. W. M. Stewart, a circhiar addressed to District School Trustees of Salt Lake County, from which we take the following.

District School Trustees of Salt Lake County, from which we take the following:

"As the time is nearing when it will be necessary for the Trustees to make out their reports to the County Superintendent, and prepare their accounts for auditing, I am anxious, before this work is done, to offer some suggestions regarding these matters. For this and other purposes a meeting of all the Trustees of our County will be held in the Fonrteenth District School Rooms, Salt Lake City, Friday, July 2nd, at 8 p. m., at which time the Trustees are desired to bring with them their Financial Records and Records of Official Business.

"It is extremely important that EVERY District be represented. At least one Trustee of each District should be present. At this meeting blanks for making out the Trustees' Reports will be distributed. The reports, if accepted by the County Superintendent, must be strictly correct."

UNTIMELY VISITORS.

A LADY BADLY SCARED AY U. S. OFFICERS.

Last evening Mr. M. S. Woolley, who lives in the Twenty-first Ward, retired early, as he felt rather tired. It is wife, however remained up to do some sewing for some persons who intended accompanying the old folks to American Fork to day. About eleven o'clock she heard somebody trying the doors and windows of the house next door, where Mrs. Dunford has been living. She aroused her husband and informed him, but he knowing that Mrs. Dunford was not home and that the house was well fastened, told her not to ford was not home and that the house was well fastened, told her not to mind the noise and went to sleep again. A little while after Mrs. Woolley again awoke her husband and told him that she had seen forms passing to and fro in their yard and around the windows and coal sleed. He paid little attention, thinking that it was only imagination, but about twenty minutes after he was startled by hearing a loud scream. He sprang up and hearing more screaming in the room where his wife was, rushed in. The window and window-blind were up, and a man was looking in. Mr. Woolley demanded, "Who are you?" "Dyer," was the reply.

"Marshal Dyer?"
"Yes."
In answer to Mr. Woolley's questions Marshal Dyer street the had

'Yes.''
In answer to Mr. Woolley's questions, Marshal Dyer stated that he bad been looking for Mrs. Dunford, but as the honse was all fastened, he did not wish to break in unless there was someoue there. Mr. Woolley informed bim the house was empty, Mrs. Dunford having goue away. She had not gone to avoid any process, but on a short pleasure trip. With this information the Marshal departed. During all this time, however, and for two or three hours afterward, Mrs. Woolley was in a terrible state of fright. It was subsequently learned from her that as she sat sewing, aftercalling her husband, she was thrown into a high state of fear through hearing persons passing to and tro thrown into a high state of fear through hearing persons passing to and fro by her window and peering at her, while she was too frightened to look up. After undergoing this process for about half an hour, she was suddenly glarned by hearing a strange voice—Marshal Dyer's—say, at the window, "Madam, may I talk with you?" She sprang up, screaming, and then followed what is above related. The lady is still distressed from the effects of excitement. That "Untimely Visit."—The object of the visit of Marshal Dyer and several deputies to Mrs. Dunford's, in the Twenty-first Ward on Monday evening, was the arrest of George Dunford, who, it was alleged, had returned home. Mr. Dunford's house in the 17th Ward was also called at but the gentleman was not there. When the inarshals found the house in the Twenty-first Ward locked and apparently unoccupied, their object in calling upon Mrs. Woolley was sumply to learn whether any one was in Mrs. Dunford's.

A Mare's Nest.—The credit belongs to the Democrat for nnearthing a fear-fully crooked transaction on the part of the city. Here is what is said about it.

Inny crooked transaction on the part of the city. Here is what is said about it:

"We learn from a source that may be coasidered reliable, that some very indiscreet business is being done by our City Fathers in connection with the new waterworks building. Instead of letting the work out by contract(and there are several of our architects who would like to bid on the work), it is given to a certain firm in which several of the Councilors are interested, and they are allowed to charge what they choose. Recently a bill was sent in for placing the new roof on the building, and though it amounted to $17,000 or more, it was paid without question. Several architects have since looked at the work; and on a rough estimate they think they could have built it for $8,000 on the outside. It is a public work and it should be done by public contract."

The amount paid by the city for the prof referred to was exactly $1,740.02.

The amount paid by the city for the roof referred to was exactly $1,740.02, just $6,259.98 less than several architects "on the outside" proposed to do the job for. Our little evening cotemporary is worried because the city didn't conclude to pay something handsome for that roof.

The Deputies Visit West Jordan.

A LEARNED EXPLORER VISITS SALT LAKE.

SOMETHING IN RELATION TO ALASKA.

This morning we had the pleasure of meeting Dr. W. E. Everette, a gentleman connected with the Smithsonian Institute. He is on his way to San Francisco, and expects to leave that portin the fall, or at the latest next spring, for Alaska. He has already accomplished one entific exploration in that region, from which he returned last fall, and upon which he entered in in the spring of 1881. He made a complete reconoissance uf the Yukon River and explored the interior of Alaska, which he describes as absolutely without material facilities, principally on account of the continuously frozen condution of the ground. He made a collection of all the flora and fanna, the specimens accommitated amounting to 2,000 pounds in weight. He spent the winter of 1884-5 at Behring Straits, among the Esquimaux, and collected specimens of all utensils, clothing, etc., used by that people. The Doctor surveyed the entire line of reconoissance, a distance of 2.700 miles. For the last ten years he has made the languages spoken by North American Indian tribes a specialty and has more or less familiarity with a complete chain of them from the Pacific to the Arctic, and found much dissimmilarity among the. In one instance, however, he found that there was a remarkable sameness between the language of two particular tribes—one in the Interior of Alaska, and the Comanche tribs of this country. Dr. Everette made 40 charts (in crayon and colored inks) of the Alaska luterior, a series of which is in the hands of the Committee on Tarritories of the House of Representations.

Golden Wedding.—Yesterday, June 30, 1836, was the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Tanner, 5ca., of South Cottonwood. About 100 guests assembled at the residence of their son-in-law, Hon. Franklin S. Richards, yesterday afternoon, to celebrate the event and offer their congratulations to the honored couple, and all present enjoyed a most delightful time. The history of Brother and Sister Tanner has been connected with that of the Church from their early youth, they having rendered obedience to the Gospel in 1831. On the 30th of June, 1836, they were united as husband and wife, and traveled with the Church from Kirtland to Far West, to Nauvoo, and to Utah. They bore a part in the thrilling experiences of that period, and with their honored and respected family, have enjoyed the blessings of peace and prosperity during their residence in these mountain vales. vales.
